ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE
NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

The Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers makes the following report of that institution for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

During the year there have been two vacancies caused by death, viz, General John A. Martin, ex-governor of Kansas, second vice president of the Board, who died on October 2, 1889, and General John F. Hartranft, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, who died on October 17, 1889. These vacancies were noted and remarked upon in the last annual report.

A third vacancy is caused by the death of Colonel Leonard A. Harris, of Ohio, first vice president of the Board, who died July 5, 1890, just after the end of the fiscal year. The loss to the Board of Managers and to the Home by the death of Colonel Harris is exceedingly grave.

He had served on the Board for twelve years. He gave to his duties the strictest attention, and his experience in the conduct of similar institutions, his extreme sympathy for the disabled soldiers, his business qualifications, and his administrative experience as the mayor of Cincinnati, joined to his long service on the Board of Managers, cause his loss to be a particularly severe one for the Board. His genial disposition and ready wit had endeared him to every member of the Board.

The terms of the three members above mentioned would have expired on April 21, 1894. It is respectfully recommended that the vacancies be filled.

The terms of W. B. Franklin, of Connecticut; J. C. Black, of Illinois; and T. W. Hyde, of Maine, expired on April 21, 1890. These vacancies also should be filled, although by the terms of the organic law of the Home the present incumbents serve until their successors are appointed by Congress.

The ordinary duties of the Board have been performed during the year, and the branches of the Home have been visited and inspected, and the accounts audited and examined as required by law.

The supplies of the Home have been purchased by contract with the lowest bidders. They have been of excellent quality. The materials for bedding and clothing have been procured in the same way, and have been made up by the labor of the members and their families. The members have been comfortably clothed, housed, and fed, and no complaints have been made on these matters, except as to food. These complaints, as well as all others, have been few in number, and when made were investigated by the Board, and when found to be well founded the correction has been immediately applied.

NEW BRANCHES.

Four barracks of the Marion (Indiana) branch of the Home were sufficiently completed in April last to justify their occupation by disabled soldiers, and the number present at that branch at the end of the fiscal year was 405. This occupation, although the branch was in a crude and unfinished state, was a great relief to the overcrowded older branches:

By the end of the fiscal year two other barracks were virtually finished, making six in all.

Congress has appropriated in the act, approved August 30, 1890, for this branch, for two additional barracks, a hospital, mess hall, storehouse, and laundry, the sum of $108,500. All of these buildings are under contract and the work has been commenced. They will be completed by September 15, 1891. This branch will then be capable of caring for over one thousand members.

By the same act there was appropriated by Congress, for the Pacific branch, the sum of $132,500 for hospital, mess hall, waterworks, a barrack, headquarters, and library. These works will all be commenced during the fall and will be completed within a year. The capacity of this branch will then be sufficient for about 900 men.

MEMBERSHIP.

The average number present in the whole National Home for the year ending June 30, 1889, was 11,727. For the year ending June 30, 1890, the corresponding number was 12,935, an increase of 1,208, or 10.30 per cent. The average present and absent for the same time was 16,383, and the whole number cared for was 19,372. The average number present in the State homes for the year ending June 30, 1890, was 4,516, so that there was an average number of 17,451 soldiers supported for the year in the national and State homes.

The deaths during the same years in the National Home were, for 1889, 793, and for 1890, 847, an increase of 7 per cent.

The average age of the members cared for in the Home for the year is 57.32 years, and the average age of those who died was 59.79 years.

In the report of the Board of Managers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, the following statement is made:

The Board of Managers has in several reports called the attention of Congress to the fact that, as the management of the Home has been kept in the control of Congress, no other department of the Government is responsible for it, and consequently no department, bureau, or office in Washington is interested in its welfare. The whole business of the corporation is done by the Board of Managers, and the Board is anxious that its doings shall be carefully watched by Congress, and any mistakes that it may make be corrected by law. It therefore again respectfully invites such investigation of its proceedings and management as Congress may consider proper.

The House of Representatives of the Forty-eighth Congress, by resolution of May 26, 1884, authorized an investigation of the Home by the Committee on Military Affairs. In its report the committee states:

The general spirit of the laws establishing these Homes exhibits the intention of our people. They are to be Homes for the country's defenders, not asylums for the helpless poor whom society, by the laws of its existence, is bound to support.

The Board of Managers is very clear and decided that in the local administration the inmates are to be made to feel that the Home is what the name implies, and not a poor house or military garrison.

* * * * *

If the policy of maintaining these Homes upon the basis of existing law is to be persevered in additional branches must be provided, and it is the conclusion of your committee that the maximum number of beneficiaries of the Homes will not be reached earlier than 1895.

No other investigation of the Home has been made by Congress, except that authorized by the House of Representatives of the Forty-first Congress, July 5, 1870.

Supplement to Revised Statutes of the United States, page 155, paragraph 4, requires the Board of Managers to furnish the Secretary of War on the 1st day of August (since altered to the 1st day of October) estimates in detail for the support of the Home for the next fiscal year, and directs the Secretary of War to include the estimates in those for the War Department. It also directs that no money shall be drawn from the Treasury for the use of the Home except on quarterly estimates and on quarterly requisitions by the Board of Managers upon the Secretary of War based on such estimates, for the support of the Home for a time not exceeding one quarter. It also directs the Board of Managers to render quarterly accounts of its receipts and expenditures to the Secretary of War. These laws have been faithfully obeyed.

Since 1880 three new branches of the Home have been established and the accommodations of the Home have been so much enlarged that the average number of members present has increased from 5,603 in 1880 to 12,935 in 1890. Whether the policy of enlarging the capacity of the Home is good or bad, Congress is responsible for it, and the laws authorizing all of the three additional branches were initiated by the proper committees of Congress.

It has been stated, to show the extravagance of management of the National Home, that a Confederate Home in one of the States is supported for $125 per man per annum, and that persons in the same State who are indigent are supported as well as the disabled soldiers are supported in the National Home for $100 per annum.

Any statement based upon the theory that the National Home should be supported at no greater cost than are asylums for the indigent is misleading, and tends to degrade the crippled veterans of the Home. The Home is not for paupers too indolent or degraded to work for their own living. It is for men who, in their careers as healthy, able-bodied men, have been halted by wounds or diseases, in the vast majority of cases, caused by their service to the country. They should not be ground down in the Home furnished by their country's gratitude to the same cost of living as that in a poorhouse. In the language of the committee above quoted, the members "are made to feel that the Home is what the name implies, and not a poorhouse."

So the Board of Managers has had pride in feeding, clothing, and housing the members of the Home with the liberal allowance turned over to it by Congress, so that every member may feel that in belonging to it he is receiving a grateful appreciation from his country and that he is really "at home." Congress has in express terms annually appropriated money "for necessary expenditures, for articles of amusement, boats, library books, magazines, papers, pictures, and musical instruments, librarians, and musicians," and this fact alone shows that it has been its intention to provide liberally for these "wards of the nation," and makethem as happy as possible under their painful circumstances, and not to make a meager allowance, merely sufficient to keep body and soul together.

The reports of the Branches show that, so far as the funds will permit, theatrical and musical entertainments and lectures are given to the members free, in halls built with their own money.

Reading rooms are furnished at each Branch, in which magazines and newspapers from all parts of the country are furnished, and libraries in which books interesting to the members are placed. There are also rooms in which various games are played.

There are many other conditions about the Branches that show that they are homes, and not asylums in the ordinary meaning of the term.

The most cursory inspection of any one of them by an unprejudiced person will convince him that it is an institution in which the health, moral and physical, the self-respect, and comfort of the members are consulted as much as possible.

These objects can not be attained at the rate of $100 per man per annum, or for any sum near that amount.

The financial statistics of the Home show that the average annual cost of maintenance of each member of the Home, beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880 (that being the first year in which the accounts correspond with the official fiscal year), and including the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, is $135.85. This amount includes all expenses except those of construction, which are not properly chargeable to maintenance. Table K, on page 25, contains the statistics from which this information is obtained.

These statements can be proved or disproved by a Congressional investigation. But it is not likely that any material diminution of annual cost per man can be made. On the contrary, it is the opinion of the Board from careful observation that the expenses must increase. Until lately the labor of all kinds in the Home has been done by the members, but their increasing infirmities in many cases make idleness compulsory, however willing they may be to work.

Civilians at materially higher rates of pay must now be employed and their number will increase. All hospital attendance and nurses have been taken from the members until within a year. Now the experiment of employing women nurses is in course of trial, with every prospect of making it a success, but at an increased cost.

The hospitals, too, are continually increasing in size, and number of patients and the cost of maintenance of men in hospital is much greater than that of those outside for obvious reasons.

As the members grow older changes in diet must be made, which may or may not increase the cost of ration.

AID TO STATE AND TERRITORIAL HOMES.

The act of Congress approved March 2, 1889, appropriated $300,000 for aid to these Homes, coupled with the proviso that no State under this appropriation should be paid a sum exceeding one-half the cost of maintenance of each soldier or sailor by such State.

The sum of $296,881.96 has been paid the various States under this appropriation, being the whole amount appropriated, less $3,118.04, the cost of executing the law. There has also been paid the States, under the urgent deficiency act, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, the sum of $44,272.39, so that the whole sum paid for aid to State Homes in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, is $344,272.39. Table L, page 25, gives the details of this disbursement. From this it appears that an average of 4,516 men were supported at these Homes for that fiscal year, and that the amount due the States on this account was $378,704.38. There is, therefore, due the sum of $81,822.02, which is a deficiency, and for which an appropriation will be asked at the proper time. The average annual cost of these Homes is $167.74 for each man. The most costly is that of Nebraska, whose annual cost for each man is $268.40, and the least costly is that of New York, whose annual cost for each man is $139.46.

PENSIONS.

Although 6,649 of the members of the Home are already pensioners, as shown by table N, page 33, the time is not far distant when every member will probably be a pensioner under the operation of existing law.

The Board of Managers is required by the law to pay to each pensioner the whole amount of his pension, under such regulations as the Board may establish. It is therefore necessary to have a personal account kept with each pensioner, involving a good deal of clerical work, and the increased number of pensioners will materially increase this work.

The question as to what amount of pension should determine a man's admissibility to the Home is one that for good reasons should be left indeterminate.

The table of contents indicates the reports of the various Branches for the fiscal year. The governors have given their impressions to the effect of the sale of beer in the Branches to the members upon the morals and discipline of the Home, and attention is particularly called to the governors' statements. They are unanimous in opinion that the sale of beer to the members in the Home benefits them physically and morally, enables them to save a little money for their families, and injures the illicit grogshops just outside the limits of the Branches. The Board has given up all hope of breaking up these vile dens, which spring up like poisonous weeds. Prosecutions are of no avail; when one grogshop is closed others kept by worse men, are at once started.

A detailed report of the inspection of the National and State Homes has been made by General W. W. Averell, assistant inspector-general, and is appended to this report.

The table of contents contains all information necessary for an easy reference to all tables, reports, etc., transmitted with this report.

Should Congress fail to appropriate money for the support of the Branch of the said Home, situated at Hampton, Va., at any time, then, and in that case neither the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, nor any person connected with it, nor the above-named first party to these presents, shall be liable for any payment under this agreement for such time not appropriated for. Nor shall this contract be binding as against the National Home for a longer time than one year beginning on July 1 of that year.

The said rental of $6,000 per annum shall be payable quarterly, and shall begin when the governor of the said Home shall certify in writing that the plant is in satisfactory operation, and the covenants of this agreement in so far, as may be, complied with.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE NATIONAL HOME
FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, JANUARY 21, 1890.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 21, 1890.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, at the Hotel Normandie, Tuesday, January 21, at 11, a m.

Present: The President of the United States; the Chief Justice of the United States; The Secretary of War; General W. B. Franklin, President of the Board; Colonel L. A. Harris, first vice-president; General M. T. McMahon, secretary; General John C. Black; General Thomas W. Hyde; General W. J. Sewell; Col. H. H. Markham.

The minutes of the previous session of the Board were submitted and approved.

The President of the Board announced the death of General John A. Martin and of General John F. Hartranft, late members of the Board.

The President of the Board submitted the following letter, addressed by him to the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives; which, on motion, was approved and ordered on the minutes.

THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
Hartford, Conn., December 13, 1889.

SIR: I transmit with this a copy of the estimates of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, as given in the book of estimates, with explanatory remarks upon the various items of expenditures. Such a paper has been required by your committee for the last two or three years.

This is supplemented by another estimate which contains the same items and the same amounts in a consolidated form. It is respectfully recommended that the appropriations be made in this form for the National Home as a unit, rather than by branches. The reasons for recommending this change are given in the report of the Board of Managers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, and are as follows:

"The members of the Home wish at times to change their residences, and ask to be transferred from one Branch to another. Their requests are always granted unless there be some reason why the transfer should not be made. Such reason may be that the Branch to which they wish to be transferred has already its full membership, as justified by the appropriation, or there may be some reason personal to the man, such as his health, as certified by the surgeon, or his inability to pay the cost of transfer.

"The Board is sometimes embarrassed from the fact that the changes in the number of the members who go away from or return to the various Branches of the Home seemed to be governed by no rule except the fancy of the men. For this reason the appropriation for one Branch is often so seriously drawn upon that great care and seeming stinginess must be practiced to make the appropriation last through the year. In other Branches in the same year the appropriation would answer for more men than are actually present during the year. To avoid this sort of embarrassment, it is respectfully recommended that hereafter, instead of appropriating for the maintenance of the Branches separately, as is now the method, the estimates be made as they are now for each Branch, and that they be then consolidated and the appropriation be made for the maintenance of the whole membership in one account for each item of expenditure. Should this change be made, the Board will be enabled to so make its quarterly appropriations for maintenance that all of the Branches will be on the same footing as regards the annual appropriations, and the difficulty due to the increase and diminution of members in any Branch can be at once obviated. The large average number of members now present and absent for the year, viz, 14,889, a number nearly equal to that of the whole Army as it exists to-day, and which will increase for some time, and the varying number of members of the Branches, as explained above, are—in the opinion of the Board—good reasons for the change in the method of appropriating for the annual maintenance."

Under the existing law, with the appropriations made by Branches, there are at least forty-eight separate items that the Board of Managers must look out for constantly, as there is always danger that the branches may overrun the appropriations. By the system recommended there will be only eight such items, and the Board, when it makes its quarterly appropriations, can always keep them within such amounts that there will be no possibility that it can be embarrassed by a careless or inefficient treasurer, and can always increase or diminish the amounts appropriated by it to conform to the greater or less requirements of each Branch.

The same system is in force in the Army and Navy, in which there are bodies of men at various places, whose numbers continually change. If the system works well with them it should work well in the National Home, which institution has not the command of the clerical and other force that these bodies have.

Another reason for the change is, it will simplify the procural of clothing, bedding, medical stores, etc., which can always be better purchased by contract for the whole Home than they can be for each Branch separately.

The cost of each Branch will be quite as much under the control of Congress as it is now, as the Board of Managers in each annual report gives the cost of each Branch for the preceding fiscal year, and the estimates for each Branch before consolidation will show approximately its contemplated cost.

Respectfully, yours,

W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers N. H. D. V. S.

Hon. J. G. CANNON,
Chairman Committee on Appropriations, House of Representatives.

Also the following letter in relation to State Homes :

[Copy.]

HARTFORD, CONN., December 28, 1889.

SIR: I respectfully call your attention to the fact that Congress, in an act approved 27th August, 1888, appropriated $250,000 to enable the Board of Managers N. H. D. V. S. to pay to the States which have established, or may hereafter establish, State Homes for disabled soldiers or sailors $100 per year for each disabled soldier or sailor kept one year at such a Home.

The Board has made the payments so authorized so far as it was able, but the number of men for whose maintenance the States were entitled to this payment considerably overran the estimate of Congress, and there is therefore still due the States entitled to the payments the sum of $44,278.39 for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1889, and if it still be the intention of Congress to carry out the law, that sum should be appropriated in a deficiency bill. The accompanying statement gives the account of the disbursement of the appropriation, and shows the deficiency.

Again, the act of Congress approved 2d March, 1889 (sundry civil act), directs in a proviso to the appropriation that "no State under the appropriation shall be paid a sum exceeding one-half the cost of maintenance of each soldier or sailor by such State." The Board of Managers finds great difficulty in the execution of the act with this proviso.

The Board must depend upon the certificates of officers managing these Homes for the information as to cost of maintenance. No two States keep their accounts in the same way. They do not have the same definition of the term maintenance and their fiscal years commence at different dates. Any distribution of the money to the various States affected by the act would be based upon data necessarily imperfect. The only way in which the Board can obtain the data to enable it to carry out the law would be to have control of the accounts of these Homes, of the nature of the expenditures, of the fiscal terms, etc. The Board has not at its disposal the force necessary to undertake this work, and under the law it has no authority to interfere in any way with the management of the State Homes. Nor does the Board believe that it was the intention of Congress to place upon it the responsibility and great labor involved in properly ascertaining the annual cost of maintenance of these Homes in order to comply with the terms of the proviso of the law.

Under the circumstances, I respectfully submit to the committee the advisability of repealing the proviso, and substituting for it a clause giving to the State for each soldier or sailor cared for one year in the State Home a fixed sum. This sum might be some ratio of the annual cost of maintenance of each member of the National Home for the preceding fiscal year, or it may be any amount which the wisdom of Congress will determine as the proper amount to be paid.

Respectfully, yours,

W. B. FRANKLIN,

President Board of Managers N. H. D. V. S.

Hon. J. G. CANNON,

Chairman Committee on Appropriations,

House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

The President of the Board submitted draught of the annual report of the Board to Congress.

On motion of General Black, the same was approved and adopted as the report of the Board.

The President of the Board presented the estimates for the quarter ending 31st March, 1890, which, after careful revision, were agreed upon, as follows:

Central Branch—general	$195,629.56
Northwestern Branch—general	67,443.97
Eastern Branch—general	66,139.44
Southern Branch—general	93,924.57
Western Branch—general	75,190.02
Pacific Branch—maintenance	22,500.00
Outdoor relief and incidental expenses	7,878.75
Aid to State Homes	100,000.00
Total	628,706.31

Whereupon the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers estimate and appropriate out of the moneys which may be provided by law the sum of $628,706.31, as necessary to meet the current expenses of the six Branches of the National Home for the quarter ending 31st March, 1890, and for construction and repairs, out-door relief, and incidental expenses of the National Home; and that the acting treasurer be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to take such means as may be necessary to obtain the sum of $628,706.31 from the Treasury of the United States, and to receipt therefor in the name and behalf of the National Home.

The President of the Board presented the application of Capt. H. A. Cobaugh, late treasurer of the Eastern Branch, for sixty days' additional pay.

After full consideration and discussion, the application was, on motion, denied.

The President of the Board presented a resolution of the United States Senate, which was read and ordered on the minutes, as follows:

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES, January 6, 1890.

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of National Soldiers' Homes be directed to consider the advisability of the establishment of a hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., to which all disabled ex-Union soldiers shall be admitted on proper recommendation, and make early report thereon.

Attest:

ANSON G. McCook,
Secretary.

On motion of General Sewell, the resolution was referred to General Black for report.

The President of the Board submitted certain correspondence in the matter of the Ward legacy and the decision of the high court of chancery thereon, which, on motion of General Black, was ordered on the minutes:

11 PANCRAS LANE, E. C., LONDON, 17th October, 1889.

WARD v. MCKEWAN.

DEAR SIR: As I promised, I have had the papers herein looked up, and send you herewith--

(1) Extracts from will of Horatio Ward, setting out the terms of the legacy to the National Soldiers and Sailors' Home;

(2) Decree of Vice Chancellor Sir John Stuart;

(3) His chief clerk's certificate;

(4) Affidavit of Henry B. Hammond, answering inquiry No. 9 of the decree; and

(5) Decree on further consideration, Vice Chancellor Sir John Stuart finding the National Asylum for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Washington was entitled to the legacy.

And which I hope will answer your correspondent's purpose. I can, of course, and shall be pleased to furnish you with full copies of the above or any other documents you may wish for.

Your informants are in error as to the nature of the chancery proceedings. There was no dispute as to the bequest; the action was the ordinary one for the administration of the estate (of the late Horatio Ward) under the direction of the high court of chancery, and the inquiry was then directed as to which institution was entitled to the bequest.

My charges for letters, searches, and copy extracts, etc., are £4 10s. 6d., as per inclosed account, and for which I shall be pleased to receive a check.

I am, dear sir, yours, truly,

GILBERT ROBINS.

B. H. BUCKINGHAM, Esq.,

U. S. Naval Attaché, U. S. Legation, 123 Victoria Street, S. W.

P. S. Those portions of Mr. Hammond's affidavit, marked in the margin in red ink, refer to a different bequest, and not to the one in question.

"The said Alfred Ward, Baillie Peyton Ward, and Osbert Ward attending, respectively, under orders as aforesaid, are (together with the plaintiff) the residuary legatees of the testator, Horatio Ward.

Affidavit of Henry B. Hammond, esq., filed 8th April, 1869, says :

That he is a resident of the city, county, and State of New York, United States of America, and there engaged as a lawyer in the practice of his profession.

