

NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

OF THE

National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for the year 1873.

JUNE 23, 1874.—Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed.

To the honorable Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled :

In compliance with the eighth section of the act approved March 24, 1866, establishing a "National Asylum for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers," by subsequent act of Congress changed to the "National Home," the board of managers beg leave to make the following report, which, with the accompanying documents, will show the condition of the institution for the year 1873.

The board of managers congratulate themselves and Congress upon the efficient working of the institution under their charge. They have had now established and in action for some years four branches of the National Home, as has been heretofore reported—one at Dayton, Ohio, known as the Central Branch, one at Milwaukee, Wis., known as the Northwestern Branch, one near Augusta, Me., known as the Eastern Branch, and one near Hampton, Va., known as the Southern Branch. The design of the board in locating these several branches was, that the soldiers of the late war in the immediate vicinity of the Home shall be sent to that Home, thereby leaving them in close proximity to their friends and relatives, and also saving the cost of transportation. This, however, is not imperative. Frequently different diseases require different treatment and climatic influences, and the board of managers, therefore, allow transfer without regard to locality whenever required by well-behaved beneficiaries of the Home, especially if they can make a transfer from their own means, without cost to the Home, from one branch of the Home to another; and in case of apparent necessity, at the cost of the Home. This is frequently asked, from the Central Home to the Northwestern and Eastern, by those suffering under congestive fevers; and from the Eastern and Northwestern, by those troubled with pulmonary affections, to the Central and the Southern branches. While in some cases, as the statistics show, the board may believe that the change will not have the benefit which the soldier supposes, yet, knowing the effect of the imagination upon disease, the board have deemed it best, for an economical management of the institution, to permit such changes of soldiers who, being disabled by wounds or suffering by disease, have a well-grounded belief that they can be benefited by a change from one Home to another.

The board of managers have so often given to Congress the location and the substantial differences and advantages of one branch of the Home, as compared with the others, and the history of their adaptability to the various State locations in which they are placed, that it would seem unnecessary to take the time of Congress in a reiteration of our former explanations, especially as no substantial changes have been made during the year.

The branch at Hampton was largely established for the benefit of colored soldiers; but, owing to the ameliorated climate and healthful effects of the sea-air of Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, the board have found a large number of soldiers not colored asking for admission to the Hampton Home, and as yet the board have not been informed of the slightest jar or misunderstanding between the two races. They have messed together and mingled together as fellow-soldiers without an apparent thought of the distinctions of race or color. Indeed, having three branches to themselves, if the white soldiers chose to occupy them, they may be looked upon rather as intruders at Hampton.

The Eastern Branch, near Augusta, is progressing as a decided success so far as the discipline, health, comfort, and culture of its inmates are concerned. In order to afford employment for a portion of the soldiers at this Home, the board of managers have established a shoe-shop for the making of shoes, wherein about one-fourth of the beneficiaries, more or less, were steadily employed. As a financial measure this shoe business, as thus established, has not been a success; but in the pleasure, not to say profit, which it affords to the several inmates employed therein, in its effects upon the morals and discipline of the institution, it has, in the judgment of the board of managers, largely compensated for the outlay which was rendered imperative because of the great falling off of profits of the shoe business and the price of shoes of the character that are made at the Eastern Branch. The board take leave to report the farming-lands belonging to this branch as having been brought to a high state of productiveness.

The Northwestern Branch, under the command of General E. W. Hinks, is getting a popularity with the disabled soldiers hitherto unknown. It has been crowded to its capacity during the past winter, although the board of managers have an authoritative hope that a considerable portion of the beneficiaries will find employment during the summer.

The situation of the Home buildings attached to this branch is the finest in the country. The park is excelled by no one except it may be Central Park, New York. The farm is one of the best in the country, and is, the board believe, a source of profit to the institution. There are quite a number of minor manufactures carried at this Home which, while they have not proved themselves largely successes in the way of earning money for the support of the institution, yet thus far have shown no considerable loss, but, on the contrary, a gain.

