To continue serving Veterans during the COVID-19 pandemic, Veterans Treatment Courts (VTCs) across the country have moved to services online.

To continue serving Veterans during the COVID-19 pandemic, Veterans Treatment Courts (VTCs) across the country have moved to services online. VTCs offer a second chance for Veterans involved with the criminal justice system by providing access to mental health care, employment assistance, substance abuse treatment, and other services. As of December 2020, 774 Veterans Treatment Courts across the country had moved to services online.

As of December 2020, 774 Veterans Treatment Courts across the country had moved to services online.

VA’s Homeless Programs Office supports VTCs through the participation of its Veterans Justice Outreach (VJO) Specialists. VJO Specialists have expertise in veterans law and public health and work alongside treatment teams to ensure that participants in VTCs are linked to additional VA services.

VA’s Homeless Programs Office supports VTCs through the participation of its Veterans Justice Outreach (VJO) Specialists. VJO Specialists have expertise in veterans law and public health and work alongside treatment teams to ensure that participants in VTCs are linked to additional VA services.

Visit the Justice for Vets website to learn more about Veterans Treatment Courts.

Justice for Vets: www.va.gov/justiceforvets

Justice for Vets: www.va.gov/justiceforvets

More information

2020 Census needed to count a population experiencing homelessness in September

The U.S. Census Bureau follows a comprehensive plan to count people who have been facing housing hardships.

On June 30, the subject congressional appropriations package included the schedule for counting people experiencing homelessness during the 2020 Decennial Census.

The three steps below follow word-of-mouth and collaboration with local sociologists, officials, and organizations:

• Counting people in shelters and on the streets.
• Counting people in non-sheltered, outdoor locations, such as tent encampments and on the streets.
• Counting people at soup kitchens and mobile food vans.

The results of the 2020 Census will be critical to funding decisions that help reduce housing instability among Veterans and other Americans.

Read the full story on these three experiences homelessness, visit veterans.va.gov/2020-census.

Communicate with us

We value your feedback about the website, our services, and our homelessness programs. Please share your comments by clicking the blue “Contact Homeless Programs” button on the VHA Homeless Programs website.