

NEJM Resident 360: How to Sign Up

Anyone may create an account at NEJM Resident 360. To access Rotation Prep content on the site, it is a two-step process. First, you create an account, and then you must “unlock the content” using an individual or institutional subscription to NEJM Knowledge+, the New England Journal of Medicine (NEJM), or NEJM Journal Watch.

1. Go to <https://resident360.nejm.org> and select “Create Account” in the upper right. You may opt to use social sign-in (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Google) or create an account by email. You will be asked to select or upload a profile picture. (Please note that this is a requirement because NEJM Resident 360 is a social platform, and we want to maintain a high-level of professional integrity in the discussion area. While we encourage you to upload a photo of yourself, you may upload a photo of a dog, a flower, etc.) Once you have supplied the required information for your profile, you must confirm your registration by email to complete the process. If you don’t see the confirmation in your inbox, check your spam or junk folder. You will be prompted to complete your profile on the site and will be unable to access Rotation Prep until you have confirmed.
2. Click on Rotation Prep, and you will be prompted to “unlock the content.” If you are completing this process at your institution within an IP range associated with your institution’s subscription, you should see a message at the top that says “You now have access to Rotation Prep courtesy of... [your institution].” If you wish to connect with an individual subscription, you will be prompted to enter the email and password associated with that subscription. If you haven’t activated that subscription online, you must do that before attempting to unlock. Once unlocked, you may login and access Rotation Prep from anywhere and any device. The association with the institutional subscription will be remembered for one year, at which point you will be prompted to unlock again.

If you have any trouble, you may contact resident360support@nejm.org or 1-888-851-9511 (within the USA and Canada) or 781-434-7969.
