Veterans who are homeless or at imminent risk of homelessness are strongly encouraged to contact the National Call Center for Homeless Veterans at (877) 4AID-VET (877-424-3838) for assistance.

Message From Monica Diaz, Executive Director, VHA Homeless Programs Office

I will admit that I have written many drafts of this month's message. No words seem adequate to capture the heaviness weighing on my heart.

As a mother, I cannot stop thinking about the children in Uvalde, whose futures and chances to fulfill their dreams were stolen.

As a community member, I cannot stop thinking about those who entered a Buffalo supermarket with shopping lists but instead were listed as targets—because of the color of their skin.

As a healthcare professional, I cannot stop thinking about the Tulsa team who dedicated their careers to saving lives—only to have their own taken far too soon.

As a military spouse, I cannot stop thinking about the five United States Marines from California whose families will not be greeted with another hug from their hero, but instead a folded American flag.

We cannot make sense of these senseless losses, and we cannot accept that violence is an inevitable part of the American experience. But here is what we can do.

How VA's Grant and Per Diem \(GPD\) Program Reduces Long-Term Homelessness Among Veterans

The GPD Program funds community agencies providing transitional housing and other services to Veterans experiencing or at imminent risk of homelessness. VA trusts that both grantees and Veterans participating in GPD are the experts on their own needs; GPD case managers help Veterans choose the path that best aligns with their goals. The synergistic relationship between GPD and Veterans has helped hundreds of thousands of Veterans exit homelessness since GPD's 1994 pilot program. Learn about the 3 foundational strategies GPD has used over the past 2 decades to connect Veterans with housing.

Racial Equity in VA Services

In every state, Black Americans are more likely than white Americans to experience homelessness, and minority groups make up a disproportionate share of the overall homeless population. VA recognizes the pressing need to look at homeless services from a racial equity lens in its programming. Learn how VA is taking steps to prioritize this through the Racial Equity and Racial Justice Workgroup.

VA publishes Interim Final Rule for Legal Services for Veterans Grant Program

As part of VA's national homeless prevention efforts, they have published an Interim Final Rule, which allows VA to enhance the provision of legal services for Veterans experiencing or at risk for homelessness. Through the Legal Services for Homeless Veterans and Veterans At-Risk for Homelessness Grant Program, VA will offer up to 75 grants each year to eligible entities, with at least 10% of funding being utilized for women Veterans. Read Mr. Campbell's story of getting access to medical care and stable housing through VA, and eventually using a VA Home Loan to make his dream of owning a home come true.

USICH Releases Principles for Addressing Encampments

HPO Staff Spotlight: Parvin Thomas

Parvin Thomas is grateful for her role as HUD-VASH Supervisor in Tampa, FL, as she enjoys seeing the positive impact that housing provides homeless families. Serving on a team that supports Veterans facing homelessness, Thomas also gets a unique view into the variety of issues these Veterans face, and the different types of support they require.

“I think on the surface, the system is designed to be equal, not equitable,” Thomas shares. “Most homeless policies seem as though they were written assuming everyone is starting at the same point, but that is often not the case.”

Read the full spotlight on Thomas to learn how racial inequalities contribute to homelessness, and the actions we must take to achieve equitable care for our Veterans.