That he has been commissioned to make the following enquiries named in a decree made in the above entitled action on the 7th day of December, 1867, and contained in the 9th and 10th items thereof, to wit :

An enquiry what charity or institution was intended by the following description in the said (meaning the will of the late Horatio Ward) will, namely, "The National Soldiers and Sailors' Home," "about to be erected at Washington in conformity with an act of Congress passed last session," and if there be any such charity or institution, who is or are the treasurer or trustee thereof, or other the person or persons duly authorized to receive the legacy by the said will bequeathed thereto.

An inquiry what charity or institution or charities or institutions was or were intended by the following description in the said will, namely, "The various asylums or houses that have been formed or may be formed within a year throughout the loyal States for the orphans by the late war for the restoration of the Union," and if there be any such charity or institution or charities or institutions, who are the respective treasurers or trustees thereof, or other the person or persons duly authorized to receive the legacy by the said will bequeathed thereto respectively.

That he has ascertained the following facts relating to said inquiries.

That the only institution at Washington within the meaning of the first enquiry is "The National Asylum for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers," which was organized under an act of Congress approved March 21, 1866.

That a copy of such charter, by-laws, and annual report, together with the affidavit of the president of such institution, the honorable Benjamin F. Butler, showing who are the executive officers of said institution and who of the same are entitled to receive legacies are hereto annexed marked Exhibit "A."

That of the aforementioned States California, Delaware, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, and West Virginia have no asylums or institutions strictly for the orphans by the late war for the restoration of the Union.

That of the said loyal States of the United States Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin have each one or more such asylums or institutions.

In Iowa one, "The Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' Home."

In Maine there is one, "The Bath Military and Naval Orphan Asylum."

In Indiana there is one, "The Indiana Soldiers and Seamen's Home."

That in many of the States there are asylums or homes which provide for the orphans of soldiers and sailors with other orphans, but were not organized expressly for such and do not come within the enquiry heretofore made.

That this deponent has obtained this information by correspondence with the governors and secretaries of states, the different officers of said asylums or homes, by publishing for the same in the most prominent newspapers in each of the loyal States of the United States and by the various documents hereto annexed marked Exhibits B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q.

The president submitted the report of Dr. W. W. Godding, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the Insane, relating to members of the Home received and treated in that institution, which was read and ordered on file.

The president of the Board submitted samples of proposed overcoat and cape for the use of members of the Home.

After examination of the samples, the question as to their adoption was referred to the president of the Board, with power.

The application of Dr. Leighton, surgeon of the Northwestern Branch, for the appointment of F. W. Furlman, now an interne at that Branch, as second assistant surgeon, at a salary of $50 per month, was presented.

On motion, the application was granted, and F. W. Furlman was appointed second assistant sargeon of the Northwestern Branch.

The application of Col. Charles Candy, commissary of subsistence of the Southern Branch, for increase of salary, was presented by the president of the Board and referred to General Sewell, local manager, for report.

On motion of General Sewell, the president of the Board was authorized to employ a second assistant surgeon at the Southern Branch, at a salary of $50 per month.

On motion of General Sewell, it was resolved that the question of the enlargement of the cemetery at the Southern Branch be referred to General Averell, assistant inspector general, for the purpose of conference with the Quartermaster-General of the U. S. Army.

General Black presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas there are now two barracks completed and ready for occupancy at the Marion Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, which barracks have a united capacity for accommodating three hundred men; and

Whereas there are more applicants now for admission than the remaining barracks of all the branches of the Home can hold; and

Whereas said remaining barracks are overcrowded, and applications for admission are necessarily denied; and

Whereas there is no appropriation now available for the use of said Branch:

Resolved, That the president of the Board be requested to submit these facts to the Congress of the United States, and to ask that the sum of $40,000 be appropriated and made immediately available for all necessary purposes of subsistence, hospital, transportation, etc., for said Marion Branch, said money to be accounted for as are the moneys now severally appropriated for the remaining branches of the Home and subject to all the restrictions and requirements as to the expenditures of said various other appropriations.

312 ELM STREET, CAMDEN, N. J., January 8, 1890.

General M. T. McMAHON,
*Secretary Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, New York:*

DEAR SIR: The privilege extended to me in your letter of the 4th is very highly appreciated.

If you will have me notified at what hour and at what place it will be proper for me to present myself before your honorable body I will endeavor to avail myself of the opportunity you so kindly offer in reference to investigation asked.

Very respectfully,

LAURA MCNEIR.

NEW YORK, January 10, 1890.

Mrs. LAURA MCNEIR,
312 Elm Street, Camden, N. J.:

MADAME: The Board of Managers will meet on the 21st and 22d instants at the Hotel Normandie, in Washington. As the first day will be fully taken up in the consideration of estimates, etc., I would suggest the 22d for the hearing which you desire.

I am not able to fix the hour, but if you will communicate with me in Washington on the 21st I will send you the necessary information.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

M. T. McMAHON.

The secretary announced that he had, by direction of the president of the Board, requested Mrs. McNeir to appear before the Board at 12 o'clock, and that Mrs. McNeir was in waiting. Mrs. McNeir was thereupon introduced to the Board.

The letter to the President of the United States referred to in the foregoing correspondence, and also a similar letter to the Secretary of War, containing charges against the management of the Southern Branch, the governor and members, were read to the Board, and Mrs. McNeir was requested to furnish any evidence that she might desire to present. She was heard at length, but declined to furnish any evidence other than the anonymous communication which accompanied her letter to the President. She was unwilling, also, to give the names of any persons connected with the Home who could furnish evidence in support of her charges.

The Board thereupon, at the close of the hearing, deemed it unnecessary to take further action.

General Black presented the following resolutions, which, on his motion, were adopted and ordered to be entered on the minutes:

JOHN A. MARTIN,

A member of the Board of Managers National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, died at his home in Atchison, Kans., on the 2d day of October, 1889, in the fiftieth year of his age. He was a native of Pennsylvania, but in early life became a citizen of Kansas, when that State was engaged in its historical territorial struggles for freedom.

In the war of 1861-'65 he became a soldier, and for four years followed the flag of the Republic on some of the most lustrous fields of that era of mighty struggle and victorious battle. He felt in his own person the pains and perils of war; he nobly fought and zealously strove for the prosperity and unity of the nation, and while yet a stripling won the eagles of a colonel and the brevet rank of brigadier-general of United States volunteers. His soldiers loved and his fellow officers honored him.

But war was only an episode of his life, and at the close the manly citizen who had helped to plant the flag on Missionary Ridge and stood true in the horrors of Chickamauga, where one half of his regiment fell, turned to the pursuits of civil life a better, broader, stronger man.

He brought to the struggle of life the qualities of mind and firmness of purpose and enthusiasm of belief that so long had sustained him in the perilous war. He succeeded greatly; he became a tribune for his people and they thrice honored him by election to the gubernatorial chair. Yet, while surrounded by the charms of high official position, he loved to turn to the councils of his former associates and strove most earnestly to alleviate the sorrows of the humbler men of the rank and file. His duty was a labor of love; his authority was always exercised with leniency, and with regard to the infirmity of age, and of strength broken in the country's cause. No tenderer judge ever weighed the cause of the unfortunate, or threw into the scales that humanity which looked with compassion on sorrows and showed acquaintance with grief. None will rise to speak unkindly of him who sleeps after a life of soldierly love and patriotic regard.

We, his fellows on the Board, mourn his loss with personal grief; we will welcome his successor to his place, and hope that he may prove worthy of the trust which Governor Martin laid down, stainless, well kept, and nobly executed.

To his family, who have often made our labors bright by their presence, we extend our sympathy and affectionate regard. The star of the life that is gone will surely rise on the after time for them wherever they may journey, blending its rays of husbandly and fatherly devotion with soldierly honor and civic renown.

JOHN F. HARTRANFT.

On the 17th of October, 1889, John F. Hartranft, a member of this Board, died at Norristown, Pa., his home, in the presence of his family and friends, in the sixtieth year of his honorable age.

He had been associated with us for the period of one year and three months, but his services for the public and for his country had been continuous for almost twenty-eight years preceding, and their united worth and brilliancy shed a lustre about his name that will make it a conspicuous one in the annals of his State while the transactions of this generation are held in honorable esteem.

In the struggles of the great war for the preservation of the Union he took a brave and worthy part East and West; and on the shores of the Potomac, on the heights of the Tennessee, and again in the grapple for the possession of Petersburg and Richmond, everywhere, when called by duty and patriotism, he made a manly, conspicuous place for himself and his men.

In the final hours he and his command were in the foremost line.

On the return of peace, his great State, Pennsylvania, extended him high honors. He was thrice chosen accountant, and thus was evidenced his fellow-citizens' trust in his capacity and fidelity. He was twice their governor, and thus they witnessed their affection and regard. He was their choice in a great civic contest for the Chief Magistracy, and then she showed her pride and placed her shield beneath the feet of her volunteer and lifted him to the national gaze.

Despite this high career he entered our Board, simple, docile, kind, and modest as a little child. He found speedy and honored place at our council board and room in all our hearts. His voice lent wisdom and his presence gave dignity to our deliberations. His ear was open to the poor, and the voice of comradeship reached and woke the tender echoes of his heart. We join in the public grief, and beg to share that private sorrow that widow and children hold sacred for him, the husband, father, patriot, and civil chief—gone from glory to glory, and from strife to God.

The application for admission to the Home of James H. Cook, late Company E, Second Wisconsin Cavalry, after discussion, was referred to the president of the Board, with power.

The application of the bandmaster of the Western Branch for quarters on the Home grounds was referred to the president of the Board, with power.

General Hyde offered the following resolution; which, on his motion, was adopted:

Resolved, That an additional appropriation of $700 be made for the completion of the station and lunch room at the Eastern Branch, and that the entire sum of $2,200 be borrowed from the posthumous fund of said Branch; the same to be repaid from the post fund.

The secretary presented a new bond of Major Thompson, treasurer of the Southern Branch which, on motion, was approved by the Board.

Colonel Harris submitted the report of the investigation made at the Pacific Branch of certain charges preferred against the governor of that Branch; which was read, and, after discussion, on the motion of Colonel Harris, was referred to General Black and General McMahon for final report thereon:

During the recess of the Board its duly authorized members visited the Pacific and Western Branches of the National Home for the purpose of inspecting the same, hearing complaints of the members, and doing such other necessary and proper things under the law as the circumstances might warrant.

Arriving at Los Angeles Sunday morning, September 29, we proceeded at once, via Santa Monica, to the Pacific Branch. On Monday the members were notified of our arrival and requested not to absent themselves. Members at this Branch are permitted to go and come as they choose between roll calls. At the dinner hour on Tuesday the acting president notified the members of the time and place for hearing complaints, and invited all who felt that they had just cause of complaint to appear before the managers.

On the same day the hearing began and was continued until every member who had a complaint to make was heard.

The hearing was public; none were excluded except the officers of the Branch.

Thirty-eight complaining members appeared and testified; also others, who said they had no cause of complaint, but had been summoned by persons about the camp. This is a very unusual proportion for the number present, viz, 380, and has never occurred in the experience of the Board, except under the peculiar circumstances existing at this Branch.

Public notice was given of the daily sessions of the Board, and all members and ex-members who could not or would not appear have been permitted to forward written complaints, which are herewith appended.

Up to this time the proceedings, with some exceptions, have been in line with the action of the Board in its official visitations; but, in consequence of the grave and specific charges made by the Los Angeles Tribune, and which were widely telegraphed over the country, and because gentlemen, members of the G. A. R., had visited the Branch and had taken it upon themselves to make an investigation, which, though occupying but a short time and altogether ex parte, was sufficient for the formulation of specific charges, we entered upon this branch of the examination and summoned all of the commissioned and many of the noncommissioned officers to appear before the Managers and testify. This examination was thorough and searching, as will appear from the testimony herewith appended.

Attention is here called to the fact that prior to the publication of charges of brutal treatment, rotten and insufficient food, dishonesty of officials, and burying in paupers' graves, not a complaint had been made to the president of the Board, nor to the local manager, who is in the immediate neighborhood and could and would have immediately applied a remedy had it been necessary, nor to any member of the Board. Indeed, it seems that all persons having authority to correct these alleged abuses and remove the cause were kept in profound ignorance of them.

A stenographic report of all the testimony, with affidavits, written complaints, communications, charges and specifications and newspapers, together with the Home record of all the complainants, which makes a complete history of the case, is respectfully submitted to the Board, with the recommendation that they be referred to a committee for examination and report.

We are moved to do this because we came in personal contact with the witnesses, with interested and perhaps prejudiced persons, and because we were the guests of the governor, enjoying the hospitality of himself and family for more than a week, and because we desire that the final finding shall be free of all bias from these causes.

INSPECTION.

It was developed that many necessary improvements had not been undertaken, or their completion had been delayed for want of funds; but it was found, after a close calculation, that with rigid economy certain work which was deemed of pressing necessity could be completed from the funds on hand. This work was commenced immediately and was doubtless soon completed. The schedule of these improvements is herewith attached. The president has since authorized the construction of a temporary library building and steam-heating for barracks.

A Home store and restaurant was authorized and the funds provided. This will be a source of great comfort to the members and visitors, who, heretofore have been unable to even get a sandwich on the Branch grounds, and which has been a source of severe comment and numerous complaints.

A cooling house and receptacles for meats and vegetables have been provided, the absence of which was a source of much embarrassment to the officers, and the principal cause of complaint by the members. There being no place to keep perishable articles, purchases, on account of the climate, had to be received daily, and this was the alleged reason for sometimes accepting inferior meat and vegetables; for otherwise, it rejected, they would have to do without these articles for twenty-four hours. With these improvements the men should be quite comfortable, and there can be no just cause for complaint in this respect now.

Many of the inconveniences at this Branch were unavoidable. Men were received when the accommodations were limited; in fact, they were of the most temporary character, but insufficient as they were, they were readily accepted by those who had no homes nor means of support.

These inconveniences, and the discomforts arising therefrom, have been progressively overcome, until this Branch compares most favorably with the early history of any other Branch.

REMARKS.

It was expected that the Board would have sufficient funds, independent of appropriations by Congress, for the adornment and improvement of the grounds of the Pacific Branch, but this source, after the payment of a small sum of money, having failed, Congress must be looked to for the further promotion of this work. The Board did the best that could be done with the funds it had, and as much progress was made as was possible under the circumstances, but the result is not strikingly apparent, for it takes some time for ornamental trees and plants to grow, even in the wonderful soil of California.

As it is confidently expected that there will be an abundance of water for irrigating purposes, the work that has been and will be done, provided we get a sufficient appropriation for this purpose, will make the grounds of the Pacific Branch a place of rare beauty, comparing favorably with any other grounds in beautiful southern California.

When the annual estimate is available work will be resumed, and substantial and commodious structures of the style of the present buildings will be erected for hospital, dining hall, headquarters, and library, pavilion at beach, additional barracks, etc. And it is the wish of the Board that an amusement hall may soon follow.

We have thus briefly given you the result of our inspection of the Pacific Branch, and our hopeful anticipations of its near future.

WESTERN BRANCH.

Stopped at this Branch on return trip, inspected it, and heard complaints.

A number of members appeared before us for favors, but few complained. The complaints were those incident to Home life, with which the Board is quite familiar. Remedies were applied when necessary, and favors granted when possible.

The men made a good appearance, and, with few exceptions, were clean and tidy. The barracks, very much to the credit of the sergeants, were models of cleanliness and neatness. The hospital was in excellent condition, and compared favorably with any similar institution that we had ever seen, one of the members of the Board having had large experience in this direction.

The vitrified brickworks were in successful operation, and promise to add largely to the store fund, besides giving employment to members.

Respectfully submitted.

On motion of General Black it was resolved that the Board proceed to the Southern Branch, upon completing its business in Washington, for the purpose of making the annual inspection.

On motion of General McMahon the following resolution was adopted:

Be it resolved by the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, That the award of damages made by the supervisors of the town of Wauwautosa, to wit, the sum of five ($5) dollars, on the 3d day of December, 1889, to the said National Home as and for the damages sustained by said National Home on account of the laying out of the highway, pursuant to the order of said Board of supervisors made on the 3d day of December, 1889, on and through that part of the property of said National Home known as the east half of section thirty-five (35), town seven (7), range twenty-one (21) east, as lies north of the right of way and the railroad track of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company, as the same is located in said section, be and the same is hereby accepted as full compensation and damages by reason of the laying out of said highway above mentioned.

On motion, it was resolved that when the Board adjourn it be to meet on the 8th of April next, in Washington.

The president of the Board appointed General Hyde and General Black to audit the accounts of the acting treasurer.

On motion, it was resolved that the governor of the Pacific Branch be authorized to sell beer to the members of the Home at that Branch, under such regulations and restrictions as have been heretofore established by the Board for other Branches, the proceeds thereof to accrue to the post fund.

The committee appointed to audit the accounts of the acting treasurer made the following report, which was received and ordered on the minutes:

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 24, 1890.

The undersigned have this day examined and audited the accounts of General W. B. Franklin, acting treasurer of the Board of managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the quarters ending 30th September and 31st December, 1889, and find the same correct and supported by proper vouchers.

The balance in his hands on the 31st December, 1889, was ten thousand two hundred and twenty-five $\frac{1}{2}$ dollars (\$10,225.55) belonging to the general fund; ninety-seven thousand eight hundred and seventy-five dollars (\$97,875.00) belonging to the Marion Branch fund, and one hundred and ninety-one thousand one hundred and twelve $\frac{3}{100}$ dollars (\$191,112.83) belonging to the State aid fund. Total, two hundred and ninety-nine thousand two hundred and thirteen $\frac{3}{100}$ dollars (\$299,213.38).

Vouchers Nos. 23 and 24, State aid fund, quarter ending 30th June, 1889, noted in report of auditing committee dated 22nd September, 1889, as "missing," have also been examined, audited, and found correct.

JOHN C. BLACK,
THOS. W. HYDE,
Committee.

General Black, to whom was referred the resolution of the Senate of January 6, 1890, submitted a report, which, after discussion and amendment, was adopted as follows:

Replying to a resolution adopted by the Senate of the United States on the 6th day of January, A. D. 1890, a copy of which is here inserted:

"Resolved, That the Board of Managers of National Soldiers' Homes be directed to consider the advisability of the establishment of a hospital at Hot Springs, Arkansas, to which all disabled ex-Union soldiers shall be admitted on proper recommendation, and make early report thereon."

The Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers have the honor to state:

We have considered the subject matter presented by said resolution. We are not advised as to the rights of the Government in the lands and waters at Hot Springs, Ark., save as generally informed relative thereto, but believe them to be sovereign and exclusive, save where limited by lease soon to expire, or revocable at will, and that there will be found no obstacle to the carrying out of any design that may receive the favorable action of the Congress of the United States.

That the Board is unanimously of opinion that the establishment of a hospital at Hot Springs, for the purpose indicated in the resolution, is in every respect advisable, for the following reason:

On the 31st of December, 1889, there were above 22,000 disabled soldiers cared for in the National Home and State Homes, of which number about 16 per cent. were sick in hospital. That their leading affliction was rheumatism, and that a large proportion of them, perhaps 2,000, would without doubt be benefitted by treatment at a sanitary branch of the National Home established at Hot Springs, Ark.

Committees were appointed to wait upon the Committees on Appropriations and on Military Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives, to present the estimates and discuss the affairs of the Board.

The Board thereupon proceeded to the examination and consideration of applications for readmission and for effects of deceased members, and made the following orders:

DAYTON, OHIO, March 31, 1890.

To the Honorable Board of Managers of the National Home for D. V. S.:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned has secured and owns the "Applegate" tract of about 50 acres, lying immediately in front of the Home and along the north line of the National Avenue. Across our land there now runs the Electric Road and natural gas mains. We propose to improve and dispose of these grounds for a better class of residences, and by the terms of all deeds to exclude saloons and drinking shops. To further our plans, we need water and gas, which, we believe, the Soldiers' Home can furnish us advantageously to all parties at reasonable prices.

We respectfully ask that you will consider and act in this matter at an early day.

Respectfully,

THE PARK PLACE COMPANY,
By GEO. J. ROBERTS,
President.

The secretary read separate reports from General Black and General McMahon, to whom was referred the testimony taken by the members of the Board who visited the Pacific Branch in relation to certain charges made against the management of that Branch.

After a full discussion, upon the motion of General Sewell, it was resolved that the reports be received and placed on file, and that no further action upon the part of the Board is necessary in the premises; that the president of the Board be requested to inform the governor of the Pacific Branch of the action taken, and also to instruct him that, as chief executive officer of the Home, the Board looks to him as its responsible agent for the proper conduct of the Home in all its departments, and that he is expected to hold the subordinate officers of the Home to a similar responsibility for the departments under their charge, and to keep himself thoroughly informed as to the manner in which the duties of such subordinates are fulfilled.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CENTRAL BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED
VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

CENTRAL BRANCH,
NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
August 2, 1890.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this Branch for the year ending June 30, 1890:

GENERAL FUND.

The treasurer's report shows the average cost of ration per day per 100 men as $18.34, against $20.23 last year; of clothing per man per year, $14.52 against $12.66 last year; per capita, per year $120.91 against $128.18 last year; general expenditures $646,219.69 against $668,791.96 last year.

