My HealthVet Statistics (as of November 2013)

www.myhealth.va.gov

Types of Accounts:

- Basic
- Advanced
- Premium

The My HealthVet Member Login Box now contains an icon: B, A, or P

- More than 107 million visits
- Over 2.5 million registered users
- More than 1.3 million users have a Premium (authenticated) account
- Over 47.3 million VA prescription refills since August 2005
- More than 918,000 unique VA Blue Button users since August 2010
- More than 5.2 million VA Blue Button file downloads
- More than 843,000 VA patients opted-in to use Secure Messaging

My HealthVet: Secure Messaging

- eHealth Clinical Service for non-urgent communication with patient's VA health care team
- Veterans can request appointments, prescription renewals, ask health and/or administrative questions, etc.

The image shows a computer monitor displaying the My HealthVet website. The top navigation bar includes links for Home, Personal Information, Privacy, Research Health, Get Care, Track Health, My Government, and Secure Messaging. A 'Please Note' section explains that users enrolled in a VA facility and who have completed the In-Person Authentication process may experience a delay with synchronization completion. Below this, there are sections for 'In the Spotlight' with articles like 'Eat Wisely' and 'Be Physically Active', and 'MOVE! Weight Management Counseling'. The main content area is titled 'Secure Messaging' and shows a 'New Message' form. The form includes fields for 'From' (MHVSMFIVE, E), 'To' (General), and 'Subject'. A dropdown menu is set to 'General'. A warning box states: 'This message is for non-urgent, non-critical communication! Please direct any urgent or critical concerns to your provider's office via telephone or in-person.' The interface also shows a 'Member Logout' section and a 'Quick Links' section with various services like VA National Suicide Prevention Hotline and VA Medical Health Services.

VA Blue Button

The VA Blue Button enables users to view, print and download an electronic file (.txt, .PDF, or .bluebutton) that contains their available personal health information from My HealtheVet

- For VA patients with a Premium account, this data includes information self-entered into their My HealtheVet Personal Health Record and data from the VA Electronic Health Record
- Veterans can easily customize their VA Blue Button output by selecting the date range and/or types of information they wish to include

Patient centered care empowers patients to participate in their health and health care. With more complete access to their health information, patients can become active partners in their care.

Reduce Your Risks: Six Ways to Avoid Obesity

A notable percentage of American adults – and Veterans in particular – are obese. Obesity can put you at risk for a host of health problems that can compromise your quality of life. Committing to a healthy lifestyle for life can help you avoid obesity – for life.

Avoiding obesity is important to your health and overall quality of life. Certain health conditions that can shorten your life are related to obesity, such as type 2 diabetes, heart disease, stroke and certain kinds of cancer, according to the CDC. Obesity also can affect your confidence, sleep, energy levels and everyday activities. Read More »

TXT Messages Help Vets Quit with SmokefreeVET

Quitting smoking is one of the hardest goals to accomplish. Studies show a good support system is one of the keys to success. But not everyone is the same: different resources work for different people. VA's new SmokefreeVET offers smoking cessation support right to your mobile phone just when you need it. Read More »

Grandpa Had Diabetes? Why Your Health History Matters

You knew grandpa was a Veteran and lived overseas. What you didn't know is that he had diabetes. This bit of family health information can help improve your own health. Knowing that your family history could put you at-risk for certain illnesses can help you take the proper steps to prevent or delay their onset. Read More »

Some information that comes from your VA health record may not be presented right away in My HealthVet or your VA Blue Button. This is because your information may first need to be reviewed by a member of your VA health care team. Also, if needed, this gives your provider time to discuss your results with you before you view them in My HealthVet.

The table below gives you the expected length of time until your VA information is available for display in the Blue Button. In some situations, it may take longer to view your information.

If you have any questions about your information please visit the FAQs. You may also contact your VA health care team with your questions.

VA Admissions and Discharges	Discharge Summaries are available 3 calendar days after they are completed.
VA Laboratory Results	VA Laboratory Results are available 3 calendar days after they have been verified. Depending on the type tests, some of your laboratory results may not be available right away.
VA Notes	VA Notes written from January 1, 2013 forward are available 3 calendar days after they have been completed and signed by all required members of your VA health care team.
VA Pathology Reports	VA Pathology Reports are available 14 calendar days after they have been completed. Some studies done at a non-VA facility may not be available or they may not necessarily include an interpretation.
VA Problem List	Your VA Problem List contains active health problems your VA providers are helping you to manage. This information is available 3 calendar days after it has been entered. It may not contain active problems managed by non-VA health care providers.
VA Radiology Reports	VA Radiology Reports are available 3 calendar days after they have been completed. Some studies done at a non-VA facility may not be available or they may not necessarily include an interpretation.
