These goals would be implemented by using a coordinated entry where Veteran's are assessed for the best housing program options for their needs and then the organizations would work together as a pipeline for emergency assistance needed, transitional housing with case management to address barriers, and then permanent supportive options for Veteran's who have extreme barriers to maintaining independent housing after case management assistance.

Q32: Are there any comments/notes that you would like to share (about the survey, your community, etc.)?

There are high barriers in our area with getting CoC engagement and community partner buy-in to the cause of ending veteran homelessness. The educational webinar this week stated that Washington D.C. had the same issue with implementing their community plan and just started with a few programs, so we are hopeful in starting that way, as well. However, the by-name list our community used last year was provided from a survey completed in January 2015. The information provided was only client families' initials, so there was a lot of back-tracking to understand to who was referred in the list. In addition to that list, the organizations previously mentioned (SSVF, HUD/VASH, VJO, and HCHV) meet bi-weekly to discuss ongoing and new Veteran referrals. There is much work needed to improve the system and the list, which our organizations are hopeful about in 2016. SSVF in our area is also very excited about the regional conference theme this year being Community Planning.