The minimum number of members present during the year was 4,379, on May 3 and 5. The maximum number present was 4,824, on February 28 and March 1. Minimum number present and absent 5,306, on May 3, 4, and 5, and June 3, 4, and 6; maximum number present and absent 5,642, on October 5.

LIBRARY.

During the year Mrs. Putnam has added 188 volumes to the "Putnam Library," and 224 volumes have been added to the "George H. Thomas Library," making the total number of volumes in the libraries 17,656.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

During the year a large commissary building has been erected directly north of and connected with the quarter-master building, with every convenience for handling supplies directly from the cars, including new track scales, thus doing away with the necessity for the use of teams in handling the freight. The second floor of this building is used for depot manufacturing purposes and storing depot goods. In September last the Dayton Natural Gas Company completed its line to the Home, since which time natural gas has been used entirely for fuel purposes, with marked success as regards comfort, cleanliness, and expense. It has also been mixed, in its natural state, with our manufactured gas for illuminating purposes, in the proportions of from 60 to 70 per cent. with good results, and thus enabling us to supply an abundance of light through the winter, which our gas plant has been unable to do for some time owing to its small capacity.

HEALTH.

The general health at the Branch has been good except that there were some five hundred cases of la grippe during the winter, only two of which, however, resulted fatally, and there have been no observable permanent bad effects following the disease.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the Branch has steadily improved throughout the year, there being greater contentment on the part of the men as the years go by. The beer hall has had another year's trial, and I have no hesitation in saying that its influence upon the Home has been beneficial. In answer to my recent inquiries on this subject the surgeon of the Branch, Dr. Patton, says :

I desire to reiterate an often expressed opinion, that the selling of beer in the camp has been a great advantage to the health of the members.

I feel that I can not close this report without referring to the great loss the Home has sustained, and the Central Branch in particular, by the death of Col. L. A. Harris, whose devotion to the interests of the old soldiers, and unremitting efforts in their behalf for twelve long years, words fail to reveal.

J. B. THOMAS,
Governor.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

The water supply is abundant for all purposes and the bathhouse still adequate for bathing purposes, but the question of the inadequacy of our sewage system is still a troublesome one.

There were 134,896 baths taken at the general bathhouse during the year.

The services of the English Protestant Church have been conducted as usual during the year. The chaplain, Rev. J. W. Lerch, officiated at 179 funerals. The Sunday afternoon German service has been regularly conducted by the Rev. E. Light.

The Woman's Christian Association of Dayton has held services on every alternate Sunday afternoon in the Home Chapel, immediately after the close of the German service, and on Tuesday of each week at the hospital.

The services of the Catholic Church have been conducted regularly by Rev. Dr. C. S. Kemper, Catholic chaplain, who has also officiated at seventy six funerals. Hospital visitations are regularly made by both Protestant and Catholic chaplains.

ANNUAL REPORT OF NORTHWESTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH,
NATIONAL HOME DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
Milwaukee, July 30, 1890.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this Branch for the year ending June 30, 1890:

The number cared for during the year was 2,981 as against 2,716 for 1889, and the average number present and absent for this year was 2,420 as against 2,164 for 1889. The maximum number present was 2,050, March 10, 1890; the minimum number present was 1,663, July 1, 1889.

We have erected a new chapel on the grounds at a cost of $10,000, which sum was paid from the post fund. Service is held twice a week by the Protestant chaplain, and Saturday afternoons and Sunday mornings by the Roman Catholic chaplain. We also have services semi-monthly in the German language by ministers from Milwaukee. The chapel is also used by other denominations and the Woman's Christian Union from time to time.

The amusements provided for in memorial hall covered several months, from November until May. We had a weekly entertainment at a cost of $2,796, paid from post fund. No admission is charged to the members of the Home.

Our band concerts in summer are given in the open air, and are attended by thousands of the best people of Milwaukee. In winter we have a concert every Sunday evening in memorial hall. Our library now has 5,686 volumes. The new smoking room has two billiard tables, two bagatelle tables, and card tables that will seat one hundred men. This room is occupied to its full extent every day in the year, from 8 o'clock a. m. to 8 p. m. The sale of beer in the Home, in my opinion, greatly tends to the advantage of the Branch and its members.

We have no restrictions on members of the Home leaving the grounds from sunrise until tattoo, and I find, by actual count, that there are within one mile of our grounds forty saloons, and within a radius of two and a half miles over seventy saloons. In many of these places the vilest decoctions are sold to our men. It is called whisky, but is simply poison.

I have for almost four years heard every case (except when absent or ill) in the guard house, and I have yet to find a case where drunkenness could be traced directly to the Home beer hall; of course men become under the influence of liquor there, but in every case that I have investigated I found that the man had been outside and drank something stronger than beer before he came into the ground. I shall refer to this subject again under hospital.

EXPENDITURES.

Current expenses.—The appropriation under this head was $26,788.88, expenditures $26,688.02, leaving a balance of $100.86.

Subsistence.—The appropriation was $103,516.99, expenditures $103,509.49, leaving $7.50.

Our table has been well supplied with everything that the market offered suitable for an institution like this. I have had no complaint as to quality and quantity, and our endeavor has been to get the best of everything at the lowest market value.

Major Rowley, the commissary of subsistence, has given his whole time and attention to this important part of the Home and with every success. The governor has also almost daily inspected the food and kitchen, and has certainly seen no cause for a reasonable complaint. The time is coming when it will be necessary to employ citizen cooks. The members of the Home are getting old and can not cook for 2,300 men in the time that the meals must be served.

Our kitchen and dining room are as complete as they can be made and we can have no trouble, with competent cooks, to supply meals of all the men that the Home can accommodate. Our new bakery is a great success and will compare favorably with any one in the country.

Crockery and cutlery are not of good quality.

Clothing.—The clothing, with exception of socks, has been of good quality. I would recommend a cotton sock instead of the woolen ones now issued. I think that at this Branch a dress coat should be issued every eighteen months instead of three years, as now. There are only two or three months in the the year when it is safe for our old men to wear the blouse.

By authority of the president of the Board of Managers straw hats were issued to impecunious members of the Home, paid for by post fund. All other members were allowed to buy them at the store at cost price, 30 cents. It has been quite a success in making the men look neat and soldierly, and I would suggest that a black felt hat be issued for winter, and a straw hat or helmet for summer, the cap still to be used for parade and occasions of ceremony.

Household.—Appropriation, $42,932.49; expenditures, $42,927.13. The great item under this head is fuel, the amount expended for this the past year being $26,917.10. I think if we could have all our boilers under one roof this cost would be materially reduced. Bedsteads and bedding and other articles furnished under this head are of good quality.

Hospital.—Appropriation, $18,156.72; expenditures, $18,156.52. I am greatly gratified to report that the death rate has been very materially reduced in the last year, it being 36.02 per 1,000 for whole number cared for this year as against 38.29 last year, and 48.63 for year ending June 30, 1888, and 51.71 for year ending June 30, 1887. Of course there must be some reason for this, and while I give full credit to the surgeon, Dr W. H. Leighton, and his assistants, Drs. McIlvain and Fuhrman, for their skill and attention to the men in hospital and general hygiene of the Home, I cannot help but ascribe a part of it to our sale of beer to the members of the Home.

The number treated at sick call shows a great decrease. Last year the number so treated was 1,491, this year 1,036. At the suggestion of Col. John L. Mitchell, local manager, the Board approved of the employment of woman nurses in the hospital, and I was authorized to make a contract with the Milwaukee Woman's Training School to employ ten nurses in the hospital. They came in the Home on May 15 and took charge of the nursing in the hospital. I believe this institution is the only one of the kind where female nurses are employed, and I am perfectly satisfied from personal examination and inspection that their services are, and will be, of great benefit to the Home.

I quote from the report of the surgeon, under date of July 18, in regard to the matter:

I also take great pleasure in adding that the women nurses are doing good and faithful work and are devoted to their duties.

Last winter we were overcrowded in both hospital and convalescent company; in fact, much of the time men were sleeping on the floor.

Undoubtedly the same condition to a greater extent will exist the coming winter. I am sure something to relieve the pressure ought to be done at once, and, therefore urgently recommend that an annex or extension to the hospital be made as soon as practicable.

Transportation.—Amount of appropriation, $3,991.78; amount expended, $3,417.03, leaving a balance of $574.75.

Many men seeking admission to the Home came directly and reported in person, thus saving the transportation to the Home.

Construction.—Amount appropriated, $20,664.03; amount expended, $19,714.78, leaving a balance of $949.54.

During the year we have built a smoking room, an addition to bakery, and a silo for farm, and from this fund have kept the general repairs to buildings, roads, etc.

For year ending June, 1891, I estimated for new boiler house, addition to electric plant, laundry, water supply, and steam heating in main building. I understand that Congress has allowed this, with exception of boiler house and electric light. I deem these very essential to the safety and comfort of the members of the Home, and trust that in another year the necessary funds may be supplied.

Our water supply has caused great uneasiness to me during the past year; one of our artesian wells gradually failing, until at the present time it hardly gives ten gallons a minute, and we have been compelled to put up a temporary boiler and pump on the flats below the Home. This is at best a makeshift and we are pushing ahead the city supply as fast as possible.

Farm.—The farm for the year has been successfully managed. Our silo, with a capacity of 600 tons of ensilage, was not completed until late in the fall, and we were enabled to fill it but about one-half with clover and corn; but this was of great assistance in feeding our cattle, as otherwise we should have been compelled to purchase hay, which would have been a very large item at the price it sold here last winter. We produced 32,263½ gallons of milk, which fully supplied our needs.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Our hospital facilities will have to be increased in the near future. When the hospital was built provision was made for this extension. I quote from report of the surgeon on this subject (see page 89).

I have placed a fire reel, with hose, on each floor in hospital and main building. This building should have an improved fire escape on the outside of the building. I would suggest the advisability of the board fixing a specified number of members present and absent for this Branch. I think if it was made 2,450 it would give us in winter in the neighborhood of 2,100, which is as many as can be comfortably cared for.

General Moore, the treasurer, acted as governor during my absence of two weeks, and discharged the duties to my entire satisfaction.

Col. John L. Mitchell, the local manager, has visited and inspected the Home several times each month during the last year, and by his presence and advice has very materially assisted in the administration of the Home.

As a whole, the numbers of the Home have been well behaved and required but little discipline to have them conform to all the rules and regulations.

The noncommissioned officers have discharged their respective duties with few exceptions to my entire satisfaction.

KILBURN KNOX,
Governor.

[Report of Roman Catholic chaplain, Rev. V. Putten.]

I have the honor to submit the following report of my work as chaplain of the Northwestern Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

Catholic services were held every Saturday evening and Sunday morning, also on holy days and the eves of them, and on a few other occasions. The attendance upon these services was very good, although not quite so large as the preceding year; some of the more infirm find it rather difficult to go to the chapel in bad weather.

The number of communions distributed during the year was about 4,200. The sacrament of penance was administered every Saturday and on the eves of feasts, from about 3.30 p. m. till 7.30 p. m.

Visits to the hospital were made twice a week and whenever requested. The convalescent and insane wards were also visited from time to time as occasion required it.

I have been called upon to officiate at forty-eight funeral services. On these occasions it is customary to give a brief instruction. I have also endeavored to promote the cause of temperance in various ways, especially by administering the total or partial abstinence pledge.

Generous contributions have been made for various charitable purposes, especially the Purgatorian Society, and the supplying of books and objects of devotion to the poor.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude for the constant courtesy and kindness I have received from all the officers and employes with whom I have come in contact.

[Secretary's Report of the German Ministers' Conference of Milwaukee.]

I have the honor to present the following report of our work in the Home, as ministers of the Gospel, for the time from April 1 to June 30, instant.

We have preached there every other Sunday at 4 p. m., in the months of April, May, and June.

The following ministers preached there the second quarter of the year, ending June 30:

April 13, H. Nott; April 27, J. Schafer; May 11, H. Noehren; May 25, H. Uphoff; June 8, W. Koch; June 22, H. L. Dietz.

The attendance is not as large as could be expected, considering the number of Germans that are in the Home; but those that come come regularly and are very attentive. We have done the work nearly five years without any compensation, which proves that we are convinced that the work we are doing is a necessary and a good one. Now and then we are visiting the sick in the hospital and distributing Christian literature among them.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SOCIETIES.

Veteran Post No. 8, Grand Army of the Republic, with a membership in good standing of 127, also a Veteran Naval association, have been kept up the past year by members of the home. Both of these organizations are a credit to the Home. They hold their meetings in a room set apart for that purpose.

ANNUAL REPORT OF EASTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, FOR YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

EASTERN BRANCH,
NATIONAL HOME DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
Togus, Me., July 28, 1890.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this Branch for the year ending June 30, 1890:

Members present June 30, 1889	1,407
Members present June 30, 1890	1,353
Members present and absent June 30, 1889	2,054
Members present and absent June 30, 1890	2,001
Decrease	53
Minimum number present June 26, 1890	1,346
Minimum number present and absent June 30, 1890	2,601
Maximum number present November 25, 1889	1,733
Maximum number present and absent November 1, 1889	2,192

The above statement shows a decrease in the membership during the year, but on the 25th of November, 1889, there was a larger number present than ever before since the Home was established. On that date 91 men were sleeping on the floors—every nook and corner being occupied—and the admission of new members was stopped on account of the lack of accommodations, although there were nearly 100 applications on file from veterans asking admission, some of whom were compelled to seek shelter in almshouses.

NEW STRUCTURES.

During the past year a handsome and convenient house has been erected for the use of the commissary of subsistence; also a building which is used for the railroad station and as a lunch room, which has long been needed at this Branch. The upper story furnishes quarters for the Home band. This building was paid for out of the store fund, the cost being $2,000. The lunch room is rented for a sum sufficient to pay a liberal interest on the entire cost.

A silo of the capacity of about 200 tons has been built in the farm yard, and its use during the winter proved it to be a success.

In the cemetery a monument has been erected, which adds very much to the beauty of the place. It is an obelisk, rising 31 feet from the ground with two bases and a shaft, the lower base being 10 feet and the upper 8 feet square. The monument is built of rough granite, laid in blocks, the material having been quarried on the grounds of the Home. Four tablets of polished granite bear the following inscriptions:

"Eastern Branch National Home For Disabled Volunteer Soldiers."

"Erected in memory of the soldiers and sailors who fought for the Union."

"War with Great Britain 1812-1815

War with Mexico 1847-1848.

War of the Rebellion 1861-1865."

"Erected A. D. 1889."

The monument is very handsome in its rough simplicity, and is a source of pride to the men, especially because the work was performed entirely by members of the Home.

HEALTH.

There has been quite an increase in the death rate during the past year, the ratio being increased 3.18 over last year and 8.09 above the rate for the year ending June 30, 1888. I quote from the report of Dr. Miller, surgeon of the Eastern Branch, whose statement, in a measure, explains this increase during the present year. He says:

Nothing unusual occurred until January, when "La Grippe" made its appearance among us—the first case occurring January 3, and the last case February 20, during which time a total of 364 cases were treated. But one death occurred from the disease itself, but since then we see its effects every day in that it has left the patients who were attacked by it in such an exhausted condition that other diseases that were latent have developed with fatal results. This has proved so in over 20 cases, the causes of death in these cases being paralysis, phthisis, pneumonia, and heart disease. Up to January the mortality of the Home was about equal to that of last year, but after that it increased quite rapidly, largely augmented by the cold, wet weather which extended through the months of March, April, and May. April alone furnished 15 deaths. During this period the hospital was overcrowded and in many cases the bed in which a man had died was hardly cool before we were compelled to put another sick man into it. This was decidedly depressing, to say nothing of the exhausted condition that the man might be in when received.

While the above statement in regard to the effects of the epidemic is undoubtedly true and the condition of our hospital accommodations is correctly stated, yet these reasons are not sufficient to account for the increased mortality during the year ending June 30, 1888, over the previous years. There is no change in the condition of the hospital, and the number of men accommodated in previous years was the same as at present, yet the mortality was much less. The reason for the increase during the last two years must be found, partially, in other causes.

THE SALE OF BEER.

The new building built for a beer saloon has now been occupied for more than a year, and I confess that, somewhat to my surprise, its use has not increased the amount of drunkenness, while it is more comfortable than the old place where no accommodations were provided in the form of tables and chairs for the men to use while imbibing their beer. I am requested to express my opinion as to whether the sale of beer tends to the advantage of the Branch and its members: The practice of selling beer to the members of the Home was, I think, first started at this Branch about sixteen years ago, long before I assumed the duties of governor, and I have no knowledge nor data which will enable me to make any accurate comparison between the two systems. There are many difficulties connected with the sale of beer, and the business is personally disagreeable to me. In many instances men would get intoxicated if allowed to purchase all they desired, and considerable judgment is required in limiting certain members in order that they may be kept from abusing their privileges. I am of the opinion that in a few cases the desire for stimulants is commenced or increased by the sale and use of beer; but it is useless to deny that a very large proportion of the veterans who seek the National Homes are men whose habits of using spirituous liquors are established and confirmed, and entire abstinence could be made possible only when it would be impossible for them to procure what their appetites craved.

Unfortunately, this is not the situation in Maine any more than in other parts of the country. There can be found, in the vicinity of the Home, numerous places where vile compounds are sold upon which men get intoxicated, and which are exceedingly deleterious in their effects upon the health of the unfortunates whose appetites control their better judgment.

It becomes, therefore, a choice between two evils, and I am convinced that the best course is for the Home to furnish a comparatively mild beverage to the men in the form of lager beer, than to discontinue the sale altogether, for unless very severe penalties were established in cases of intoxication, they would surely obtain stronger liquors and often use them to excess.

DISCIPLINE.

The conduct of the members shows a decided improvement on the creditable record of previous years. Only 321 arrests were made during the year, generally for drunkenness. Out of 2,431 men cared for, 2,078 committed no offense whatever, showing a general regard for the regulations of the Home and uniform good conduct of a large number of the members.

Respectfully submitted.

LUTHER STEPHENSON, JR.,
Governor.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

There has been no change since last report. The men are required to bathe regularly and the sewers are constantly cleaned and every precaution taken to guard against disease.

With permission received from the president of the Board of Managers I propose to enlarge and readjust our sewers during the present season as far as our means will allow. Some difficulty has been experienced during the past year in keeping the sewers in proper condition and the enlargement of the same will soon become a necessity. I deem it wise to make a beginning in this direction.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

The religious services during the year have been largely attended and considerable interest has been manifested. The value of these services can not be overestimated in the effects on the lives and conduct of the members who are interested in them.

Rev. Peter C. Bradley has faithfully served his people of the Catholic faith, and his work is heartily appreciated.

The following Protestant clergymen have officiated during the past year, viz: Rev. R. W. Jenkins, Orthodox; Rev. Allen E. Beeman, Episcopal; Rev. T. F. Jones, Methodist; Rev. R. A. Griffin, Unitarian.

Cutler Post, 48, department of Maine, Grand Army of the Republic, is the only society, and has a membership of 215, all in good standing.

Rev. Peter C. Bradley, Catholic chaplain, reports as follows:

"I have the honor to submit the following report as chaplain of the Eastern Branch, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

"Catholic services were held on every Sunday and on all the Holy days throughout the year. The attendance was always large, and consequently very encouraging.

"The sacrament of penance was administered on Saturdays. The number of communions given this year, about twelve hundred.

"It affords me great pleasure to here acknowledge the uniform kindness which I have received from all the officers in the discharge of my duties."

Rev. R. W. Jenkins, Protestant chaplain (Orthodox), reports as follows:

"I have the honor to submit the following report of my work as one of the chaplains of the Eastern Branch, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, during the year ending June 30, 1890.

"In connection with other Protestant clergymen I have held religious services and preached at the chapel at 3 p. m. These services have been held every Sunday afternoon through the year. The attendance has been very good. The men have earnestly participated in the responsive readings and in the singing.

"Several of the members of the Home have spoken to me of the comfort and inspiration derived from the ministrations of the different clergymen. At times I have used paintings to illustrate the sermons.

"Prayer meetings were held in the chapel twice a week for a few months.

"On two or three occasions I have made a general visitation of the hospital, going through all the wards and speaking to every patient.

"Special calls have been made on individuals whenever requested, and on a few without invitation, whom I thought needed attention.

"I have officiated at twelve funerals during the year. On such occasions it is my practice to read the Scriptures, speak a few words of comfort, and offer prayer. These duties have also been performed by the other clergymen associated with me in the chaplaincy as occasion demanded. I testify with pleasure to the uniform courtesy and kindness of all the officers of the Home in their treatment of me and their valuable assistance in the discharge of my duties."

In my last annual report I called attention to the crowded condition of the Home, and asked that an appropriation be recommended for the erection of a new barrack. As no appropriation has been made for this purpose, I have to renew my request therefor. Under the provisions of the new pension law, I anticipate a large influx of applicants for membership to the Home from those apprehending that such membership will enhance their claims of disability and greatly aid in the prosecution. Aside from this element, the natural increase to be expected for several future years, renders additional barrack room of the highest importance.

BREAKWATER.