The board come now to speak of the Central Branch, at Dayton; and although the name was given from its position rather than the number of its beneficiaries, yet it now well deserves the title, because of the large number of invalid soldiers who have repaired there to be kept in health and comfort during the short time they may remain with us. At the Central Branch there are a large number of minor manufactures, such as cigars, harness, cabinet-ware, and other articles needed for the Home, manufactured and for sale; and these manufactures have been found to be a source of profit to the institution as well as healthy exercise both to the minds and bodies. This Home contains quite one-half of our inmates; it is crowded to its utmost capacity, and the board of managers are called upon each year to enlarge its buildings, so that those who desire may become beneficiaries thereof. Its grounds are very extensive, and they are so far beautified and stocked with domesticated birds, deer, and other animals that the place is rendered as attractive as a park.

The board of managers beg leave again to reiterate that which has been the burden of their reports, that the curse of the institution, as well as of the Army when the soldier and the officer were in the field, is the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors. The board would have substantially no difficulty whatever in governing the Home—nay, a quarter to a half of the expense would be avoided, if it were not for the bane of intoxicating liquors.

Quite a number of complaints have been made of the action of the local officers in regard to discharging men from the benefits of the institution. When any one of these complaints has ever been brought to the attention of the president of the board investigation has always been had, and it has been found that they have originated either in some fancied wrong done, or were the outcome of some distempered inmate's brain, and generally the direct result of infractions of discipline and of the rules of the institution, either because of having drunk liquor to excess, or from a desire to obtain liquor and bring it in for the use of their comrades.

At the first blush the statement that a quarter to a half of the cost of the institution might be saved, were it not for the bane of intemperance, would seem exaggerated. But there are many soldiers who are, in truth and in fact, within the very meaning of the law, totally disabled from earning their own living, who would not be so were it not for the use of intoxicating liquors. Men have come to the institution, staid there for months, been able quite to earn their own living, and clearly to do so with the aid of their pensions, but who, when suffered to go abroad into the world, instantly entered the insane thirst for drink, and perhaps in the course of a few days are found naked, sick, and diseased in some pauper establishment, to be brought back only to be again cared for. The board of managers have been inclined to look upon intemperance as a disease of the soldier, contracted in the service in many cases, and so treat it, bearing with men who have it as long as possible, pardoning the infraction of the rules resulting because of it, giving light punishment when the infraction was not too outrageous, and doing everything rather than to discharge the soldier from the Home and allowing him to go abroad simply to be robbed or to rob himself of even his clothing in order to quench his burning desire for strong drink.

It is a problem of the greatest possible difficulty of solution, which has caused the board much anxiety and attention, and we know of no way of treating it other than that which we have followed.

The board take leave to call the attention of Congress to the fact that now, nine years after the war has closed, it would seem that the number of men requiring aid from such an institution as ours would have begun to diminish. But, contrary to that, we find the applications have been continually upon the increase, and increased accommodations are demanded of us almost as fast as they can be erected. Nor is there a prospect that this demand upon our resources will for the present cease. Old wounds will break out afresh; families will be broken up; the father can no longer support the son; the son can no longer support the father, disabled in the war; the wife has died, and the husband is lonely and helpless; the mother has gone, and the son has no one to care for him—all which bring increasing numbers of deserving applicants to the doors of our institution, asking for our aid.

Thus far the fines, stoppages, and forfeitures which were dedicated by Congress to carry on this institution have proved sufficient. But that source of revenue, coming from a volunteer force disbanded nine years ago, will soon cease, and then the institution will have to apply to Congress for direct appropriations to sustain it. Therefore we respectfully ask the attention of members of Congress to these institutions in their respective localities, that they may be able to bear testimony as to their worthiness and their efficiency in doing the work for which they are intended, or to criticise wherein they have failed of the proper results. The board most cordially welcome the investigations of the members of Congress into this most noble charity and into its administration, ready to believe that in many things it could have been better done, but certainly that it has been honestly and faithfully administered according to our best judgment and knowledge.

