Tribute to Dr. Lorna M. Breen

Emergency Medicine Medical Director at NewYork-Presbyterian (Manhattan) died from self-inflicted injuries on April 26, 2020.

Dr. Breen is a hero who brought the highest ideals of medicine to the challenging front lines of the emergency department.

A colleague said that Dr. Breen was always looking out for others, making sure her doctors had protective equipment or whatever else they needed. Even when she was home recovering from Covid-19, she texted her co-workers to check in and see how they were doing.