My recommendation for extension and enlargement of breakwater and wharf having been favorably considered and appropriations for their construction made by Congress, the work on both will begin at the earliest possible date.

NEW DINING HALL.

Under the head of recommendations for needed construction, in my last report, attention was invited to the urgent necessity of a new dining hall capable of accommodating at two sittings all the members of the Home. The sum of $25,000 was asked for this building. Nine thousand dollars was formerly appropriated for the enlargement of the present contracted and unsuitable dining hall, which sum remains unexpended, it having been decided much better to use it on the proposed new one. At the time of making this report, the appropriation asked of the Congress now in session is still pending consideration and action. This, if allowed, as we anxiously expect, will enable the work of construction to begin during the present year.

PASS SYSTEM, AND SALE OF BEER IN THE HOME.

The system of daily passes during the past year has not differed materially from that of the several preceding. Six hundred and sixty-eight enjoy the meritorious privilege of standing passes, and 219 is the average number of weekly passes issued to those who obtain light jobs of work outside the Home, while the number of dailies is rarely less than 250.

The records of the provost sergeant's office show conclusively that on the days when no passes are issued (which for good reasons occasionally occur), the cases of drunkenness and consequent number of confinements in guard house are very much smaller than otherwise obtains, and this leads to an explanation of the causes.

The nationality character of this Home is, in the main, threefold, viz :

Native Americans.....	1,500
Germans.....	1,000
Irish.....	900
Various others.....	250

The foreign element thus comprises about two-thirds of the entire membership. These men, particularly the Germans, are great beer drinkers, accustomed to its liberal use from childhood, and to be deprived of it would cause widespread complaint and disaffection. Taking this and other views of the subject, some ten years ago the sale of beer, under proper restrictions and safeguards, was authorized and introduced in the Home, and has continued to the present.

Realizing the fact that a divided sentiment prevails in the minds of the public, touching the propriety of the sale of beer at the National Homes, I deem it proper and expedient at this time to show, both from observation and official records, some of the leading reasons why the Home interests can best be subserved by a continuance of such sales.

(1) In the interests of discipline and good order, in which every person connected with the Home is concerned and affected. Under the order from this office governing the sales to individuals, a maximum quantity is established; and those known to be unable to use the beverage without injury to themselves and annoyance to others, are prohibited from entering the saloon; thus intoxication, is absolutely prevented.

(2) The records prove that nearly every case of guardhouse confinement and flagrant violations of Home rules, is the consequence of whisky drinking in the saloons outside and within short distance of the Home.

(3) A large percentage of the members rarely ever leave the Home grounds; never apply for "passes." Now if this class of sober, quiet, good men should be deprived the privilege and convenience of the Home saloon, they would seek the resorts elsewhere, and unrestrained or unrestricted, the result would be either excessive beer or whisky drinking, and the various offenses and misdemeanors would soon follow. The greater part of them would be transformed from peaceable, respectful, and rule-observing members, to those of an entirely opposite class and character.

(4) To further illustrate this point: A few years since, at a time when our contract for beer was with Baltimore parties, by reason of a great storm endangering commerce by water the Baltimore boats were compelled to "lay up." During this period the supply of beer at the Home became exhausted, and the saloon was closed. The result was that the members were forced to obtain their favorite beverage outside the Home grounds. The applications for daily passes were increased at least 100 per cent. and the offense records show at that time a corresponding increase of arrests and confinements for drunkenness and other violations of the Home rules, consequent thereon.

(5) All the profits arising from such sales of beer at the Home go back to the members in the way of a good class of amusements, in the winter season theatricals, concerts, minstrels, etc., and in the summer baseball, and other outdoor sports.

From this fund is also expended that which we are not warranted in using from the regular Congressional appropriations, such as books, etc., for the library; music and musical instruments for the band, etc.

The fact remains, beyond fear of contravention, that under our safeguards and stringent rules, the sale of beer in this Home has reduced debauchery, sickness, and waste of money to a great extent, and that more money is now sent away to aid in the support of families than formerly.

CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.

Reference to the tabulated report of offenses committed attest the statement that the conduct of the men is generally good, but about thirty, or 1 per cent. of the entire membership, come under the head of "incurrigibles."

Intemperance, and the minor offenses growing therefrom, is the greatest evil here met. My long experience as governor of this Branch, in dealing with so large a number, emphasizes more strongly each passing year my convictions that punishment for such is to them most effectual (at the same time mild and humane), which restrains the liberty; thus for stated periods preventing their going outside the Home, and saving them from temptation in the many guises planned.

In conclusion, I have to express my sense of obligation to the official staff of this Branch for their untiring efforts and zeal in the promotion of the best interests of their respective departments, and for the harmonious support rendered me in all matters affecting the general welfare and prosperity of the Home.

Very respectfully,

P. T. WOODFIN,
Governor.

General M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Maj. S. K. Towle, surgeon, reports: "During the year covered by this report no acute diseases prevailed in this Home excepting epidemic influenza or la grippe.

"Of this disease occurred about 300 cases, from which no death directly resulted and but one death indirectly. One man coughed so severely from the bronchitis resulting from the influenza that a blood vessel in the lungs ruptured and he died from hemorrhage.

"Most of the cases were not severe, and were treated in quarters where they were kept strictly in bed with special diet from hospital kitchen, and special attendants were also employed.

"The fact that amongst the large number of feeble old men in this Home not one case of pneumonia has occurred, none of typhoid fever, and but two each of dysentery and erysipelas, proves beyond question a good sanitary condition during the year."

Rev. J. J. Gravatt, Protestant chaplain (Episcopal), reports: "During the past fiscal year I have held stated and regular service in the Home chapel, and have been pleased to note a growing attendance on the part of the members. The behavior and interest of the congregation are all that could be asked.

"It is my rule to visit the hospital once a week. The men seem to appreciate the kindly ministrations of the church. I also hold service in the hospital for the men who cannot get out. I have officiated in turn at the funerals from the Home. Am glad to refer to the improvement in the music at the regular service. The orchestra has been a great help, adding life and interest."

Rev. Charles D. Price, Protestant chaplain (Presbyterian), says: "The year which has just closed has witnessed the regular and stated performance of the duties of the chaplaincy, attended by the unflagging interest of the veterans, which has always proved an encouragement and inspiration to those to whom these sacred duties have been committed. The gospel has been preached, the sick have been visited, the dead buried with Christian ceremonies, and pious influences exerted. The good effect of these things can no more be questioned than the Divine promise.

"From the nature of the work it is not permitted those who conduct it to see the results as they are seen in regular churches; it is safe to say, however, that the chapel services, with their comparatively large attendance, is of untold value to the morale of the Home and a powerful coadjutor in the work of maintaining the order due in such an institution. There are no recommendations to be made which will increase the comfort either of chaplain or worshiper, for through the attention and courtesy of the management these things are punctiliously observed.

"A well appointed building, bright and attractive music, and a deportment on the part of the men to which none could take exception give to the members all the outward comfort and enjoyment of religious services that are to be found in any church in the land. The work is a great one, but one that has been blessed in the past and full of promise for the future.

"The infirmities of the souls and bodies of the men is alone a guaranty that the gospel of the Son of God can make this, their last encampment, the happiest and most peaceful of their lives."

Rev. A. B. Woodfin, Protestant chaplain (Baptist), reports:

"There is nothing of special interest to report in connection with the labors of the Protestant chaplains to the Home. The attendance upon the regular Sunday afternoon services has been uniformly good. The worshipers are usually very appreciative and responsive, and we have frequent encouragement to hope that our work is not in vain."

Rev. D. C. Hedrick, Protestant chaplain (Methodist), says:

"I held my first service in the Home chapel on the 23d of March, 1890. Have preached five times, attended eight prayer meetings and ten funerals, besides attending and assisting in several special services and visiting in the hospital. I never preached to a more attentive and respectful congregation, and trust the seed sown may prove abundant fruit."

134 NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

Rev. T. J. Mercer, Catholic chaplain, states: "The spiritual condition of the Catholic members of the Home is encouraging. Services were held each Sunday morning and twice a month on Saturdays; besides this, frequent calls and visits to the hospital. The attendance at services was good, and steadily increased during the year. The conduct of the men during services and their regular attendance are evidences that they appreciate the advantage afforded them.

"I would respectfully call your attention to the need of an organ or melodeon for the chapel. The instrument there at present has been in use a number of years, and is considerably the worse for the service it has seen. A good musical instrument would tend much to make the services more interesting to choir and congregation."

Under this head I have no report to make additional to those of the chaplains, simply adding that everything possible is being done to assist them in their work.

ANNUAL REPORT OF WESTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

WESTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME
DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
July 26, 1890.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this Branch for the year ending June 30, 1890:

GENERAL FUND.

The treasurer's report shows the average cost of rations per day per man as 15.3 cents, against 18 $\frac{3}{4}$ cents last year; of clothing per man per year \$10.79, against \$22.11 last year; per capita per year \$115.04, against \$150.70 last year; general expenditures \$255,848.34, against \$317,235.28 last year.

PENSION FUND.

The treasurer's report shows an increase of twelve pensioners over that of last year, but a large increase in the amount of pension money handled, due in a great measure to arrearages of pensions that were received and paid to the pensioners during this year. The amount paid families is largely in excess of last year.

POSTHUMOUS FUND.

This fund has gained $362.63 during the year.

POST FUND.

The treasurer's report shows a credit of $3,642.99, including stock on hand. It has furnished the Branch 431,350 vitrified brick and 5,726 lineal feet of vitrified curbing for roadways and sidewalks.

ADJUTANT'S REPORT.

Shows an increase in the "average present" and "average present and absent" of 227 and 279 respectively, and an increase of 23 in the average sick, which, as it bears a fair proportion to the increase in membership, is a favorable showing as regards health.

SUBSISTENCE.

A careful supervision is exercised over this Department to insure the use of the best articles of food and its proper preparation for the table.

EMPLOYMENT.

There has been an increase of 165 members on extra duty with pay over that of last year, owing to the large number employed in building the thousands of square yards of brick roadways and sidewalks, which are fully explained under the head of construction.

VISITORS.

The number of visitors this year were 56,770, excursions 41; an increase of nearly 25 per cent. over those of last year.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline at the Branch will compare favorably with that of any previous year.

Minimum present, July 4, 1889.....	1,677
Maximum present, December 14, 1889.....	2,047
Minimum present and absent, July 3, 1889.....	2,370
Maximum present and absent, December 1, 1889.....	2,535
Total number cared for during the year.....	3,104

Beer continues to be sold at the Branch with beneficial results both to the Branch and the members. The Home is benefited by having fewer protracted drunks to deal with, such as are sure to follow the use of poisonous liquors that are sold outside the Home grounds to those of the members who will get drunk on them, causing endless trouble to the Home and grievous suffering to the victims.

Personally I would wish that the necessity did not exist for the sale of beer at the Home. That we are confronted with that necessity has been demonstrated, not only at this Branch but at the other Branches of the National Home also. Many of those who compose the membership of the Home have, from various causes through life, contracted the habit of using stimulants. Old age and the accumulation of infirmities have rendered them powerless to withstand that habit, and confirms them in the belief that stimulants of some kind will ameliorate their sufferings. If not otherwise provided for they would use the villainous compounds called liquor that are surreptitiously sold in the vicinity of the Home. The Home has adopted the least of two evils and decided to furnish them as good an article of beer as could be obtained, which, under proper restrictions, might contribute to their health and comfort. It certainly appeared to be the best course when contrasted with the experience of the few who are incorrigible and will get drunk outside the Home grounds. They are frequently robbed, maltreated, and locked up in the city station-house, all of which is avoided by those who are satisfied with the beer at the Home.

We do not propose to make money at the expense of the health or morals of the members, but rather to meet their failing in regard to stimulants. The result has proved satisfactory.

The profits arising from the sale of beer are used as a post fund, under strict accountability, for the benefit of all in the Home, providing everything that does not come strictly under the head of maintenance, such as a good band that furnishes concerts six times a week; magazines and newspapers; replenishes the library; supplies chess, checkers, playing cards, dominoes, bowling alley, billiard tables, powder for salutes and morning and evening guns, and innumerable other means for the enjoyment and comfort of the members.

Considering the results that have followed the sale of beer on the Home grounds, I have no hesitation in saying that it has accomplished all that was expected of it by restraining the use of alcoholic liquors and contributing towards the health and contentment of the old men who are committed to the care of the National Home, besides benefiting the families of pensioners, as will be seen by reference to the pension fund account. Instead of spending their money in dissipation, pensioners have forwarded much larger sums to their families than during any previous year, being $68,008.16 this year against $20,916.48 last year; the number of pensioners this year 664, last year 652. In accordance with a rule at this branch, pensioners who have dependent families are required to send two-thirds of their pension money to them or leave the Home. They can easily spare that amount without any hardship to themselves, as the Home provides all that a man can desire in the way of food, clothing, and medical attendance.

CONSTRUCTION.

The following roadways and sidewalks have been constructed during the year, of vitrified brick made at the Branch: Roadway, 35,700 square feet; sidewalks, 5,655 square feet; and vitrified curbing, 3,731 linear feet.

The intention is that there shall be brick pavements between the barracks and on all approaches to the dining hall, all connecting with a continuous sidewalk, eight feet wide, along the whole line of barracks and to the hospital, also to all business portions of the camp, and a substantial double brick roadway through the grounds wherever it may be needed, furnishing a thoroughfare free from mud, water, and dust all the year round.

FARM.

The supply of vegetables and garden truck has been abundant, keeping the general table well supplied and contributing largely to the health of the members. The hay crop was not harvested up to the date of this report, owing to the lateness of the season. It would have added about $700 to the credit of farm account. Under this head I would respectfully mention the necessity of a suitable stable at this Branch. Our horses are as fine as any in the State, and should be protected from fire, windstorms, and heat by a substantial building. The present stable, formerly a cowhouse, is too suggestive of loss by fire to be allowed to stand much longer.

A conservatory is very much needed; in addition to the propagation of plants for farm use, flowers should be raised for beautifying the grounds and supplying the sick in the hospital; at present we have no facilities worth mentioning for either purpose; we do furnish both to a limited extent, but it is laboring under difficulties.

In closing this report it is my painful duty to chronicle the death of our beloved local manager, General John A. Martin, who died at Atchison, Kans., October 2, 1889, after a short illness. In his death this Branch lost an energetic and faithful friend, the country a patriot, a gallant soldier, and a citizen who had filled with honor and credit important positions, both State and national.

Very respectfully,

ANDREW J. SMITH,
Governor.

General M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

138 NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Members are required to bathe regularly once a week. There being an abundant supply of hot and cold water, both for lavatories and bath rooms, there is no excuse for uncleanness. As a rule the members need no urging to comply with the order.

Close attention is given to the barracks as to cleanliness and ventilation.

Our sewerage is perfect, the prominent location of the buildings aiding materially towards it.

The surgeon, Dr. J. L. Wever, referring to the death rate in his health report of 35.76 per thousand, says that, "considering the advanced age of so many of our members can not be considered large, and that none of these deaths can be traced to purely local causes."

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

The Protestant chaplain, the Rev. J. W. Gillespie, reports an increase in the attendance at the Sunday afternoon services, which have been held regularly throughout the year, has officiated at sixty-eight funerals and visited the hospital daily; that prayer meetings have been held twice each week, with a liberal attendance, and that the general moral tone of the Home has improved. He urges the necessity of a building exclusively for divine worship that would be easy of access to the old and crippled members, which I sincerely hope will receive favorable consideration.

The Catholic priest, the Rev. M. A. Finn, reports a good attendance at morning services. Mass, at 7 a. m., held regularly throughout the year, besides sacraments and other services pertaining to his church. Three solemn high masses were celebrated, the attendance on each occasion being about eight hundred; has visited the hospital regularly twice a week, and at other times when his services were required. Officiated at twenty-five funerals.

SOCIETIES.

Thomas Brennan Post No. 380, G. A. R., has weekly meetings, which are well attended; it is having a marked influence for good.

A Christian Temperance Union was formed during the year; its weekly meetings are liberally patronized, besides several social entertainments.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PACIFIC BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED
VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

PACIFIC BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
August 5, 1890.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the annual report of this branch for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

The following is a summary of the work of the year:

Steam heat and hot water for bathing purposes were introduced into the four barracks in good time to prevent any serious discomfort. There have been constructed sheds for coal, storage houses for oil and tools and for commissary supplies, a bakery, store, post office, and a library, which is also used for religious services, lectures, Grand Army of the Republic post meetings and entertainments, a deadhouse, pens and corrals for hogs, cows, and poultry. The only work given out was for the introduction of steam and for a cold storage building.

It would seem worthy of mention that in clearing out a well at the sycamore tree, under which all the laundry work for the Home, 68,000 pieces for the year, has been done, the water suddenly began to flow, and for many months we have had an artesian well of splendid water.

The water works have stood the test of water spouts and torrents such as had not been experienced in this region for over twenty years. Some injury was done to the cement work at the head works in the cañon, but by almost superhuman care and watchfulness on the part of the superintendent of construction connection was kept up, and the supply was never for a moment interrupted.

Had the proper debits and credits been given, there is no question that the farm would not only be shown to have been self-supporting, but also to have contributed very largely towards the support of the Home.

The truck garden, in charge of a member of the Home, and worked exclusively by members, although twice almost entirely washed away by the floods, is now in a most flourishing condition, insuring handsome future profits. It has already kept the hospital and the general mess supplied with many needed luxuries.

The work of beautifying the grounds has not been neglected. About 40,000 ornamental trees and nearly 2,000 fruit trees, including the choicest varieties of oranges, have been set out and are doing splendidly. Almost all of the trees and plants have been grown on the place, from the seed.

Although the beer hall at this branch was only opened on the fourth day of July of this year, an expression of my opinion having been called for by the president of the board of managers, I do not hesitate to state that already the good results have been so marked as to have attracted the attention of the citizens and officials of both Santa Monica and Los Angeles. On the fourth of July the beer was made free to all, from morning until night, without any restriction or surveillance. I merely appealed to the honor and good sense of the men. The result was most gratifying. There was no drunkenness on the place throughout the day, and not a man in the guard-house the next morning. There has also been a marked decrease in the number of passes. The men are cheerful and contented, preferring to remain on the place and sit in a pleasant arbor, with their glass of beer, pipe, and newspaper. During the month the arrests at the Home and in the town have been very few. The only dissatisfaction has been on the part of the proprietor of the "Blazing Stump," a disreputable saloon near the Home, which has given a great deal of trouble, but which is now for sale.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES TREICHEL,
Governor.

General M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

During the past winter the bath rooms of the barracks have been supplied with warm water and steam, and the members have complied with the prescribed regulations as to bathing. The erection of an oven has enabled the baker to furnish bread two or three days in advance of its consumption, and, therefore, of more wholesome quality. The addition of a cooling house has also conduced to the better preservation of fresh meat and milk during the warm season.

A large number of cases requiring treatment are owing to rheumatic complaints of various forms, and to meet these it is respectfully and earnestly suggested that in the erection of the contemplated hospital at this branch such arrangements be made as to permit construction of Turkish baths. Aside from being the most rational treatment for these rheumatic complaints, this would certainly eventually prove more economical than sending such cases to the Hot Springs.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

Since its completion the library building has been used for religious services, which have been held every Sunday, and with few exceptions twice a day, by various denominations; also for weekly prayer meetings. The John A. Martin Post, No. 153, which now has 48 members, holds its meetings there. The Home Dramatic Company also have regular weekly entertainments, which are very popular and give much pleasure.

ANNUAL REPORT OF MARION BRANCH NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED
VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

MARION BRANCH NATIONAL HOME
FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

Marion, Ind., September 19, 1890.

GENERAL: I have the honor herewith to hand you annual report of the Marion Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for the year ending June 30, 1890, with accompanying documents showing condition of the several departments. On May 3, 1889, by direction of Col. L. A. Harris, first vice president Board of Managers and acting president, in the absence of General W. B. Franklin, president, I took charge of the territory which had been selected and purchased for the site of the Marion Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers. The operations in clearing the land, making surveys, constructing topographical map, plans, and profiles for proposed sewer, water, and gas systems, locating general plan for building sites, excavating for six barracks and letting of contracts for same, have been subjects of report in detail during the period up to September, 1889, and need only be alluded to now.

On September 19, 1889, Col. E. F. Brown, Inspector-General, took charge of supervision of all contracts and work of all description. A detail of 41 men from the Central Branch were received here November 24, 1889, for purposes of the work going on.

were rapidly pushed forward, and in early spring two were ready for occupancy, but lacking at the time in complete water service. The buildings are of fine architecture, convenient, and admirably adapted to their purpose. By June 30, 1890, all six of the barracks were complete with exception of water service. March 15, 1890, by direction of General Franklin, president Board of Managers, I assumed command as acting governor. This may be regarded, I presume, as the date of officially opening this Branch, although individuals had been taken in for some time previous. On April 30, 1890, another draft of 100 men were sent here from the Central Branch. These, with the gradual accessions, singly or in small numbers, brought the membership up to the aggregate of 299 on June 30, 1890.