The board append hereto copies of the journal of the several quarterly meetings during the year, and also an abstract of the accounts of the acting treasurer showing the cost of carrying on the institution.

All which is respectfully submitted.

BENJ. F. BUTLER,
President of the Board.

REPORTS.

Reports from the several governors, with accompanying papers, including returns, vouchers, estimates, &c., were received, and ordered on file.

Governor Smyth, from select committee appointed to visit Central Asylum and audit accounts of the treasurer, reported that said committee had performed said duty, and examined the accounts of Major J. B. Thomas, treasurer, from November 30, 1870, to November 30, 1871, and found the same correct, and supported by sufficient vouchers.

On motion, the report was approved.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

General Martindale offered the following, which, after some discussion, was adopted :

Resolved, That the practice of granting furloughs at the several asylums should be restricted to those inmates whose conduct has been good for the period of nine months previous to the furlough ; especially they should be refused to inmates addicted to intemperance, or who are under discipline for misconduct, or are doing service or labor as the condition of re-admission. If exceptional cases of the later classes arise, the applications shall not be granted without the approval of a manager.

Mr. Gunckel offered the following, which was adopted :

Resolved, That in all cases where soldiers come to the asylum, or are returned to it, for re-admission, on transportation given them by a manager, the same shall be charged to them, and paid for first out of their pensions, if they have any, and, if not, then by such labor or service as they can perform.

Governor Smyth offered the following resolution, which was agreed to :

Resolved, That the secretary be directed to procure, bound in one volume, the act establishing the national asylums, the by-laws, the reports to Congress, and all the proceedings of the board of managers since its organization, and furnish each branch of the asylum with two copies, and each manager with three copies. The work to be done at the printing-office and bindery of the Central Branch, at Dayton.

The acting treasurer made a statement as to the finances of the asylum ; upon consideration of which, the following resolution was adopted :

Resolved, That the treasurer be, and hereby is, authorized to sell, not exceeding sixty thousand dollars of any securities of the national asylum registered in the Treasury of the United States, and to sign transfers of the same.

The following preamble and resolution were offered and adopted :

Whereas the supply of funds received from settling the accounts of the accounting officers from which warrants are drawn in favor of the national asylum is so irregular and so uncertain, and so liable to be delayed and hindered by the necessary official action as to embarrass the carrying on of the financial business of the asylum : Therefore be it

Resolved, That, with the advice and consent of the standing committee on finance, duly made in writing to the treasurer of the national asylum, the treasurer is authorized to sell in parcels, not exceeding, in the aggregate, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, of any securities registered in the Treasury of the United States, belonging to the national asylum, as the necessities of the asylum may require, at any time before the 4th day of March, A. D., 1873.

On motion of Mr. Gunckel, Governor Smyth, General Martindale, and General Osborn were appointed as standing committee on finance.

Sundry applications for money and effects of deceased soldiers were considered. Upon consideration, the following resolution, offered by General Martindale, was adopted :

Resolved, That the following additional rules and regulations are established, in relation to the effects of deceased inmates of the several asylums :

First. All pension-moneys and moneys received for labor performed by inmates at the several asylums, and clothing furnished to them as such inmates, do, at the death of such inmates, belong to the national asylum as the property thereof : provided in case where an inmate shall, at the time of his death, have a wife, child, or parent dependent upon him, his pension-moneys may be paid to them.

Secondly. In such exceptional case, the inmate may, in any form of will known to the law, bequeath such pension-money to such wife, child, or parent ; and if he leave no such will, such moneys may be paid to such dependent relative or relatives, by order of the board, on due proof being furnished relating thereto.

Thirdly. All other personal effects of such inmate, or the proceeds of the sale thereof, shall be delivered to his legal representative, appointed by competent civil authority, to be disposed of according to law.

At their request, General Martindale and Mr. Gunckel were excused from committee to visit and audit accounts at Eastern Asylum ; and the following visiting and auditing committees appointed :

Eastern Asylum—General Osborn and Judge Bond.

