Veteran homelessness has ended when there is housing available for all unsheltered veterans. The most recent effort the CoC made to meet that goal was to create new permanent supportive housing in Harrisonburg that targets veterans. Also, the CoC has a client prioritization policy that agencies can refer to when funds are low and all clients' needs cannot be met. In those situations, veterans are prioritized higher than other populations.

Over the last few months, our data indicates that we have reached three out of the four criteria for Functional Zero, with reducing the number of chronically homeless veterans to zero being most challenging. This may have fluctuated some; information to confirm this is still correct based on our latest update to the list (from our meeting) will be available at a later date.