Hospital had to be established early and part of barrack No. 4 was used for that purpose. To-day all of it is found necessary. Not having any hospital corps at all, I had to do the best I could until Joseph R. Railing was sent from Central Branch, being an experienced man. As acting hospital steward he showed skill and capacity in getting matters into shape. On May 20, 1890, Dr. A. D. Kimball took charge as surgeon and the hospital can be stated as being in very satisfactory condition in all respects. I am informed by the surgeon that most cases of sickness are complicated with malaria, which accounts for the unusual number of cases at sick call. Unacclimated men are naturally the worse sufferers, but few escape the climatic effects entirely. This will be the chief trouble here until thorough drainage is secured, for which the location is admirably adapted, at not excessive cost.

The dining hall has been a temporary, insufficient, and not convenient building in any sense. Three tables have to be set at each meal, increasing labor and service, preventing meals being in best condition, and causing more or less annoyance. The ration cost was reduced from 23.54 cents per man at first to 19.62 cents when turned over to Captain Chapman as commissary of subsistence. I was entirely alone for some time with everything to attend to and I relied almost entirely upon my daughter Louise, for aid. She made out daily ration returns, saw to proper issue, superintended commissary department, cook house, and dining room, and to her care, previous training, and hard work is due entirely the good results.

Captain Chapman was appointed acting treasurer April 19, 1890, and reported for duty June 19, 1890. The breaking out of his old wound and the bad influence of the climate disabled him for a while, notwithstanding his efforts to keep up, and I was unwilling to burden him with increased duties until he had recovered a measure of health, however, willing to undertake them himself.

Farm.—The two farms were bought subject to owners' right in crops, and last season's results have been accounted for in previous reports. During all last winter rains were incessant; the place was a quagmire, and crop prospects were not promising. Hopes were almost destroyed of fall wheat by a sudden severe frost late in spring, succeeded by more continuous rains. Planting was extremely late for the same reasons. In the end, it can be stated, although not accounted for in this report, that crops on this territory turned out exceptionally good for the season, notwithstanding the long and severe drought immediately following the excessive rains. This farm was confessedly the best in this county this year by all odds, although not regarded as particularly good territory in itself. It was due to deep plowing, thorough working, judicious use of what manure we had, and careful and untiring tending during the critical season; in short, good farming. Mr. Unthank, the farmer, deserves commendation for what he has done.

Discipline in the camp is good. The bulk of the men are undoubtedly well disposed and obedient to rule. I believe, however, that I have had more than a fair proportion of bad characters. It is natural that drafts from other Branches should not be composed of selected good men, and equally natural for every one who has exhausted patience or committed serious offenses at older Branches should strike out for the new one. This camp has had considerable experience in that line and severe example has been necessary in several instances.

The matter of abuse of liquor among the men is a serious one. It gives rise to almost all the trouble in camp. The moment men get money, on pay day or pension day, leave is requested, which can not be denied, although it is a moral certainty that it will only lead to bad results in many cases. I am seriously of opinion that these periods are watched by numbers outside, who deliberately entice members to drink vile stuff, rob them of their money, and reduce them to a condition of physical helplessness or mental irresponsibility. I am inclined to believe it gets to be a traffic with conscienceless men. One particular feature of this matter seems to be that men will go back the next time to the same place where before they have been brutally treated, acknowledging their folly all the time. I discuss this at some length because it is a grave evil, and constantly recurring instances compel my attention to the fact and the possibility of some remedy. Moreover, it was a request of General John C. Black, Acting Local Manager Marion Branch, that I give this serious consideration.

The situation as it appears to me is this, viz, men can not be refused leave because they are known to have money. After passing the gates what is going to restrain them except self-control and self-respect? I have reasoned, argued, and used every incitement to better conduct, repeatedly. During the moment of repentance consent is the rule, but the repetition at next opportunity is anything but flattering or satisfactory. Probably this is an old story in the experience of the Home. My reasons for enlarging upon it have been given. I have not confidence enough in my own opinion to suggest the cure, but state the facts.

Quarters for officers are very limited. The only building on the grounds is an old farm house built over forty years since. Neither in size, condition, nor adaptability to the purposes can it be commended. The treasurer and surgeon both have to be provided with quarters in the town of Marion, 3½ miles away, and must drive in and out every day in all weather. This compels their absence during much of each twenty-four hours, when their services might be required, in addition to the expense to the Home.

Most sincerely,

A. F. DEVEREUX,
Acting Governor.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers N. H. D. V. S.,

REPORT
GENERAL WM. W. AVERELL, U. S. A.,

Assistant Inspector-General, N. H. D. V. S.,

TO

GENERAL WM. B. FRANKLIN

and Soldiers' Homes in States.*

INSPECTION OF SOLDIERS' HOMES.

HARTFORD, CONN., July 7, 1890.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers:

SIR; I have the honor to submit the following report of my inspection of all the branches of the National Home except the Pacific and Southern Branches, and of all the State Homes excepting that of California, made in accordance with your instructions of April 26, 1890. The financial statements obtained from the Branches of the National Home, consisting of a statement of the appropriations for the current quarter, the expenditures made, and balances available under each head on the date of inspection, were submitted to you personally on the 18th ultimo.

A second successive winter almost without snow had been remarkable for wide alternations of temperature, in which the durations of the freezing point were so brief that the country was left generally destitute of natural ice.

During the latter days of December, 1889, and the early part of January, 1890, all the Branches and State Homes inspected, excepting one, were suddenly invaded by a violent influenza popularly known as "la grippe." A table showing the date of its appearance at each Home, the number and percentage of members afflicted, the number of deaths resulting from it, and the date of its disappearance is herewith submitted. The opening of spring was nearly a month later than usual. On the 10th of May, in the evening, the air was filled with snow at the Central Branch, and throughout the Northwestern States the ground was covered with it on the same date. The first spring day in Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, was the 23d of May. These marked vicissitudes of weather and extensive climatic changes have been felt and noted at the various Homes, perhaps, more than elsewhere, on account of the general invalided condition of the members.

The most noteworthy observations made and reports received at the inspection of the Branches of the National Home were as follows:

CENTRAL BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, MAY 10, 1890.

LOCAL MANAGER.

Col. LEONARD A. HARRIS, Cincinnati, Ohio.

OFFICERS.

Col. J. B. THOMAS, Governor.
Maj. MILTON MCCOY, Treasurer.
Maj. M. F. WATSON, Secretary.
Capt. JUSTIN H. CHAPMAN, Commissary of Subsistence and Quartermaster
Maj. CARL BERLIN, Adjutant and Inspector.
Dr. F. H. PATTON, Surgeon.
Dr. ROBERT CAROTHERS,
Dr. CHARLES E. HERDLISKA, } Acting Assistant Surgeons.
Mrs. E. L. MILLER, Matron.
Rev. J. V. LERCH, Chaplain.

The records of this Branch show a net loss of 145 members since June 30, 1889, which is accounted for principally by transfers to the Marion Branch.

The greatest number, 4,911, was present February 28, 1890, and the least, 4,482, May 10, 1890.

The most noticeable improvement that has taken place at this Branch is the substitution of natural gas as a fuel instead of coal. It is used wherever coal was burned for making steam or cooking, and in all fire places. It is furnished by contract at a cost of $37,500 per annum. The absence of dust, litter, and noise was especially remarkable in the great boiler house, where perfect quiet and cleanliness prevails from pavement to roof. Where twenty-seven men were employed when coal was used, three firemen and two boiler cleaners are now doing all the work.

A reserve of 500 tons of coal is kept on hand with wheelbarrows loaded, and firing implements in readiness and good order to replace the gas at a moment's notice in case of its failure.

The company furnishing the natural gas contracts to pay the expenses incident to any intermission of its supply.

The natural gas is also used for illumination by mixing it with artificial gas, in the proportions of two of the former to one of the latter, and passing the mixture through a carburetter. The quantity of natural gas thus used daily for illumination in the Home is about 35,000 feet. Without the natural gas the capacity of the artificial-gas plant at the Home is not adequate to the demand for illuminating gas, the Home having outgrown it. It would not alone be sufficient to supply more than two-thirds of the demand in the winter.

The new commissary and quartermaster depot, 400 feet long, was completed with the exception of its interior finish. Its connections with the railway, and its exterior and interior arrangements for receiving, storing, and issuing supplies, either in bulk or in retail, are altogether admirable.

Its architectural appearance is pleasing and satisfactory, and its materials and construction show strength, durability, and an excellent and economical fitness of means to an end. All work upon or within the building had been stopped for want of funds. The old quartermaster building is being converted and adapted to the uses of the library and reading room, which when completed, as expected, by autumn, will greatly relieve the present office building of the enforced crowding of offices upon one floor, and permit the construction of much-needed safety vaults. This work is being done with the post fund.

The present baking house and kitchen of this Branch may be regarded as a lopsided building, the northern half of it being of modern construction, convenient, and easily ventilated and cleaned, while the southern half of the same structure is a cluster of inconvenient and badly ventilated rooms, difficult to keep clean, which might have answered their purposes at some earlier period of this Home, but are now out of place and obstructive.

The removal of the southern half and a reconstruction in harmony with the northern half would eliminate several causes of complaint and offense and improve the facilities for baking and cooking.

The most serious attention is demanded to the structure containing the carpenter and machine shop. Situated on the western side of the Home, besides being illy suited to its purposes and to the economical use of steam power, its contiguity and combustible character constitute a menace to the Home and the lives within it. Should these shops ever take fire during the prevalence of a west wind, it would be impossible to prevent a great conflagration, probably involving loss of life.

It would be easy to remove this obnoxious structure to a safe distance, where it might be converted into a useful barrack for disabled soldiers temporarily at the post. To replace the utilities of these shops a one-story brick pavilion, with metal roof, could be erected on the extension of the present laundry to the southwest and directly on the line of work of the engine, which will soon require resetting on account of insecure foundations, indicated by cracks. An easy corollary to these imminent perils and suggested improvements, not heretofore so apparent to me as they now are, is a consideration of the lack of fire escapes upon the wooden barracks.

The older barracks having three stories have only the flights of stairs at the rear end for exit. There is not much danger from taking fire internally, to be sure, yet they can not be regarded as exempt from danger where smoking is common, and the occupants are old and weak, and sometimes partly demented, but the greater peril would be found in a fire which might spread from the carpenter and machine shops or elsewhere on west side.

The stairway ends of the barracks would in such case be the first to ignite, and then there would be no escape for the feeble old men. Light verandas above the first and second stories, with one or more windows converted into doors, to each story, and with stairways between the verandas, and descending to the ground, similar to those upon the barracks of the Western Branch, would not only afford complete means of exit in case of fire but furnish comfortable promenades to the occupants in bad or uncertain weather. Their general architectural effect would also improve present appearances.

Next in importance to the safety of the population is a consideration of the means of disposing of the sewage of the Home, which is at present inadequate. As this subject is now receiving the attention of the president it is not necessary that I should say more than that I have gone over the line in present use and through which two powerful pumps operating under 100 pounds pressure are unable to force all the sewage over an elevation 165 feet above the sewage tanks, but also over the proposed line around the base of the hills to the present point of discharge into the Miami River. The proposed line is but 100 feet longer than the one in use, and the point of discharge being 200 feet 6 inches lower than the tanks in a distance of about 16,000 feet, gravity would replace the pumps and prevent the tanks from overflow.

The steam plant now used to actuate the pumps could be applied to the generation of electric energy to light the hospital buildings from which it is only 200 feet distant.

An inspection of quarters and of commissary and quartermaster's departments revealed the usual satisfactory conditions as to good order, cleanliness, and bountiful supplies of food and clothing, but no change as to the means of ventilation of barracks.

DEPOT.

The depot was closed, and of 319 employes all had been discharged but 14, the storekeeper, printers, carpenters, packers, and four clerks being retained. There was a large amount of cloth on hand, of which I was assured great care was taken to prevent injury from moths.

HOSPITALS.

The usual admirable administration was everywhere apparent, and the personal acquaintance of the surgeon with such a great number of patients was remarkable.

The surgeon reports that—

On the 19th of January, 1890, the assistant surgeon who attends the sick call in camp telephoned for assistance, as there was an immense number of members at the call. We found nearly two hundred suffering with similar symptoms, viz, pain in forehead, base of brain, and back, and general malaise ("la grippe").

The epidemic continued, with twenty or thirty new cases daily, for five or six days, and then began to subside. There were catarrhal symptoms in only a few cases. Not more than twenty cases were brought to hospital; the others recovered nicely in camp. Only one member died of "la grippe" uncomplicated, and he was just recovering from a debauch when attacked. One other is recorded as "la grippe," but he was so feeble from asthma and bronchitis when attacked that the gripe was only the "last straw." The deaths from lung disease were coincident and not a sequel to the disease.

He found the best result in phenacitine for relieving the pain, which appeared neurotic, but as this remedy could not be secured in sufficient quantity he depended largely on quinia and Dover. In about 10 per cent. of the cases debility and nervous prostration followed for two or three weeks. In all about 12 per cent. of the camp was attacked.

Average age of all who died since June 30, 1889, 65.4.

An incident concerning a soldier who died in this hospital since my last inspection is worthy of record. George Hammer, Fifty-second New York Infantry, a pensioner, who had lost a leg and had long been an inmate of the hospital, desired, as his life was drawing to a close, to leave some enduring expression of his gratitude for the kind care he had received here. His pension had been saved for him and amounted to about $1,500, and having no dependent kindred he, after conference with the governor and surgeon, determined to establish a fountain in front of the hospital. The Mott Iron Works, of New York, furnished it at a great reduction of price, in order to enable the soldier to carry out his wishes. About 200 feet in front of the hospital the post constructed an octagonal granite basin 30 feet in diameter, from the center of which rises the graceful fountain 24 feet high, with two basins supported by figures of appropriate designs, and surmounted by an uncommonly well-posed Undine. In operation it is a beautiful and refreshing object, especially to the sick.

The records of this Home show a net gain of only 17 since June 30, 1889.

The greatest number, 2,047, was present on December 14, 1889, and the least number, 1,677, on July 5, 1889.

An inspection of quarters showed a high degree of comfort and cleanliness. The woodwork of the barracks was being painted in pleasing colors. The offices and books exhibited a constant and strict attention to duty. All returns and statements were promptly rendered, and even the amount of clothing on hand was accurately shown, as follows:

This branch is suffering the want of a proper storehouse for clothing. The basements of two barracks are now used for the purpose, and being 5 feet below the surface of the ground are damp and unhealthy, all the clerks having been sick at times since their employment.

There is also a lack of light, artificial light being required nearly all the time, whilst a want of capacity and great inconveniences are experienced in airing stores, which is rendered the more necessary on account of the dampness.

The tailors' and shoemakers' shops alike situated have not enough light. Tarred paper, benzine spray, and camphor are used to prevent the ravages of moths.

It was reported to me that no clothing had been spoiled or damaged since my last inspection.

The commissary department had also been exempt from any damage to supplies. The cost of the rations uncooked was $15.32, cooked $16.22, not including the products of the farm. The baking room of this department is the only objectionable feature within it. It is too confined in a rear corner of the basement of the dining hall, and the heat within it is so great as to exhaust the workmen, necessitating frequent changes to the extent of four to six men monthly. If a new and adequate baking house were built the room now used could be occupied as a scullery.

The farm and garden were in promising condition, although the spring had been backward.

The most noticeable activity about the Home is the manufacture of brick, on account of the post fund.

The following is a statement of the assets and liabilities of the post fund brickyard, May 15, 1890:

Cost original brickyard plant	$21,242.48
Cost new kiln brickyard plant	3,368.79

The $6,000 will be paid in brick, the cost of which is stated will not be above $3,000.

There is reported a clear profit of from $4,000 to $4,500 each quarter on sales of beer and merchandise.

Three hundred and fifty feet of the street in front of Home and the driveways about the governor's house had been paved with brick. The curbs of the same material as the brick, made with four longitudinal conduits within them for electric wires, present a neat and substantial appearance.

There are nineteen valuable horses and six mules in the stables of this Branch, which are situated in a conspicuous position near the main avenue of approach upon ground abounding in springs which occasionally flood the floors and stalls. The stables are always damp, and two horses were sick with influenza.

In the upper story over the stables is the carpenter shop, full of highly combustible material, which if it ever takes fire will be liable to destroy the horses before the stables could be reached by any firemen. Altogether it affords unsightly, uncomfortable, and dangerous shelter for valuable animals.

HOSPITAL.

Some very satisfactory improvements have been made in and about the hospital. The dispensary and storeroom are in good order, but the inconvenient spiral stairway communicating between them has not been changed.

A supply room has been arranged in the basement, which is spacious, clean, and in perfect order. The account books therein of the treasurer and surgeon, and the systems of purchase and expenditure, are models of excellent administration. The kitchen has been improved and tastefully arranged and painted. A storehouse for coal has been built of brick, and the grounds in rear graded.

There have been altogether 57 cases of erysipelas treated in this hospital, besides several cases of cancer, requiring isolation and seclusion, for which no provision has been made. Machine fans are required in all the wards.

Rocking-chairs with high backs have been provided for the sick in this hospital, and afford great comfort with gentle exercise, and a rest for the head. An excellent and notable appliance here is a hospital stretcher on wheels with rubber tires, which can also be used to carry medicines and dressings to the surgeon's hand as he makes his rounds.

The surgeon reports that the date of first appearance of la grippe was January 12, 1890.

The hospital records show 79 cases of la grippe, but owing to the order which requires that a case can be diagnosed once only during a quarter, many more were treated who were on the sick report with other diagnoses, thus we fall far short of showing the true number treated for la grippe.

Percentage of number present at the Home who were afflicted, 4.43.

The symptoms were somewhat different in the different cases. The disease was usually ushered in with a chill, then followed pains of an indefinite character, some times all over the body, great lassitude, severe headache and fever, which was generally light in character. Other cases suffered with the lassitude or malaise, and the headache, but the disease seemed to attack principally the mucous membrane, and there was stomatitis, inflammation of the alimentary canal, and diarrhoea.

Still others were attacked in the nervous system, and some were even delirious with the headache, and others nervous symptoms. Some cases were complicated with pneumonia. In all cases great prostration followed the disease, and there are in hospital and convalescent wards cases that have been left so badly debilitated that we are still keeping them under treatment.

None died directly from the disease.

The date of the last case taken under treatment was March 4, 1890. However, as stated above, there are still some cases suffering from debility, the result of la grippe.

This Branch has had a net gain of 265 members since June 30, 1889. Its administration has undergone a notable improvement in every respect, excepting in its treasurer's department, of which a special report has been made to the president of the Board. The regular, simple, and comprehensive reports required by the governor, daily, of every function of the Branch, result in a good order and an attention to details by subordinates, which is everywhere apparent. The manner of alarming the members occupying the main building, in case of fire, by electric bells sounding on each floor, and the time required to vacate it, was exhibited to me without premonition, and showed that the members had been well instructed. This precautionary measure was vitally important on account of the lack of fire escapes upon the main building, which has but two iron ladders on its exterior, so placed and curved over cornices as to be useless to any persons not expert athletes. Three lines of balconies, of tasteful construction, with connecting stairways, would afford security to the inmates and not mar the appearance of the building.

CONSTRUCTION.

The handsome chapel of the Home is finished, and furnished seats for 600 persons.

Under the extension of the dining room has been completed a very large smoking room, furnished with billiard tables, card tables, and chairs, and its walls adorned with appropriate pictures.

An addition to the old bakery has been constructed, and now makes one of the finest baking houses in use. It is equipped with a new oven revolving upon a horizontal axis, within a large furnace, the heat of which is under complete control and has little or no waste. It was furnished by Ross, McMahon & Co., of Chicago, and will bake 192 four-pound loaves at a charge. The cost of this improvement, including the oven and all attachments, was not quite $1,800.

The fuel used is coke from the gas house, and costs $0.12 per day. A new mixer with a capacity for 6 barrels of flour has been added at a cost of $300. The power which actuates the oven and mixer is borrowed from the wood sawmill, and transmitted by rope belting about 100 feet. The temperature of the baking house is not influenced to any appreciable extent by the oven.

A broad balcony from which two stairways descend to the ground has been erected along the second story on the west side of Memorial Hall, and through two doorways from the auditorium to the balcony, the hall may be vacated in a few minutes independently of the usual exits.

The post fund store was found in excellent order, and its accounts are well kept. An account of every sale however small was made. The system of checks established in the beer hall seemed efficient. The sales of beer amount to over $100 daily.

COMMISSARY.

Some complaints had reached me that some articles of food were not well cooked, one of which was the corned beef. I therefore examined the food prepared for dinner and supper critically, and satisfied myself that there was not the slightest cause for complaint of the cooking, nor of the quality or quantity of the supplies. It might be quite likely that some of the oldest men, who have lost their teeth, find some difficulty in masticating the solid food furnished at meals. This may warrant the suggestion that an "Old Man's Ward," one story high, with kitchen and dining room for the preparation and serving of soft food with plenty of milk and mush diet would be an acceptable feature of all large homes. The members who should occupy such ward would not be sick enough to require hospital treatment, but whose age and infirmities would render them partially unable to care for themselves, and to enjoy the food of the ordinary dining hall.

WATER.

