GUIDE DOGS AND SERVICE DOGS ON VETERANS HEALTH ADMINISTRATION (VHA) PROPERTY

1. PURPOSE: This Veterans Health Administration (VHA) Directive establishes policy regarding Veterans and members of the public who enter VHA facilities and properties accompanied by guide dogs (also known as seeing-eye dogs) and other service dogs. NOTE: This Directive only addresses guide dogs and other service dogs accessing VHA facilities and properties when acting in their capacity as a service animal performing guide and service duties for a disabled individual.

2. BACKGROUND

   a. Trained guide dogs and other trained service dogs can have a significant role in maintaining functionality and promoting maximal independence of individuals with disabilities. Individuals with disabilities are authorized to enter VHA facilities and property accompanied by their trained guide dog or trained service dog consistent with the same terms and conditions, and subject to the same regulations that govern the admission of the general public to the property.

   b. Therapy animals, companion animals, emotional support animals, and pets are not considered service animals, and their access to VHA facilities and properties are not covered by this Directive.

   c. Definitions

      (1) Disability. A disability is a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities of the individual; a record of such an impairment; or being regarded as having such an impairment.

      (2) Guide Dog. A guide dog (also known as seeing-eye dogs) is a type of service animal that recognizes and avoids any obstacle that would harm the handler, keeps the handler on a straight route, and is able to selectively disobey commands that would lead to the handler’s harm (e.g., crossing the street in the path of an on-coming car).

      (3) Service Dog. A service dog is one that is specially trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability who cannot perform the work or task independent of the dog. The work or tasks performed by the service animal must be directly related to the individual’s disability, and the service provided by the dog must compensate or offset the disability that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities of the individual. NOTE: This does not include service dogs in training.

3. POLICY: It is VHA policy to permit guide dogs (seeing eye dogs) and other service dogs to accompany individuals with a disability to all areas of a VHA facility and property on the same
