Employee Whole Health Educational Tools

The VA is undergoing a cultural transformation that focuses on each Veteran as a Whole person and employees hold the center of this transformation. Employee Whole Health provides tools and training that connect employees to the personal benefits of Whole Health and also help develop a deeper connection with the health and well-being of Veterans.

Quick-start Tools

The Human Condition: VA employees, like Veterans, derive the same Whole Health benefits through the educational resources initially designed for Veterans. When used by VA Employees, these materials hold the same transformative power to increase resilience, enhance clinical skills and improve health and well-being.

Veteran Programs to Adapt for Employees

These courses were created for Veterans, but may be equally applicable to VA staff in furthering their own WH. Taking Charge of My Life and Health: This core program explores what matters most, each area of self-care, and asks participants to consider areas in their lives they wish to enhance and to create and attain goals.

Whole Health Skill Building – One-hour classes for each area of the Circle of Health that combine knowledge with practical experience, tools, and local resources.