At the time of my inspection there was not enough water at this branch to last two hours in the emergency of a fire. The flow of both artesian wells was on May 26, 160 gallons per minute, or 230,400 gallons per 24 hours. The iron pipes in the wells have been in use about four years without renewal, and under the pressure to which they are subjected are liable to give way at any moment. The introduction of water from the city works, which is in progress, will relieve the apprehensions attending this situation.

HOSPITAL.

A new feature in the administration of the hospital had been in operation only ten days, but had already promised additional and important benefits and comforts to the sick. A contract had been made with a lady of Milwaukee for the services of ten women nurses, who had been in training under her patronage from eighteen months to two years at Milwaukee County Hospital, and at the Emergency and Elms Hospitals of the city, under a chief woman nurse, who was graduated at the Bellevue Hospital in New York City. The nurses were all unmarried, and lived at a house just outside the grounds, having their dinners provided at the hospital.

There are four wards, and during the day time there are two nurses, with one orderly to perform the menial labor on duty in each ward.

During the night, two nurses and one orderly are on duty in all the wards. The day nurses make verbal reports to the physicians in charge, and the night nurses report in writing, except in emergencies.

From conversations with the medical officers, and inquiries of some of the most intelligent patients, it was found marked improvements had already begun to appear; the men were more careful of their appearance, habits and conversation; they were more contented, knowing that certain help and skillful attendance was always at hand, and they were encouraged and sustained by the watchful nurses in the few activities and diversions left to them, and above all, reliable attention was paid to the temperature and ventilation, of such deep and immediate influence upon flickering lives.

On the part of the nurses, the only apprehension expressed was that the hospital would not afford the extent and variety of experience or training desired by them. This feeling will be modified or removed when the surgeon shall have established a clinical card for each patient under treatment, and shall permit or direct the observations of the nurses to be regularly recorded. The attention given by the nurses to the constant cleanliness and tidiness of the wards, and the cleansing and scalding of all utensils is a new feature. If the best clinical observations are desirable in these large hospitals, and without them the best results can not be reached, there should be one medical officer in charge, and on duty at all times.

The want of a passenger elevator in this hospital amounts to an affliction which should be remedied. A hospital stretcher mounted on rubber-tired wheels would be very useful. Two similar vehicles for carrying food to the considerable number of patients who can not go to the hospital dining room for their meals, are very much needed. This duty is now burdensome to the orderlies and nurses; with an elevator and proper vehicles it could be far better, more promptly, and easily performed. A small shaft through which soiled linen and clothing could be discharged from the upper wards to the basement would save trouble and time and avoid offense to some of the senses.

Eleven insane were transferred to the Government Insane Asylum at Washington on the 27th of May.

LA GRIPPE.

The surgeon reports that the date of first appearance of la grippe was January 1, 1890. The whole number afflicted 201, a percentage of 10 of number present at Home. Characteristics of disease, a very aggravated case of influenza, and the number who died from it, 1. The date of its disappearance was March 15, 1890.

EASTERN BRANCH NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, JUNE 15, 1890.

LOCAL MANAGER:

General THOMAS W. HYDE, Bath, Me.

OFFICERS:

General LUTHER STEPHENSON, jr., Governor.
Maj. JOHN D. ANDERSON, Treasurer.
Capt. AUG. I. SMITH, Commissary of Subsistence.
Dr. S. J. F. MILLER, Surgeon.
Dr. W. E. ELLWELL, Assistant Surgeon.

Admissions to this Branch were stopped from October 1, 1889, to May 25, 1890 (when orders were issued for the admission of 25 men), on account of want of appropriations for subsistence. Consequently there has been since June 30, 1889, a net loss of 38 in membership, of which 17 were transferred to the Government Insane Asylum.

NEW CONSTRUCTION.

The railway between the town of Gardiner and this Branch, 5 miles in length, has been graded, the ties and track laid, and will be ballasted and in working order by July 1, proximo. Its completion will relieve this Home of much difficulty and distress in transportation, and of the irksome feeling of remoteness and isolation which has lent some gloom to life within it. A new and handsome station house with lunchroom has been built at the Home terminus at a cost of $2,000 to the post fund. Its upper story furnishes well lighted and commodious quarters for the band. Platforms constructed by the Home, and switches by the railway company for the convenient reception of supplies are arranged.

A fine residence for the commissary of subsistence has been completed and furnished at a cost for building of $4,500, for furniture $800.

The treasurer's house has been repaired and unfinished rooms completed at a cost of $450, and refurnished at a cost of $1,000.

The drainage of Franklin Hall, and the included barracks, the guard house, restaurant, and surgeon's quarters, which formerly was discharged into an open ditch on the west side of the Home, has been changed to the main sewer, which empties into the creek on the east side. A suggestion of the governor, that by changing the course of the creek on the east side the outlet of the main sewer might be removed 1,500 feet farther away from the Home, seems worthy of careful consideration.

A minor improvement has been effected by obliterating the structure called a harness shop in my last report, and removing its contents and industry to the wheelwright shops, which, in turn, had been transferred to a small building formerly connected with the farmhouse.

In the steam plant, the jacket of the engine had been repaired and replaced, and the surface of visible pipes covered with new nonconducting materials. The steam pipes to the restaurant, surgeon's quarters, railway station, and guard house had been laid underground, inclosed with heavy cast-iron pipe of such dimensions as to contain 2-inch steam pipe, and 1½-inch return, and leaving some space within it. Stand pipes have been placed in all main buildings and hospitals with fire plugs and a sufficient quantity of hose attached. The steam plant and connections were in good order and the engine with its connections was in better condition than would be expected in its mean shelter, which is a rude and rough annex of studding and boards.

A trifling expenditure for construction with brick should enlarge it about 4 feet laterally, and double its extent across the main shops, which would then afford room also for an engineer's office. The space in the main machine shops now used by the engineer as an office could be converted into a suitable rendezvous for the hose company, where their uniforms and hose reel might be kept. By this arrangement some needed additional space could be gained for the machinist and plumber. The engineer represents that the present boiler feed-pump is too small to do the work required with economy, and that one a size larger would give much better results; that a duplex pump, size 7½ by 4½ by 10, would answer every purpose for several years to come, and that such can be bought in Boston for $275, and that the cost of material necessary to change the suction, discharge, etc., would amount to about $50 additional.

A silo of 200 tons capacity, 60 feet by 22 feet by 14 feet, was built last autumn, at a cost of $450, and used with complete satisfaction.

In the Sylvan cemetery on the westward hill, upon a solid foundation of masonry rising 5 feet above the ground, has been erected a granite obelisk with a lower base 10 feet square, upon which rests a second base 8 feet square, surmounted with a pyramid the apex of which is 32 feet 6 inches above the ground. Suitable tablets of polished granite are inscribed with legends, setting forth its purport to commemorate the dead of three wars.

Noting the building of two bridges over streams crossing the high way to Gardiner completes my inspection of the new constructions at the Branch since my last report.

The administration of this Branch is more satisfactory than it was last year. The restored health of the governor permits him to give his personal attention to details, and especially to the guard house and police records where he examines complaints when made and corrects irregularities.

TREASURER'S OFFICE.

All the accounts, except that of transportation, were posted to date, and the books, all new, under the supervision of the acting chief clerk, presented a highly commendable appearance.

QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

The storehouse for clothing at this branch is unfit for its purpose, being an unlined and unceiled shell of studding and boards with very rude facilities for storage, and without convenience for issues. It would answer for the rag depot, if removed to some less conspicuous position. The treasurer reports the condition of his clothing accounts as follows :

COMMISSARY DEPARTMENT.

The chief excellencies of the commissary department were its baked beans, which were furnished at two breakfasts a week, its selected corned beef, costing $3.20, and first-class Rio coffee, 20 cents, and not ground over forty-eight hours before using. The cost of the ration was running at date at about 13 cents on account of shortness of appropriations.

The average increase in number of members per day (over corresponding months last year) during nine months ending March 31, 1890, was 94, requiring an additional 25,756 rations, which, at 15 cents, would be $3,863.40. If same increase for April, May, and June added $1,283.10 the estimates would be overrun $5,146.56, hence the necessity for daily retrenchment. Yet no complaint was heard except a faint one about the quality of the tea, which, on examination, proved unfounded. The stores, kitchen, and dining room were all in excellent order.

HOSPITAL.

The ventilation of the wards was generally quite bad, otherwise as good order and cleanliness as the structural defects will admit prevailed. The outlying insane ward was found in a greatly improved condition, the cellar having been filled so that the nuisance of stagnant surface water beneath had been abated. The surgeon reports the date of first appearance of disease la grippe January 3, 1890. Whole number afflicted, 364; percentage of whole number present afflicted, 20 per cent. Characteristics of the disease: suddenness of invasion, nearly 100 cases being under treatment within the first 5 days. Epidemic in character rather than contagious. Development favored by unhygienic surroundings.

Symptoms: Usually ushered in with a chill, and sometimes slight nausea, soon followed by headache, pain in the back and limbs, with fever, sometimes reaching as high as 104-5 F., and in 80 per cent. of the cases distressing bronchial symptoms were present by the end of the second or beginning of the third day, consisting of a feeling of soreness and tightness across the chest, accompanied with a hard, dry cough, expectoration not being established unless stimulated by drugs for two or three days. The cough often lasted for two or three weeks, and with the great after depression common to all of the cases was the most persistent and troublesome feature of the disease in the majority of the cases. In not more than 5 per cent. of the cases was there any involvement of the nasal or pharyngeal mucous membrane. In about 15 per cent. the whole force of the disease seemed to expend itself upon the nervous system, the headache and pain in the back often being intense, and accompanied with high fever. Two of these patients suffered from paralysis. In one the muscles of the left side of the face and larynx were affected, rendering distinct articulation impossible, and in the other partial paraplegia existed for about two weeks. Both patients recovered from these symptoms.

There was one case of acute maniacal delirium lasting two weeks, with complete recovery. In a few cases intestinal colic with diarrhea was a complication. Four cases of pneumonia resulted from the disease, of which one was fatal. This was the only death in which la grippe was the sole cause. Two phthisical cases, and two cases of organic heart disease, in which death was imminent, were suddenly terminated by the onset of the disease. Many of the patients were left in a feeble and debilitated condition, and it is evident that the mortality for the year will be appreciably increased as a result of la grippe. Date of last case, February 20, 1890.

MARION BRANCH NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, NOVEMBER 8, 1890.

LOCAL MANAGER.

General J. C. BLACK, Chicago, Ill.

OFFICERS.

General ARTHUR T. DEVEREUX, Acting Governor.
Capt. JUSTIN H. CHAPMAN, Treasurer.
Dr. ABNER B. KIMBALL, Surgeon.
Mrs. MARY E. HAMSKER, Matron.

This new branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, the latest established, is building upon an old farm of 220 acres, situate on the Jonesborough and Marion turnpike, 3 miles south of the city of Marion. A horse railway has been constructed from the town to the Home, and sidings of a passing railway extend into the grounds, whereby materials for the construction of the Home and supplies for its occupants are conveniently delivered. The broad landscape is gently rolling, diversified with fine woodlands and large cultivated farms, through which the winding Mississinewa River finds its way, and lends the most pleasing feature to the surroundings of the Home where it bounds its grounds on the south side.

The plan of construction of this Home contemplated twelve barrack quarters, a hospital, dining hall, and the other buildings essential to a Soldiers' Home. Six of the barracks have been finished, and in their commodious dimensions, their admirable arrangements for light, heat, cleanliness, dormitory comfort, and convenient administration, approach a perfection of improvements dictated by long experience. These buildings are only two stories in height, with an attic, stone basements, with deep, dry cellars; upper structure of brick, trimmed with stone, with slate roofs. Each barrack is 178 feet in length, 52 feet wide in main or center section, and 27 feet outside measurement in the wings, which extend 34 feet from center section. Piazzas 10 feet wide extend along the front and around each end. The windows are large and well placed. Each wing has an upper and lower barrack room, holding 25 beds or quarters for 100 members in each building. There are 16 fireplaces in each barrack, 4 in the central or administration part, and 3 in each room. There is also one special ventilator in each room. Stoves are used in wash rooms. There are two Mott bath tubs, porcelain lined, in each barrack. Hot water is now furnished to barracks only two days in each week, but is believed sufficient to afford a bath to each member once a week. It was noticed that the sergeants of companies kept no bathing roster by which they might be assured of the regular bathing of the members.

The water supply is obtained from one driven well, 78 feet deep, over which, and 50 feet above the ground, stands a reservoir of 300 barrels capacity, into which it is pumped. Two additional wells are under contract to be driven, and connected with the reservoir. The water is considered good for all purposes, although impregnated with iron and sulphur. The clean slate roofs of the barracks present vast surfaces, untouched by smoke, and no means have been adopted for the collection and use of the rainfall upon them. The drainage of the Home, both surface and interior, is well established.

The fuel and lighting are supplied from a natural gas well on the grounds, free of cost to the Home, which was the chief consideration that led to its establishment here. The well, completed and furnished with a lock-valve, was presented to the Home by the citizens of Marion at a cost to the town of $1,400. It is 920 feet in depth—the first 220 feet were bored through drift, the next 300 feet through limestone, then 360 feet through shale and slate, and the last 20 feet into the Trenton limestone. The capacity of the well is 7,000,000 feet of gas daily. Its full pressure is 325 pounds per square inch, which in use for heating and lighting is reduced by gauges to 8 ounces per square inch. Fortunately, it is not odorless, but can be easily detected when escaping. No accidents or difficulties with it have been thus far experienced. Through ordinary burners for lighting, the flame flickers so as to make it trying to the eyes. One Wellsbach burner, however, furnished satisfactory light to a large room in the treasurer's offices.

For warming the barracks the three fireplaces in each room have been found sufficient. It is necessary to have a vessel partially filled with water near each fireplace, in order by evaporation to maintain the normal humidity of the air at the temperature of the room; otherwise the throat and lungs of the occupants become irritated, and wooden furniture shrinks.

From lack of proper offices, quarters, and buildings, the administration of the Home and its quartermaster, commissary, and medical departments are all suffering considerable embarrassment and discomfort.

A small old farmhouse, found on the place, affords totally inadequate residence and offices for the governor.

QUARTERMASTER AND COMMISSARY.

These departments are now compelled to use the cellars and attics of the barracks for storage.

A storehouse is contracted for at a cost of $9,057.76, to be done on or before September 15, 1891, for which excavation for foundation was already begun. The members were well clothed, and no complaint was heard, except a want of socks.

The contract for the building of a kitchen had also been made, to be done March 15, 1891, at a cost of $13,640.85. Its cellar walls and foundation were completed and the laying of brick begun. The appropriation, $15,000, had not been sufficient to build a mess hall also, which is imperatively needed. The members now dine in a rough shelter of boards and canvas, with a kitchen improvised largely with secondhand utensils, kettles, and range. The food was good and bountiful. The bread was made in Marion from flour made from wheat grown on the Home farm. In this eating place only 288 members can be seated at one time, and is remindful of a shelter in winter camp during the war.

In the household there was a lack of bedsteads, 78 men now sleeping on the floor. They had been ordered from the manufactory on October 15, ultimo, but had not yet been received. There was also a want of individual lockers in barracks, and extra clothing was stored in the attic in bundles and under the bedding. These had been ordered in Marion at $1.47 each, but no funds were yet provided for their purchase. There was nothing but a makeshift for a laundry. The building of one had been contracted for, to be done November 15, 1891, at a cost of $5,285.17, and the site had been selected.

Two additional barracks are under contract for building, at a cost of $44,599.99, to be completed, one on May 15, and the other on July 15, 1891. Excavation for foundations of one was completed, and the site for the other selected.

HOSPITAL.

One of the barracks is now occupied as a hospital, and had within it 56 sick.

The surgeon had no regular record books, although he reports they were ordered six months ago; that requisitions had been made and were recently repeated. Records of admissions and readmissions were made on improvised forms, from which transfers could be easily made to regular books when received, but there was accumulating embarrassment with his case book and other records. The building of a hospital is under contract, to be completed June 15, 1891, at a cost of $23,885.86.

FARM.

There are 160 acres tilled, upon which was raised this year 400 bushels of wheat, 1,200 bushels, by weight, of shelled corn, 600 bushels of potatoes, which were scarce in market at $1.17, 19,000 heads of cabbage, and a considerable quantity of small vegetables, and a plenty of cucumbers and lettuce. The farm turned into the commissary $400 worth of hogs.

This branch of the National Home was opened April 3, 1890. According to the morning report of the day of my inspection there were:

PACIFIC BRANCH NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, SANTA MONICA, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., NOVEM-BER 21, 1890.

LOCAL MANAGER :

Col. H. H. MARKHAM, Pasadena, Cal.

OFFICERS :

Col. CHARLES TREICHEL, Governor.

Maj. ADOLPH ERDMAN, Treasurer.

Dr. H. E. HASSE, Surgeon.

Three years ago there was no branch of the National Home west of the Rocky Mountains, and the State Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, in upper California, was filled to overflowing. Since that time a branch of the National Home has been established on the Pacific Slope, which on November 21, 1890, was caring for over six hundred impoverished and invalid volunteer soldiers, while the State Home of California has grown in capacity and membership.

From several inviting places along the Pacific coast, all surrounded with more or less favorable conditions, the Santa Monica Valley, in Los Angeles County, was chosen. It extends from Los Angeles 18 miles down to the ocean. The village of Santa Monica, a picturesque collection of villas, cottages, and shops, embowered in luxuriant growths of semi-tropical trees and plants, occupies the bluffs facing the bay at the lower end of the wide valley, and is connected with Los Angeles by a branch of the Southern Pacific Railway. Three miles to the eastward of the village, up the valley and on its northern slopes, the growing Home enjoys a landscape of incomparable beauty. A quadrant of its horizon rests upon the ocean between Point Dumas on the northwest and St. Vincent's Point in the southwest, and includes within its scope St. Nicholas and Santa Barbara Islands, 30 miles to seaward, and at evening it is filled with evervarying and enchanting sunset splendors. From Point Dumas start the foothills of mountainous ranges, which run behind the Home and fill the sky to the northward with bold serrated lines, which fade far away in the southeast. The foothills in the springtime are covered with a brilliant mantle of flowers, and at all seasons their warm and changing tints enhance the grandeur of the Sierra Madre chain behind them. Upon Mount Wilson, which towers in easy vision 8,000 feet above the sea, is building an observatory in which will be used the largest telescope yet made. Above and beyond in the faint sky-line may be seen the snowy summit of "Old Baldy" and other peaks, over 70 miles eastward.

Between the sea and the mountains to the southeast stretched a broad valley teeming with fruitful towns and haciendas of beautiful names bestowed by adventurous Spanish priests in days almost ancient, long before this dormant coast was awakened by the mighty energy of American development. In its landscape the grandest dimensions of nature are presented at once to the eye in inspiring contrasts. The soil is marvelously fertile, and the climate seems to one who has endured the blue rigors of the north like a golden and azure enchantment.

To the natural advantages which invited the selection of this site, was added the inducements proffered by distinguished citizens of Los Angeles County, which resulted in a presentation to the Home of 570 acres of land on which it is established.

The first plan of the Home embraced the design of building twenty-five pavilion barracks to accommodate 100 men each, or altogether 2,500 men, with the other essential buildings. The barracks were to be placed in echelon, opening out to the right and left from the center, where the dining hall was to be built.

Four of the barracks have been completed and occupied, and it is not probable that more than four more will be added. Each barrack is 207 feet long and 26 feet wide, of two stories, and has a piazza 12 feet wide along the front and around each end, with a short lap in the rear. It has a gabled center, in some doubled, and all are tastefully turreted, the turrets sustaining airy bell-shaped summits. The eaves are 34 feet high and the ridge 56 feet. The rooms are spacious and well furnished. There is one fireplace in each room, and ventilation is also otherwise provided. The ceilings are 13 feet 4 inches high. The attics, with their dormer windows affording a fine lookout, are pleasant quarters, although unfinished, and now largely occupied as dormitories. The individual lockers, made of redwood and resembling mahogany, are notably good furniture. There is only one bathroom on each floor, and they were not in good order, and no bathing roster was kept by the sergeants. During the dry season at this Home the bathing facilities should receive close attention. The barracks are warmed with steam and lighted with oil.

The Home was first occupied October 1, 1888, and before the barracks were completed the care of arriving members imposed a great strain upon the administration.

The first great need of the Home, and the one which awakened the gravest apprehensions, was the water supply. To meet this supreme necessity was the first step to be taken. The tireless energy and skillful exploitation of Col. E. F. Brown, the inspector-general, conquered all difficulties, and produced the most satisfactory results. A source was found 5 miles from the Home, in a cañon of the Sierra Madre range, from which water was brought by pipes to a well constructed service reservoir a mile in the rear, on an eminence sufficiently elevated to give a pressure of 60 pounds to the boiler house. The capacity of the service reservoir is 240,000 gallons. Near by this, a storage reservoir has been partially constructed by taking advantage of a very favorable configuration of the hills surrounding a natural basin, which will have, when completed, a capacity of 120,000,000 gallons. It may be finished in another year, if means be provided, and will be ample to supply all possible demands. Puddling materials are fortunately convenient and available on Home land. Another general service pipe from the reservoir to the Home will probably be required during the next summer, as the present and only one, of 4 inches, may be inadequate, and should any accident interrupt its service the Home would be embarrassed to an almost calamitous extent. The water is clear and pleasant to the taste, but is hard. Its analysis is as follows, viz:

	Grains per gallon.
Solid matter.....	79
Chlorine.....	2.5
Nitrates.....	3.1
Free ammonia.....	0.025
Albuminoid.....	0.046
Lime and magnesia.....	5

These quantities are within the limits of safety, indicating no excess of organic contamination though above the average of good potable waters, with the exception of the alkalies, which constitute the largest portion of the solids, and are present in rather too large quantity to render the water fit for drinking purposes. The water gives a decided alkaline reaction and taste. (Vide report of Wade & Wade, analytical chemists, Los Angeles.)

