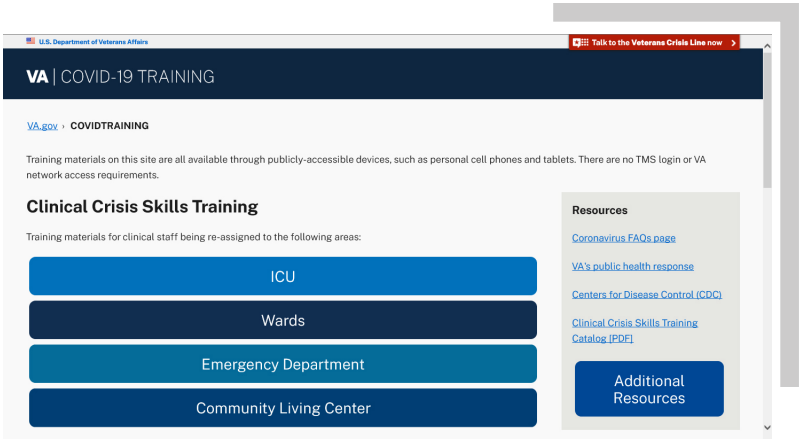
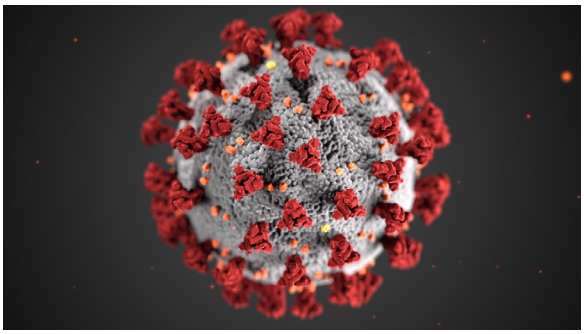
VA

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
Veterans Health Administration
Employee Education System

VA COVID-19 External Training Site





The COVID-19 Training website is a public-facing website that provides free COVID-related training and resources, offered through VA and other authoritative external sources, without the need for staff to log in to the VA network or a specific user account as it sits outside the VA firewall and TMS.

This critical tool allows busy front-line VHA medical staff quick access to clinical information from anywhere. With a computer, tablet or phone, users can reach this site from anywhere in the world! This site provides clinical crisis skills training in critical topic areas that include intensive care units, wards, emergency departments and community living centers. There are over 190 courses and resources available on the site, with new topic areas of content and training added as identified and approved by teams of national and frontline clinical staff. This offers the best resources to VA and the community. The site is updated often as new education and resources become available.

The site also hosts additional resources, including:

- A comprehensive PDF catalog of all available external education and resources
- Frequently asked questions
- Clinical strong practices
- Standard operating procedures (SOPs)
- Information from other Federal agencies
- And more

Access the site now at www.va.gov/covidtraining.

VA

EES produced this data sheet in electronic form only. Please print only as needed and recycle when finished. Current as of 05/20.