Central Asylum—Governor Smyth and Dr. Wolcott.
 Northwestern Asylum—General Martindale and Mr. Gunckel.
 Southern Asylum—General Cavender and Judge Bond.

The president made a statement as to the Northwestern and Southern Asylums, and recommended that General Hinks be ordered to Milwaukee, and General Woolley to Hampton.

After considerable discussion, it was

Resolved, That the said recommendations are approved, and the president is authorized to change the location of said officers, as also of the chaplains of the Eastern and Northwestern Asylums, if he shall find the same advisable.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Governor Smyth offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Home Avenue Railroad Company be permitted, under the direction of the local manager, Mr. Gunckel, to lay their track upon the grounds of the Central Asylum, and construct suitable appendages thereto, and to maintain the same during the pleasure of the board, and that, when prepared, said company shall carry the freight and coal of the asylum at prices reasonable and equitable, and satisfactory to the board: And provided, That the road be operated within the asylum-grounds subject to such police regulations as the board of managers shall prescribe: And provided further, That within a reasonable period there be constructed and completed a good carriage-road from the city of Dayton to the asylum, open free to the public.

The president reported the result of his investigations as to the claim of Mrs. E. A. Russell, when the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That there be paid Mrs. Russell, for loss of property by the fire at the Eastern Asylum, and in return for services rendered the asylum during and after said fire, the sum of six hundred dollars.

CENTRAL ASYLUM.

The board resumed consideration of question of purchase of woodland adjoining the Central Asylum; and the secretary read a special communication from Colonel Brown forwarding a proposition from Joseph Beeghly, proposing to sell one hundred and one acres, at $190 per acre, and strongly urging its acceptance by the board. After some consideration, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the local manager be, and is hereby, authorized to accept said proposition, and purchase said land at price named.

The resignation of Capt. A. P. Woodruff, steward of the Central Asylum, on account of continued ill-health, was read, with indorsements of local manager and deputy governor thereon, and the resignation was accepted, and the following resolution, offered by General Martindale, adopted:

Whereas Captain Woodruff has faithfully discharged the duties of steward during the period of six years, and has thereon exhausted his remaining health: it is

Resolved, That he be retained at the asylum and provided with quarters and rations, for himself and wife, in consideration of such services as he may be able to render, until otherwise ordered by the board.

On motion of Mr. Gunckel, Capt. William Thompson, assistant steward, was appointed steward of Central Asylum.

A communication from Colonel Brown, as to the necessity of boiler-house and new bakery at Central Branch, was read and discussed. On motion, it was Resolved, That the said buildings be authorized, and six thousand dollars appropriated therefor.

The memorial of George Nelson, asking remission of penalty, was read, and referred to deputy governor of Central Asylum for report and recommendation.

The communication of Brooks & Light was read, and payment of the boiler, already delivered, for heating-apparatus, delayed by non-completion of the new buildings, ordered.

NORTHWESTERN ASYLUM.

The communication of Messrs. Palmer, Hooper, and Pitkin, in behalf of Theodore Yates, late deputy governor at Milwaukee, on the 26th of September, 1872, and the reply thereto of the president, of October 6, 1872, having been laid before the board and fully considered, it was

Resolved, That this claim of fifteen hundred dollars for commissions and the payment under it on account, having, for the first time, been brought to the knowledge of the board, although Mr. Yates has ceased to be deputy governor, and has claimed to have settled his accounts more than two years ago; after full consideration, the claim is declared wholly inadmissible, as being in direct contravention of article vii of the by-laws, which was well known to Mr. Yates; that the president be instructed to inform Messrs. Palmer, Hooper, and Pitkin of this resolution; and that the president be further authorized and directed to take such steps as he may deem expedient to recover the fifteen hundred dollars retained by Mr. Yates, as shown upon this account, to the use of the asylum, as money withheld by him without right and against law.

SOUTHERN ASYLUM.

