

Minneapolis VA Research Service Code of Conduct for Participants and Staff

Welcome! We aim to create a professional and comfortable environment for all research participants according to the following guidelines:

- You will be treated by all research staff with respect, dignity, and compassion.
- You will not be discriminated against for any reason including age, race, ethnicity, religion, culture, language, physical or mental disability, socioeconomic status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression.

We also expect you to treat all members of our staff according to these guidelines.

Thank you for participating in VA Research and for helping us maintain an environment of mutual respect and professionalism.