Scale forms rapidly in the flues of boilers to such an extent as to necessitate excessive firing, which strains and injures the boilers. It is proposed to use a water purifier to take the lime from the water, used in the boilers, at a cost of $250, and subject to a trial test of sixty days.

The boiler plant is in its infancy, but growing. There are two locomotive boilers, of 15 horse power, in use. A return flue boiler, of 50 horse power was expected to be put in place within ten days, to use crude petroleum as fuel, at a cost of $2.10 per barrel, and to effect a saving of 25 per cent. as against coal at $11 and $12 per ton. It was also expected that a saving of 50 per cent. in labor would be made. The coal used is called the Gallup, at $11, and the Wellington, at $12.

A condenser is imperatively needed to return water to the boilers, which would go far toward preventing the serious scaling of flues, which must occur when such fresh water is constantly used. Hot water for other purposes should be provided independently of this plant. A proposition has been made to put in a Rademacher patent condenser and heater, with a capacity of 125 horse power, for $500, on sixty days' trial.

The drainage and plumbing of the Home is complete and adequate for the present development, but difficulties are found with the barrack urinals, which become often choked with an alkaline deposit. It would seem that some sort of an acid drip or automatic acid flushing would prevent this affixture. The roof drainage is arranged to be carried off under the porches of the barracks, but not stored. There are fire plugs on the rear of each barrack, with hose attached; but they are too remote and inconvenient for quick work in the interior, with none but disabled soldiers to handle the hose. There should be standpipes inside, with attached hose on each floor and in the attic.

LAUNDRY.

The boiler plant having no engine, the laundry work is carried on by manual labor. Its operations take place at the foot of the slopes south of the Home, underneath the gnarled branches of a gigantic sycamore whose trunk is 6 feet in diameter, and under whose wide-spreading shade the legend runs that the good Father Junipero held mass for his mission in the earliest historical times of this region. Near by is an artesian well 90 feet deep, from which there is a daily flow of 5,000 to 7,000 gallons of excellent water. All the soap used in laundry work is made here from the waste grease of the kitchen. There is no laundry machinery, except some hand wringers and a mangle. The work is well done when the rain does not interfere with its operations. There is no building for the laundry excepting a small folding room.

Close by the laundry is a small barrack containing forty-six beds which was used to shelter the first arrivals at this home, and is now used to shelter the last arrivals or T. A. P's. It is clean and comfortable.

CLOTHING.

The supply of clothing was sufficient for five or six months, with the exception of No. 8 shoes. The repairing of shoes at the home shop enables members to use a pair over a year.

The storage for clothing is at present in the attic of Barrack B, and was in good order and showed care. The stock on hand was as follows:

Caps.....	140	Shirts, K. W.....	404
Great coats.....	370	Drawers, C. F.....	732
Dress coats.....	369	Socks.....	180
Blouses.....	219	Suspenders.....	374
Vests.....	541	Overalls.....	121
Trousers.....	443	Shirts, R. F.....	56
Shoes.....	540	Drawers, R. F.....	22
Shirts, D. F.....	70	Shirts, W. C.....	100

The books of the quartermaster's department were found complete, in good order, and well kept.

COMMISSARY.

The dining-room is a temporary building near the boiler house, at the eastern side of the barracks, wherein there are seats at one time for only 352 members, so that a large part of the tables require setting a second time. The food is bountiful and well prepared. There were complaints of the soup bowls, which are of copper tinned, because they are too hot to handle, the tin partially worn off of some, and they are of such a shape—being made with a platter bottom all in one piece—that they are cleaned with difficulty. Here the water exhibits its principal faults. It is so hard that unless soda be used with it, its cleaning usefulness is unsatisfactory.

The soup ladles and knives are also very badly worn, and should be condemned and replaced. Canoe-shaped, japanned bread trays were observed in use on the tables and approved. New copper soup and vegetable kettles are needed in the kitchen. The ruling prices of the leading articles of food were as follows, viz:

Beef.....	$4.50	Flour.....barrel..	$4.65
Beef, corned.....barrel..	13.00	Potatoes, Irish.....	1.30-2.00
Bacon.....	.13	Potatoes, sweet.....100 pounds..	.75
Ham.....	.15	Butter.....	.27½
Codfish.....	.08½	Sugar, granulated.....	.07

The cost of the ration was 28½ cents.

The storage for supplies in this department is too limited in space to admit of the good order and neatness which should be maintained. The oven used in the bakehouse is of the brick reverberatory kind, with a capacity for three hundred 2-pound 4-ounce loaves at a charge.

The account books were found complete and well kept, and the methods of purchase, inspection, and issue were regular and in accordance with regulations.

The stock of household supplies on hand was reported as follows, viz:

Bedsteads.....	6	Blankets, G. W.....	201
Mattresses, barrack.....	163	Blankets, white H.....	80
Mattresses, hospital.....	52	Sheets, linen.....	610
Pillows, cotton.....	96	Sheets, cotton.....	324
Pillow cases, linen.....	269	Counterpanes, linen.....	144
Pillow cases, cotton.....	144	Counterpanes, cotton.....	100

These are stored in the attic of barrack B, and well cared for.

SHOPS.

Carpenter.

Treasurer's office shows account of materials and labor expended up to September 1, 1890, and account of materials purchased, but not posted at all. In this shop, which was started May 8, 1890, books are kept showing expenditure of labor and materials to November 22, 1890, and receipts to October 30, 1890, posted to September 6, 1890. No account of materials received kept since October 30, 1890. Tickets of driver, similar to a bill of lading, kept and turned into treasurer. Journal of work done kept in good order, and the work is of a superior character. No inventory has ever been taken.

Harness.

Contains inventory of private and Home tools, but nothing else. Accounts in desultory fragments of expenditure of materials and labor from September 1, 1890, to November 21, 1890. Not posted, nor before to-day examined by treasurer. Shop too small—should be doubled in dimensions.

Tin.

This shop is in the same building with the plumber. The structure is 22 by 32 feet, of two stories and a basement. There is no power, except of hand or foot, used in any of the shops. This shop was not clean, and its account books, though not properly kept, made an intelligent showing of materials and labor expended from May 19, 1890, to November 21, 1890.

Blacksmith.

Its accounts were started May 9, 1890, and continued to June 1, 1890, showing disposition of materials and labor, but not of receipts. There is need here of a metal screen between the forge and the combustible sides of the building, as a precaution against fire. The shop is well equipped.

Paint.

Books show efforts of treasurer's clerk to show how the books should be kept, as the first two pages are in his handwriting. It exhibits expenditure of labor and materials to date, but nothing of receipts. The work is well done, but the shop is very small and inconvenient, being a low attic over the carpenter's shop.

Shoemaker.

Accounts show debits for labor and materials to September 30, 1890, and credits for repairs to August 31, 1890, not posted in treasurer's books. The shop is over the coal shed and is doing creditable work with one shoemaker.

Tailor.

Accounts show debits for labor only—no credits.

The shop accounts require thorough and complete regulation. The books of no two of them are alike in form or method. No inspection reports are made at this Branch except of subsistence stores. Bills of materials for the shops are marked O. K. by the person receiving them, and this is accepted as an inspection report, without further certificate.

OIL AND TOOLS.

The storehouse of the oil, tools, and powder used in morning and evening gun, has accounts showing receipts and issues. It is not as cleanly kept as it should be.

HOSPITAL.

The two lower rooms of the eastern barrack, or one nearest the present dining hall, are occupied by the hospital—one as sick ward, 22 beds, and the other, 24 beds, for convalescents, but they were found slightly mingled. The wards were clean, comfortable, and well-ventilated. The dispensary in the central part of the barrack was not in good order, nor as clean as it should be. The record books were found as follows, viz :

- I. Record of admissions and readmissions, not posted since April 30, 1890.
- II. Case book, posted to November 16, 1890.
- III. Record of convalescents, kept to January 2, 1890, not since; excuse, shifting of patients from one ward to another.
- IV. Record of treated at sick call, not kept since July; men counted every ten days.
- V. Record of deaths and causes; incomplete; kept in a small pocketbook; disposition of body not stated.
- VI. Morning report shows brief diagnosis and treatment.
- VII. Ration book—no proper one.
- VIII. Record of medical supplies received—none.
- IX. Journal of medical supplies—none.
- X. Time book of employés—irregularly kept, and since November 14, one week, not kept at all.

It is believed that an improvement in the keeping of these records will be immediately made. The surgeon reports, regarding the "grippe," as follows:

PACIFIC BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, November 21, 1890.

General WM. W. AVERELL, U. S. A.,
Assistant Inspector-General, N. H. D. V. S.

SIR: In accordance with your directions to prepare a report upon the epidemic la grippe, as it appeared at this Branch, I have the honor to submit the following statement:

The first case of epidemic influenza appeared at this Branch on January 21, 1890, and until its disappearance, about the middle of March following, seven members in all came under treatment, with six recoveries, one terminating fatally. In its manifestations, the disease differed mainly from an ordinary bronchial catarrh of the spring months, by the greater severity of general constitutional symptoms, as muscular weakness and bodily prostration, following the subsidence of the bronchial affection. The fatal case was in that of a pronounced locomotor ataxia in the paralytic stage, admitted to hospital September 18, 1889. In this, the epidemic bronchial affection appeared March 3, and death ensued on the 16th of that month from heart failure, induced by the preëxisting advanced spinal-disease. The other six cases of la grippe offered no marked complications other than the prostration remaining during convalescence from the affection of the respiratory organs, to be explained by the depressing influence of the disease upon the nervous system.

Preceding the outbreak of marked epidemic influenza, during its prevalence, and for several weeks after its subsidence, there occurred a number of cases of less severity, but probably caused by the same epidemic influence; these were neuralgias of the fifth cranial nerve, mostly of its superior vital branch, often obstinate and requiring energetic treatment, and milder catarrhal affections of the respiratory tract, which at other times would be called ordinary colds.

The treatment in cases of la grippe, aside from meeting the local indications given by cough and bronchial tenderness, was mainly tonic, and sustaining by the use of the preparations of Peruvian bark, strychnine, and alcoholic stimulants.

Very respectfully,

Dr. H. E. HASSE.

There have been only 47 deaths at the Home since it was occupied. The cemetery is upon an elevated plateau nearly half a mile north of the Home. The coffin cases, made at the Home, are completely covered with No. 27 sheet iron, to defend them from the attacks of burrowing animals.

FARM.

There are 200 acres under cultivation, upon a portion of which there is a flourishing orchard, containing the following varieties of fruit trees, viz :

Walnuts	217	Oranges	450
Figs	231	Lemons	250
Peaches	151
Apples	123	Total	1,560
Pears	138

Some of the fig trees have borne fruit this, their first year. There have been raised this year of cereals, 3,000 bushels of corn, and 200 tons of barley and oats, the latter two being cut for long forage. There were 8 acres of Irish potatoes, 2 acres of onions, and 1 of beets. There are kept 19 horses, 10 cows, 1 bull, and 150 hogs.

The buildings are a barn and stables in fair order, but not the best, tool houses, corn crib, cow pens, and poultry yards, the use of which has shown their value. Irrigation is necessary during the dry season.

Separate quarters and mess room are required by the teamsters and men employed upon the farm, to save the time now wasted in going to and from their meals. When the storage reservoir is completed, and a reliable supply of water for irrigation is stored, the farm will become a more valuable auxiliary to this Home.

The Home grounds on the west, south, and a portion of the north sides have been bordered with a wide setting of eucalyptus, pepper, California pine, and other ornamental trees. The grounds about the barracks and the officers' quarters have also been embellished with trees, plants, and shrubs; altogether 45,000 trees and shrubs have been set out this year. The rapidity of the growth of trees in this soil is almost incredible. An eucalyptus about 8 inches high and the size of a lead pencil, when set out in May, was, on the 22d of November following, over 6 feet high, and measured 5 inches around its trunk 6 inches above the ground. In three years these barren slopes of a year ago will begin to rejoice in groves and woodlands.

ADMINISTRATION.

The growth and development of this Home have been unquestionably vigorous and economical. The main object—the comfort and well-being of its beneficiaries—has been successfully attained. If an abundance of food well cooked, clean and comfortable clothing, spacious and well ventilated dormitories, medical attendance when needed, regular religious ministrations, a reading room, with books, newspapers, and magazines, even amusements and recreations, within daily view of the largest life in nature, can not bring reasonable content to the members of this Home, then life is mostly wasted in them, and they are as contented and happy as men can be who have quitted all other lives but their own. After careful inquiry and investigation among the members, some of whom I had known in former years, it may be stated with a knowledge of the truth that the percentage of malcontents in this Home is smaller than in several others. But being a new feature in a country unused to soldiers' homes, a discontented or unruly man can for a time easily abuse the confidence of sympathetic people, and give rise to unjust criticism of the Home and its administration.

On the 21st of November, 1890, the morning report showed—

Present for duty	356
On extra duty	163
Sick	37
In arrest.....	6
	—	562
Absent with leave.....	71
Absent without leave	5
	—	76
Total present and absent		638

The record books in the governor's office were all well kept and in excellent order, excepting one, which had not yet been opened, viz, the schedule of property in charge of the governor. This will be at once supplied. No passes are issued at this Home, except for an absence over night, and none to exceed ten days. The members enjoy full liberty to go and come during the day, and there is very little abuse of the privilege.

The index methods in the governor's office were so good that upon test the papers and full record of any member whose name was selected at random could be brought out and shown within one minute. Governor attends guardhouse every morning at 8 o'clock.

The treasurer's records and account books were complete, and posted to date, with the exception of shop accounts. His exhibit of the condition of the several funds for which he is responsible has been submitted to the president of the Board of Managers.

PENSIONS.

There are 169 pensioners in this Home, and the total amount of their pensions for the previous quarter was $4,359.

POST FUND.

The post fund amounted to $1,402.74. The store and beer hall were found in good order, and conducted in accordance with regulations. Council of administration fixes prices; sales' books are kept; inventories taken quarterly, and kept in treasurer's office. No cash is received in either store or beer hall. All payments are made with metallic checks, obtained of the quartermaster's sergeant, upon governor's written order, with cash by members and regular employés, by those on the payrolls with order of treasurer, and by pensioners after regular quarterly muster day.

There were 195 men, including 23 civilians, employed on extra duty at the Home, at an expense for wages per month of $2,499.55, which do not agree with number reported on extra duty in the morning report. They were employed as follows, viz :

Current expenses.....	34	Construction	39
Subsistence.....	24	Farm and park	41
Clothing	2
Household	35	Total	195
Hospital	20

BUILDING.

Contracts have been let for the construction of a dining-hall, hospital, barrack, memorial hall, and administration building, which, when completed, will greatly add to the capacity, comfort, and ease of administration of the Home.

Measures have also been adopted for the extension of the horse railway from Santa Monica to convenient points within the Home grounds.

SOLDIERS' HOMES IN STATES.

The population of the Soldiers' Homes in States entitled to the aid provided by Congress, according to their morning reports on the dates of inspection, the net gains or losses of same since June 30, 1889, the whole number cared for, the average age of members of June 30, 1890, the changes showing fluctuations in population, and the number of pensioners and the amount of their pensions, were ascertained to be as follows, viz:

The above aggregate shows that more than one thousand disabled volunteer soldiers have been admitted to these State Homes since June 30, 1889, or that their population has increased over 23 per cent.; that the number sick, 13.30 per cent. as against 12.39 per cent. during the previous year is nearly 1 in 100 higher. The difference between the aggregates of the greatest and least numbers present in the Homes during the year was about 1,500, the least number being present in July 1889, and the greatest during the later winter months.

The average age of the members has fallen from 58 to 56.7, which may be attributed in part to the trying weather conditions of the past year, and partly to the inaccurate computation of ages from the discharge papers of members of the Homes.

The average age at death, 62.5 years, seems to remain thus far constant.

There were 1,425 pensioners in these Homes, who were receiving about $80,000 per annum from the General Government.

The developments of construction, the expenditures for maintenance, and the elaboration of means and methods to increase the economy of these Homes, and the well-being of their members during the past year were noted as follows, viz :

PENNSYLVANIA HOME, ERIE, MAY 8, 1890.

OFFICERS.

Maj. W. W. TYSON, Commander.
Capt. NOAH W. LOWELL, Quartermaster.
Lieut. WILLIAM MCGRAW, Adjutant.
Dr. SAMUEL F. CHAPIN, Surgeon.
Mr. W. W. THOMAS, Engineer.

The State appropriation for maintenance, beginning May 31, 1889, and terminating May 31, 1891, was $100,000.

The grounds about the Home have been graded and improved in a variety of ways. Sixteen acres of marshland have been filled and prepared for cultivation. The lowlands have been defended from encroachments of the lake by hedges of willows. Four hundred larch and linden trees and a large number of fruit trees have been set out, about 600 square yards of newly constructed hydraulic-cement walks are shaded with 50 large maples also newly set. Upon the lawn in front the shapes of the different corps badges are delineated in flowers.

The corridor, 140 by 12 by 20 feet, connecting the main building with the hospital, has been finished and lined with a splendid array of plants and flowers.

It and the cold frames near by contain 12,000 plants.

Five civilians, 1 assistant engineer, 1 farmer, and 3 nurses are employed. Detailed home labor is paid $3 or $4 per month.

A brick chapel and amusement hall 85 feet 6 inches by 46 feet, with a seating capacity for 700, has been designed and contracted for; also a pavilion 16 by 32 feet near Lake Erie.

QUARTERMASTER.

The value of clothing in store was $3,552.78, none spoiled. Worn-out clothing is made into rag carpets and mops, and scraps sold.

Cost of clothing per man per annum $23.40.

COMMISSARY.

Three hundred tons of ice on hand, gathered from the lake at a cost of $1 per ton. Its cost last year was but 51 cents; the railway charges for transportation made the difference.

Two months' supply of stores generally kept on hand, such as flour, coffee, sugar, tea, codfish, rice, sirup, rolled oats, and wheat, and spices. No spoiled stores; waste goes to the pigs on the farm.

The average cost of uncooked ration, 12.6 cents.

The average cost of ration on table, 14.2 cents.

HOSPITAL.

The new hospital is completed and occupied, although to finish it properly its walls, ceiling, and woodwork require painting, which has been contracted for. The surgeon reports that the first case of la grippe appeared January 24, 1890; that 101 were afflicted, 52 in one day; characteristics: break-bone fever and prostration, with more or less congestion of lungs; one case complicated with pneumonia; none died; not contagious, but epidemic; last case February 19, 1890.

Honorably discharged members of the National Home are admitted to the Home on application through board of trustees.

A promising band of music of twelve pieces has been organized and contributes to the entertainment of the members. It is difficult to discover wherein the cleanliness and good order of this Home could be improved or the comfort and contentment of its members increased.

The new construction at this Home during the past year has been—

(1) An "old men's" cottage, 160 by 24 feet, one story high, with cellar and stone basement, surmounted with brick walls, steel-shingle roof, fireproof. The two wards, each accommodating 30 beds, are separated by a spacious hall and four rooms for attendants and stores. A wing to the rear at each end contains a sitting and reading room, with baths and closets in the extreme rear end.

The central projections to the rear holds the dining and service rooms and the kitchen.

Each ward has a ventilating shaft in the center, with fireplaces in two opposite sides and ventilating registers in the alternate sides. A portico, 10 feet wide, covering the front, completes the building, the cost of which, including the furniture ready for occupation, was $12,000. This building, so essential to the comfort of feeble old men requiring special diet, who are not sick enough to go in hospital and not quite strong enough to be trusted entirely with their own care, is an adaptation of the New Jersey pavilion, with such modifications as experience has suggested.

(2) A brick barn, stable, and carriage house combined, with metal roof, quite convenient and commodious, at a cost of $3,400.

(3) A carpenter and machine shop of stone at a cost of $1,600.

(4) A cold-storage house of stone, double, one side for meats and the other for sundries, metal roof, cost $2,000.

(5) Soap manufactory near boiler plant, of masonry and metal, fire-proof, wherein soap is manufactured at one-third cost of same when purchased. One ton per quarter used.

(6) A sodded fieldwork has been erected, wherein are four guns mounted in barbette.

Four thousand three hundred dollars have been expended in miscellaneous repairs and improvements, $2,000 on roads, walks, and improvements of grounds, and $500 for additional books in library.

A general inspection of buildings and grounds reveals the singular fact that there is no rear anywhere; that it is front all around; no hiding place for garbage and waste, which disappears daily as the sun rises. Neat ladders hung upon hooks fastened to the back of each building is the only positive indication of a rear. These ladders are ready in case of fire to reach the balconies.