A special communication from General Hinks, as to profits of farming at Southern Branch, was read; and, on motion, it was referred to select committee heretofore appointed to purchase additional land at said branch, who are hereby directed to suspend action as to said purchase until further order of the board.

Also a communication from General Hinks, as to construction of new sea-wall in front of asylum-buildings. On motion, laid on the table.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

A special communication from General Hinks, of Northwestern Branch, describing the methods oftentimes successfully practiced to evade the forfeiture of pension when ordered by the board, was read and considered; whereupon the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That in all cases of application for re-admission where the beneficiary refuses to accept the conditions imposed by the board, his pension, to the amount of $9 per month, be forfeited for the period during which he has been temporarily at the branch awaiting the action of the board of managers; and that in all cases where an inmate who has previously been expelled for cause withdraws his application for re-admission before action by the board, he be charged with the cost of his keep during the time he has actually remained at the branch, at the rate of $9 per month.

The following resolution was offered and agreed to:

Resolved, That when a portion of the pension of a soldier applying for re-admission is forfeited to the Home, the remainder shall not be paid to him in money, but may, at the option of such soldier, be either sent to dependent family or used in the Home by purchase of clothing or such other articles as he may desire from the Home store.

The secretary read a communication from Mrs. B. Rouse, president, Miss Mary Clark Brayton, secretary, and Miss Ellen F. Terry, treasurer, of the Soldiers Aid Society of Northern Ohio—the Cleveland branch of the United States Sanitary Commission—proposing, in behalf of said society, to donate to the hospital of the Central Branch, at Dayton, a pleasure-carriage, with horses, harness, &c., for the use of the patients of said hospital upon certain conditions therein named. Whereupon

General Martindale offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the communication of the ladies of the Cleveland Soldiers' Aid Society be respectfully and thankfully acknowledged; the carriage, horses, &c., proposed for the use of the patients of the hospital, and other sick soldiers, of the Central Home, gratefully accepted, and devoted to the beneficial service by them proposed; and the ladies assured that the horses will be well cared for, the carriage and harness kept in repair, and a competent inmate of the Home selected as driver; but that it would not be expedient to make an exception in regard to the control of the property, which, like all other at the National Homes, should be under the general supervision and authority of the governor.

Dr. Wolcott offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That article xxii of the by-laws be, and the same is hereby, repealed.

After some discussion the vote was taken, and declared to be unanimous; so the resolution was adopted, and article xxii of the by-laws repealed.

The president called the attention of the board to the act of Congress of January 23, 1873, donating 6,315 suits of clothing to the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and stated that he had drawn an order on the Quartermaster-General for the same, but that said officer could not fill the order with clothing of such quality and sizes as could be used by the inmates of the Homes, but offered to pay same with equivalents, which could be sold or exchanged for clothing suitable for the Homes.

Mr. Gunckel offered the following resolution for adoption:

Resolved, That so much of the clothing donated by the Government as can be worn by the inmates of the Homes be taken from the Quartermaster-General, and that the remainder be taken in equivalents, which shall be sold or exchanged for clothing of proper size and quality, such sale or exchange to be by public letting, which, before consummated, shall be reported to and approved by the board of managers.

After considerable discussion, Governor Smyth moved the following as a substitute for said resolution:

Resolved, That the board accept from the Quartermaster-General such articles, or their equivalents, as the National Home can use or dispose of to the best advantage of the institution.

Resolved, That such property as is received from the Quartermaster's Department, not used by the Home, shall be disposed of, either by exchange for other clothing that may be needed, or by sale; both or either of which are to be by public competition.

Governor Smyth's motion prevailed, and the substitute was then adopted.

On motion, General Butler, General Martindale, and Governor Smyth were appointed a committee to draw said clothing and dispose of same as per terms of said resolution.

The president called the attention of the board to the necessity of protecting the water front of the Southern Home, and presented plans and estimates, prepared by General A. A. Humphreys, of United States Engineers, for riprapping same.

After consideration, the president was authorized to advertise for bids for doing said work, and to report same to next meeting of the board.

