

Omaha PGY1 Residency:

The Omaha VA Hospital PGY-1 Pharmacy Residency Program is an ASHP accredited program that originated in 2009. The program is designed to develop clinical pharmacists who are confident in the provision of medication-related care to veterans with a wide range of conditions. The practice site is unique because it offers strong experiences in both ambulatory care and inpatient services and has affiliations with two academic centers, Creighton University Medical Center and University of Nebraska Medical Center. Clinical pharmacists with a scope of practice provide direct patient centered care in variety of areas including acute care, primary care, critical care, geriatrics, cardiology, anticoagulation, mental health, surgery, oncology, infectious disease, and pain management. The residency is flexible and provides the resident with a wide range of experiences to fit his or her individual interests.