The president read certain charges made against General Woolley, late of Northwestern Home, under which he had felt compelled to suspend him from duty as governor of Southern Home.

General Woolley was heard in defense.

On motion, the whole subject was referred to a select committee, composed of General Martindale, General Cavender, and Mr. Gunckel, authorized to go to Milwaukee and to investigate the matter, and report to the next meeting of the board.

ESTIMATES AND APPROPRIATIONS.

The president then made his estimate of funds required for the purposes of the Homes for the quarter ending May 31, 1873:

For Eastern Branch	$29,465 00
For Central Branch	23,395 00
For Northwestern Branch	23,058 88
For Southern Branch	19,455 65
For construction of amusement-hall and workshops at Southern Branch..	3,500 00
For repair of insane-wards at Central Branch	500 00
Total	164,374 53

After careful consideration of the said estimates, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

It appearing from the report of the president of the board, made pursuant to the by-laws, that he estimates the sum of one hundred and sixty-four thousand three hundred and seventy-four dollars and fifty-three cents as required to meet the current expenses of the four branches for the ensuing quarter, and for construction and repairs of the several branches: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the sum of one hundred and sixty-four thousand three hundred and seventy-four dollars and fifty-three cents be, and is hereby, appropriated for such purposes of the Home, and that Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Butler be, and is hereby, authorized and empowered to make requisition on the Treasury Department of the United States therefor, and to receive and receipt for same in the name and behalf of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

The memorial of Geo. W. Scott, hospital-steward of Northwestern Home, asking for increase of pay, was read, but refused, as being inconsistent with the policy of the board as lately expressed.

The application of Robert A. March, late United States Army, disabled after the war by loss of left hand, by premature discharge of a cannon, while firing a salute at Boston, in honor of the President of the United States, for admission to Home, was read, but refused, because disability was not incurred in the service; but permission is given him to remain in the Home and attend Home-school, on condition he pay to the Home, while enjoying its advantages, the pension of $18 per month which he receives from the Government.

The communication of Colonel Brown, indorsing recommendation of John Farrell, chief engineer of Central Home, for change in certain steam-engines at said Home, from high to low pressure, was read, and referred to local manager of Central Home for investigation and report.

The petition of Jeremiah Noonan, Company G, Thirty-first Maine Volunteers, asking remission of penalty heretofore imposed, was considered, and, on recommendation of the acting governor, the penalty, after 1st of April next, is remitted.

The applications of Ernest Grupe, Albert Genthal, Philip Kirman, and Mathias Smith, of Northwestern Home, were considered, and, on recommendation of the late governor of said Home, admitted unconditionally.

The application for re-admission of W. H. Hopkins, of Southern Branch, was considered, and re-admitted on condition he do such labor or service as he is able to perform, without pay, until further order of the board.

The application of William Dooly, of Southern Branch, for remission of penalty, was heard, and, after consideration, it was ordered that one-half the penalty heretofore imposed be remitted.

On motion, the board then adjourned, to hold its next regular meeting in the city of Boston, on Thursday, July 10, at 9 o'clock a. m.

The board then proceeded to consider:

GENERAL BUSINESS.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That it is expedient that an officer doing duty as a secretary should be provided at each branch, either specially charged with that duty or detailed to that duty in addition to other duties, as the board may see fit. And the attention of such officer is called to the fourteenth section of the by-laws and the requirements thereof, and that his books, papers, and vouchers must be kept in strict accordance therewith; and for so doing, the officer charged with that duty will be held directly responsible to the board. And it is made the duty of the governor of each institution to see to it that the secretary is provided with necessary offices, blanks, stationery, and clerical assistance for the proper discharge of his duties.

The following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the president appoint a local committee of two managers for each Home, who shall have the special superintendence of the Home to which they were appointed; and that hereafter no building shall be erected, changed, or repaired, when the repair exceeds $150 in cost, and no avenue or road made or changed, and no horses, stock, furniture, or other articles purchased, except such as have been specially authorized or appropriated for by the board or are absolutely necessary for the sustenance, health, and comfort of the inmates, without the written consent and approval of such local committee.

Whereas the supply of funds received from settling the accounts of the accounting officers, from which warrants are drawn in favor of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, is so irregular and so uncertain, and so liable to be delayed and hindered, by the necessary fiscal action, as to embarrass the carrying on the financial business of the Home: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That, by and with the advice and consent of the standing committee on finance, duly made in writing to the treasurer of the National Home, the treasurer is authorized to sell in parcels, not exceeding in the aggregate $100,000, of any securities registered in the Treasury of the United States belonging to the National Home, as the necessities of the Home may require.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH.

The board then proceeded to consider matters special to the Northwestern Branch.

A special report from General Hinks, the deputy governor of said branch, was read, and, after a full discussion of its recommendation, it was Resolved, That Maj. J. T. Herrick, acting treasurer of said branch, be relieved, and General E. W. Hinks appointed acting treasurer, who shall give the usual bond as such treasurer, and perform the duties thereof, in addition to those of deputy governor, and without extra compensation.

After consideration, voucher No. 3, for $251.20, was allowed, and voucher No. 13, for $250, disallowed, and voucher No. 14, for $295, disallowed.

EASTERN BRANCH.

The board made a careful examination into working and business of the shoe-manufactory, and heard statements from the deputy governor, selling-agent, superintendent of the shop, and others having practical knowledge of the business, and, after a long discussion, adopted the following resolution offered by General Butler:

Resolved, That in consideration that the business of carrying on the shoe-shop at the Eastern Branch, in the present depressed state of that industry, is not likely to be made a financial success; but the necessity for the continuance of employment, especially in the winter months, to the soldiers at the Home seems apparent to the board, it is determined that the manufacture shall, notwithstanding, be continued for that reason, but subject to the following limitations and conditions:

1. That every soldier who shall work for wages shall sign an agreement that he will remain at the work, health permitting, during the current manufacturing season for which he is engaged, and that one-half of the amount which he shall earn shall be retained by the shop as guarantee for the performance of this condition.

2. That the kit of tools used by each employé shall be his own private property, and paid for from his wages, and kept good out of the same, and when he leaves the shop he shall be at liberty to take them with him, or sell them at pleasure.

3. That it shall be in the power of the superintendent to deduct from the wages of any employé the price of any stock or material or tool negligently wasted or destroyed by him, subject to an appeal on a question of liability to the deputy governor; this provision being found necessary because of the carelessness and negligence of some men who are employed in the shop.

4. That any beneficiary of either of the other branches of the Home who shall desire to work in the shop and be transferred to the Eastern Branch for that purpose, who will pay his own transportation, and either from his pension or earnings shall acquire a sufficient sum to pay for his kit of tools in the business in which he seeks employment, shall be transferred at his own request to the Eastern Branch for such employment, which he shall receive under the conditions herein stated.

5. That it shall be the duty of the deputy governor to employ the well-behaved, sober, and industrious beneficiaries of the Home, in preference, as the business is carried on solely for the good soldiers.

6. That as this business is carried on not for the profit of the institution, the wages shall be fixed at such sum as, with reasonable diligence, superintendence, and supervision, shall save the Home from any considerable loss.

Resolved, That the local committee at the Eastern Branch are authorized to introduce at that branch such other industries as will afford, in their judgment, proper employment to the beneficiaries of the Home; provided, in the judgment of the committee, they may be prosecuted without loss, and subject to the final approval of the board.

On motion, Surgeon Wright was transferred from the Eastern to the Southern Branch, and detailed as acting secretary of the Southern, in addition to his duties as surgeon of said branch—but with no increase of salary.

On recommendation of the president, Dr. S. W. Wilson, of Racine, Wis., was appointed as acting surgeon of the Eastern.

On motion, the president of the board was directed to ask a special report from the deputy governor of the Eastern Branch as to the stock and farming operations at said branch; said report to be made before the next meeting of the board.