QUARTERMASTER.

The value of quartermaster stores on hand $2,500, and nothing spoiled. The trousers of the members are being changed from light blue to dark blue, and for summer wear a flannel is used, which makes the trousers more comfortable for this climate, and at a cost in Quincy of only $2.50.

Blouse.....	$3.25
Vest.....	1.60
Well-fitting Denham overshirts, with turn-down collar58
Drawers (canton flannel).....	.33
Rockford (Ill.) Company cotton socks09
Carpet slippers for old men35
Black felt wool hats, soft crown, stiff-rolled brim (serviceable)66

COMMISSARY.

Value of commissary stores on hand $3,500, and none spoiled. The uncooked ration costs from 13 to 14 cents, and about 2 cents is added for cooking and placing it on table.

HOSPITAL.

It is impossible to find a cleaner hospital. No sick man could wish for more satisfying surroundings than its five wards afford. Its ventilation is perfect, its flooding light is softened by agreeable shades, its ceilings are tinted with a delicate blue, and the attractive patch-quilt spreads upon the beds produce a pleasing effect. Each bed is provided with a comfortable rocking-chair, which contributes greatly to the comfort of the patients.

The necessity for an isolation ward is becoming apparent here, as in all large homes, as it would be hazardous to undertake surgical operations in the same wards or buildings wherein patients are suffering with erysipelas. A morgue is also lacking at this Home.

The surgeon reports that the first case of la grippe appeared December 25, 1889, and its disappearance at February 15, 1890. There were 6 deaths, hastened from other causes complicated with this disease, but none from it alone.

NEBRASKA HOME, GRAND ISLAND, MAY 20, 1890.

OFFICERS:

Col. W. C. HENRY, Commandant.
Lient. W. H. WESLEY, Adjutant.
Lient. N. H. HURFORD, Quartermaster.
Dr. M. J. GAHAN, Surgeon.
Mrs. M. E. HURFORD, Matron.

No appropriations by the State have been made since my last report, and none can be made until March, 1891. No financial statement has been made by the commandant of this Home, and forwarded to the president of the board of managers Nebraska Home Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the reason that the cost of maintenance is applied to provision for men, women, and children in common, and the officials have not thus far been able to separate the cost of the maintenance of the men from that of the others. This is not difficult with the clothing account, but with subsistence it is especially so, and under the head of household, when the new furniture for the cottages is considered, which women and children use with the husbands and fathers, no rule is easy to establish for a division of cost between them. The children are of all ages below fifteen years. Some have been born here. Great difficulties and embarrassments were experienced whilst the beneficiaries and all the industries of the Home were confined to the one main building, which culminated in various irregularities and disorders, resulting in a change of commandants.

The additional construction as projected in my last report proceeded under the direction of the new commandant with great energy. A new hospital 120 by 20 feet, with a dome over the central part, and a wing 45 by 20 feet, extending to the rear end of the center, was built and occupied by the sick. Each wing has ample room for the 12 beds it contains. Underneath the dome are three rooms, which narrow the hall to inconvenience, and renders the dome useless except as an external ornament. Necessity for an extension of the wings will shortly be found when the water-closets, which now open directly off the wards at the ends, may be differently arranged, with isolating vestibules or corridors between them and the wards.

The dining room and kitchen are in the central projection to the rear.

Seven double cottages, costing $824 each, have been built along a street laid out on the prairie some 300 yards west of the main building. These accommodate 14 families.

A comfortable cottage residence for the commandant at the head of the same street furnishes a home for him and his family.

A boiler house, 84 by 20 feet, a hundred feet to the rear of the main building, holds in one-half of it a pair of boilers of 25 and 40 horse power, respectively, and a pump. The latter, with a pressure of 20 pounds, lifts 250 barrels of water per hour from an inexhaustible well 30 feet deep to a tank 54 feet high, and of a capacity of 512 barrels.

A well-equipped laundry occupies the other part of the boiler-house building.

The dispersion of the sick, the families, and the machinery from the main building has rendered comfort, regularity, and discipline possible within this Home, and a future of beneficent usefulness is dawning upon it for the disabled soldiers of Nebraska.

A fine herd of 14 graded cows has been acquired, which shows an increase already of 9 calves; and a herd of over 70 swine, all in good condition, with a large flock of poultry, add food products to the Home and furnish occupation for 14 members in helping the farmer.

One engineer, 1 laundryman, 1 farmer, 1 nurse, and 3 cooks, all citizens, are employed.

A schoolhouse is provided for, and will probably be built this year. Many maple and sycamore trees have been set out, and are growing rapidly. The main building needs a new roof. The first appearance of la grippe was February 11, 1890; whole number afflicted 6; no deaths; and date of its disappearance February 19, 1890.

IOWA HOME, MARSHALLTOWN, MAY 21, 1891.

OFFICERS.

Col. MILO SMITH, Commandant.
Capt. FRED T. WELLS, Adjutant.
Capt. B. E. EBERHART, Quartermaster.
Dr. W. B. WATERS, Surgeon. *

The appropriations for the year were $10 per month for maintenance of each member, and $1,050 for salaries and wages. An appropriation for the erection of much-needed quarters for the officers is expected to be made at the next session of the legislature.

This home has begun to meet the necessities of the sick by the erection of a first-class hospital, which will contain seventy-two beds. It is now under contract, and the foundation is building. Its plan embraces several excellencies which justify its submission with this report. It is 131 feet in length, 40 feet wide, of two stories, with a specially easy flight of stairs between them, and with spacious verandas and balconies on the front and on each side. On the right of the entrance hall are the surgeon's office and dispensary, and on the left the reception and matron's rooms; on the right beyond the dispensary are the waiting-room, for members attending sick call, reading room, and first ward. Beyond the matron's room, on the left, are six rooms for seclusion or special treatment. Then a transverse hall, in rear of which is the dining hall, 18 by 42 feet, to which in rear adjoins the kitchen, 20 by 30 feet, with dormitories for servants above it. There are eight wards on the second story. The water-closets and baths are reached by the transverse hall on either floor, and through a well ventilated vestibule to an outside tower 18 by 25 feet. The vestibule may be entered also from the veranda and balcony on the side of the building next the tower. The hospital is to be completed by November 15.

Three hundred feet to the rear of the main building a boiler house is to be completed by November 15, to hold a battery of four boilers 16 feet by 54 inches, and also a dynamo to sustain 300 incandescent lights within the buildings.

QUARTERMASTER.

Not more than forty suits of clothing are kept in store, and appeared in good order, and of excellent quality. Wachusett flannel coats, sacks, with four buttons, $3.87; vest, $1; trousers, $2.12; heavy Pontonac trousers, $3.50; wool hat, soft crown, wide rolled brim, $1.40; socks, gray mixed, "Gladiator," seamless, for summer, $1.10 per dozen, for winter, $1.15; cheviot blue mixed overshirt, 54 cents; sewed shoes, some of which have been in use two years, $1.50 per pair.

COMMISSARY.

The commissary department shows the improvements suggested by experience in the selection and storage of supplies and preparation of food. Not more than fifteen days' supplies are usually kept on hand in store. The cost of the purchased ration is a trifle over 13 cents; on table, 14.6 cents.

The farm yielded in 1889 about $900 worth of products. The season is at least a fortnight behind, and the ground yet cold.

No dairy is kept, and milk costs 9 cents per gallon. When the hospital is finished and occupied, the administration and the sick will experience great and long-deferred relief. About 50 per cent. of the members were attacked with la grippe, which made its appearance on New Year's day and did not disappear until April 15, 1890.

MINNESOTA HOME, MINNEHAHA, MAY 23, 1890.

OFFICERS.

Capt. THOMAS McMILLAN, Commandant.
Capt. RALPH VAN BRUNT, Adjutant.
Dr. A. A. AMES, Surgeon.
Rev. HORACE WORDEN, Chaplain.
Mr. MERRITT A. WHITE, Engineer.

Appropriations for construction for the current year were $50,000, expended as follows: $40,000 upon building and equipping the hospital, $7,000 in laundry machinery, and $3,000 in improvement of grounds and buildings.

There were $20,000 appropriated for maintenance in addition to the aid received from the United States Government, and the further addition of all surplus of pensions above $4, amounting to about $800 per annum.

The only new construction of importance has been that of a hospital on the site mentioned in my last report. Its plan embraces a main building of three stories, 50 feet square, with two wings of two stories, each 120 by 40 feet, the central building and one wing having been completed, with two wards of a capacity of 24 beds each. Its foundation is 80 feet above the water of the Mississippi, which flows by the foot of the cliff on which it is established. The materials are pressed brick, with brown stone trimmings, slate roof, and copper cornices. All partitions are of brick, and the floors are practically fireproof. In plan, heating, and ventilation it is similar to the Soldiers' Home Hospital at Washington, D. C. It is warmed with hot water, and the means and appliances for thorough ventilation have been elaborate, and apparently complete. The floors are of maple, and the finish of oak. The kitchen and dormitories for servants are on the third floor.

QUARTERMASTER.

The clothing is purchased in Boston for $10 a suit, and consists of a heavy strong coat, with vest, and light blue trousers, all well made. The hats, all wool, soft crown, wide, rolled brim, costs 75 cents; all wool, indigo-blue shirt, $16 per dozen; cotton socks, mixed, $1.10 per dozen; wool socks, gray, $4 per dozen. The value of the clothing on hand was about $400.

COMMISSARY.

There are no strict regular issues of supplies or rations. The meat and butter are weighed when delivered.

This Home is fortunate in a management which has been able to promptly meet the pressing necessities of the large number of sick among its beneficiaries. Their percentage of the number present is 30, or, if those attending sick call be included, 43 per cent., which is the highest in any Home. The death rate among the whole number cared for since June 3, 1889, is 94 in 1,000, which is very high, the next rate to it being that of the New York and New Jersey Homes, which is 75 in 1,000.

La grippe made its appearance on January 2, 1890, and afflicted 27 members, or about 19 per cent. of the members present, but no deaths resulted from it alone, and it disappeared April 6, 1890.

The appropriation for maintenance at this Home by the State is $3 per week for each beneficiary. Its cost as reported by the secretary of the Board of Trustees is $147.52 per capita per annum.

All the projects for construction mentioned in my report of last year, have been successfully carried out. The new administration building, in a part of which the superintendent with his family resides, is of pleasing architecture and well planned for its purpose, and admirably situated on the border of the lake. It is finished and floored with the fine native woods of this region, and among its useful and convenient apartments are eight furnished rooms for the occupation of officials, whose regular visits thus facilitated, result to the advantage and improvement of the Home.

A reservoir 64 feet above the ground, with a capacity of 64,000 gallons, has been established and is in operation. Six hydrants distributed throughout the grounds with hose attached afford a good defense against fire, and a complete system of sewerage has been established. The new dining hall, with verandas and balconies, and a seating capacity for 300, has comfortable, well furnished rooms above for 40 old women, widows of soldiers. There are 14 such beneficiaries now cared for within them. The new kitchen, with its ranges and various well arranged appliances, adjoins the dining hall. The baking house is furnished with Reid's combination or sand oven, costing $100, with a capacity for seventy loaves, which does its work well without adding to the temperature of the room. The layers of sand within its lining retain the heat generated in a small furnace within it, and prevent loss of heat when the loaves are removed for a fresh charge. When in operation, the thermometer shows a temperature of 400 Fah. within the oven.

The new laundry is completely equipped with first-class machinery. All these constructions permitted a large vacation of the old main building, which has been repaired with new floors and renovated throughout, so that its barrack capacity has been more than doubled. Forty pretty cottages costing about $350 each are now occupied by disabled and infirm soldiers and their wives. No children are received at this Home, nor young women whether married or widows.

A large and convenient barn, and a cold-storage building have also been erected. Upon a commanding elevation overlooking the Home and the lake, a tasteful and commodious building has been constructed by the survivors of the Twenty first Wisconsin Infantry, the upper story of which is divided into four barrack quarters for disabled volunteer soldiers, members of that regiment having preference. The lower floor is divided into five rooms, one of which is a museum, and the others for social purposes. An island in the lake near the Home, has been purchased, to which a bridge is to be thrown. It will be used for recreative purposes. The disbursements, receipts and liabilities are reported as follows, viz:

The hospital, under the care of the estimable matron is as clean, comfortable and homelike as the sick could desire.

Some trifling modifications of the water-closets and baths will complete its good arrangement. Sixty-three per cent. of the members were attacked with la grippe, which made its appearance January 1, 1890, with the usual characteristics. None died from it, and it disappeared March 25, 1890.

A cemetery has been laid out giving to each regiment, battery, and battalion of Wisconsin troops a lot for the burial of deceased members of such organizations.

Three miles of driveways have been constructed within the grounds, and the natural woodlands in which the Home is embowered have not been otherwise disturbed, except to cut out the underbrush and trim the trees. The difficulties attending the care of old wives and widows of disabled soldiers have been successfully mastered in this Home. Here, relieved from care, and with comfort assured to all their remaining days, the old couples may enjoy a rest sweetened by the unfailing charms of sky, lake, and forest, until they themselves shall fade out of the delightful scene to which they now lend tranquil animation.

MICHIGAN HOME, GRAND RAPIDS, MAY 28, 1890.

OFFICERS.

General B. R. PIERCE, Commandant.
Maj. JAMES W. LONG, Adjutant.
Col. C. B. HINS DILL, Commissary.
Dr. R. H. STEVENS, Acting Surgeon.
Mr. E. P. EVERETT, Chief Engineer.

The State appropriation for subsistence, salaries, and other expenses necessary to the maintenance of this Home, in addition to the amount received from the United States Government for the year 1890, as provided by act of Congress approved August 27, 1888, was $35,295. This is the language of the act of the State legislature, and it will be perceived that it is based on the expectation of receiving the full amount from the United States Government, and, failing to get that, there will be quite a deficit.

The new construction at this Home embraces a new hospital of two stories and basement, built of stone and brick, with stone trimmings, with a capacity for 100 beds. It is 117 feet 6 inches by 48 feet 6 inches, and the central section is 98 feet in depth. It has Georgia pine floors, wainscoting of hard woods, and tinted walls. The "Ruttan" system for heating and ventilation is used, and it is claimed that the air in all the wards is changed every fifteen minutes. A strong downward draught is maintained through all the water-closets and a flushing apparatus in the urinals, so that no odors whatever may be detected. The system seems complete and thoroughly efficient. The temperature is under complete control. The cost of the system was $2,464. The surgeon reports that since the hospital was occupied, December 17, 1889, rheumatism has diminished 50 per cent. The cost of the building was $25,000. The furniture is all new, and purchased in November, 1889. The arrangement of the dispensary, storeroom, operating and dressing rooms, and dining room and kitchen is convenient, and they are all in admirable order. The light within it is everywhere sufficient and agreeable. A morgue has been built in rear of the hospital.

A new cottage dormitory south of the main building has two stories and a capacity for 100 beds, with the same system of warming and ventilation that is in hospital. A new baking house and a first-class laundry fully equipped adjoins the cottage in rear. The cost of this building was $12,000.

Attached to the rear of the main building an extension has been added, wherein is placed a tripod boiler 36 feet high and 40 inches in diameter, surrounded with 1,000 horizontal tubes, all contained in a stack terminating in a truncated cone, the summit of which is 95 feet above the ground. A pressure of 80 pounds is carried. It is used to warm the main building, and furnishes also steam for the laundry machinery, a Blake pump, and to actuate a Westinghouse engine, which runs two dynamos sustaining 640 incandescent lights. A newly built spacious root house, 60 feet by 25 feet, with double walls of brick and stone and a galvanized iron roof, is situated in rear. The completion of a railway from Grand Rapids through the grounds facilitates transportation with the penalty of some disturbing noise, owing to its nearness to the hospital and dormitories.

The main building since the removal of the hospital from its upper story has been renovated throughout and occupied as dormitories, increasing capacity of Home 300 beds.

QUARTERMASTER.

Value of clothing on hand, about $400; same cost as in 1888, except as follows, viz: Nelson Knitting Company's socks, cotton, $1 per dozen; felt hats for winter, $8.25 per dozen; straw hats for summer, $4.50 per dozen.

COMMISSARY.

A month's supply generally kept on hand. Value about $2,000. Cost of ration uncooked, $13 and 5 cents; cost of ration on table, $16 and 8 cents; pay roll, $541 per month.

The necessity for residences for the officers of the Home still continues. If built the convenience and comfort of the officers and their proper relations to the Home and to their duties would be worthily regarded, and the rooms now occupied by them in the main building thus vacated would afford dormitory accommodations for one hundred and fifty additional members.

The surgeon reports that la grippe made its first appearance January 6, 1890; that the whole number afflicted was 575, or 92.6 per. cent of the members, and that the primary symptoms disappeared March 20, 1890. Secondary and tertiary forms still present in direct ratio to barometric increase, and inversely to the presence of ozone. The notes of the surgeon are fully set forth at the conclusion of this report.

As the elements and details of a good and economical administration of this Home have approached perfection, the energetic commandant has turned his attention to the needed and fitting embellishment of the grounds and woodlands surrounding it, the agreeable results of which are beginning to appear.

OHIO HOME, SANDUSKY, MAY 29, 1890.

OFFICERS:

General M. F. FORCE, Commandant.
Capt. A. M. ANDERSON, Adjutant.
Col. E. J. BLOUNT, Quartermaster.
Dr. C. S. RANNELLS, Surgeon.
Mrs. SARA J. PRICE, Matron.

The State legislature appropriated $100,000 for construction on April 25, 1890, and at the same time $47,602.16 for maintenance.

The following buildings are under contract for construction, viz: Assembly hall, library building, bathhouse, restaurant building, ice house and cold-storage building, Mack cottage, Dill cottage.

Six cottages for officers' residences are also under contract for construction, each to cost $1,700, and four of them are to be finished by November 1, 1890, the remaining two by January 1, 1891. An annex to the hospital is building of cut stone, in the form of a Greek cross. It will be connected with main hospital by a corridor, and is designed for 50 beds. It will present an interesting appearance among the many varied and charming architectural features of this remarkable home.

A new building of tasteful design, and of the same materials used in the construction of all the buildings of the Home, is nearly completed, designed to contain all the shops; its cost will be $4,000. New stables, 80 by 40 feet, of stone with slate roof have been finished at a cost of $3,000. The specifications of workmanship and materials required in the erection of the buildings of this Home are copious with suggestions of the highest excellence combined with the strictest economy.

QUARTERMASTER.

The value of clothing on hand is about $2,000; none spoiled.

COMMISSARY.

The value of subsistence stores on hand, $2,000. There is apparently no opportunity to improve the means of preparing and serving food at this Home, the initial methods were so well studied. The cost of the ration on table is 14 cents.

HOSPITAL.

The hospital is one of the best and cleanest. The features not noted in previous reports are rubber points affixed to the heads of the beds to prevent abrasion of walls. Rocking chairs for all patients, one of a new pattern, with elastic slat back arranged upon small spiral springs, so that it fits itself to the back of the occupant at any inclination, whether in motion or at rest. Trousers made of heavy "denham" and loose long jackets of cotton flannel, with buttons, for paralytics, two suits each for cleanliness and economy. A fully equipped special laundry in the basement of one wing, with useful appliances for all kinds of cleansing and disinfecting. Check lockers arranged for each ward, like a post office, for safe-keeping of the effects of patients. The overflow of patients of the hospital has been quartered in one of the cottages to await the completion of the annex. The surgeon reports the appearance of la grippe on January 2, 1890, and its disappearance April 20. The whole number afflicted was 350, about 50 per cent. of the members, but none died from it alone.

The driveways and walks have been extended and greatly improved with broken stone and gravel, and the setting of trees and shrubbery and the growth of lawns upon the interior plazas around the fountains newly established are bringing that complemental verdure so essential to a pleasing effect, with the wealth of neutral tints which dominate the impressive array of buildings.

Maj. FRANK P. FROST, Quartermaster.
Dr. E. H. TWEEDY, Surgeon.
Dr. G. H. WENDE, Assistant Surgeon.
Mr. H. H. HAVILL, Engineer.

The State appropriation for maintenance and for repairs and betterments of buildings was $145,000, but nothing for original construction. The new construction which has been completed since my last report are, first, a new laundry, 105 by 50 feet, of two stories, with tiled floors, and fully equipped with the most modern improved machinery, the mangle being 100 inches in length, the largest in use at any Home. In the story above there are 26 bath rooms, 7 by 12 feet, the tessellated floors of each pair graded to the division line between them for drainage, the inclosing walls of the rooms of Georgia pine, the bottoms 8 inches above the floors for cleanliness and ventilation, the bathing tubs in the center of each room, large and enameled, constituting the finest bathing house in any Home.

AN ELECTRIC-LIGHT PLANT.

The system is that known as the Western Electric Company's Low Tension and consists of 2 steam boilers, 16 by 60, with 42 four-inch tubes.

Two self-contained high-speed engines, size 11 by 14 inches, built by Woodbury Engine Company, of Rochester, N. Y.

One arc dynamo, of 12 double carbon lamps of 2,000 candle power each for outdoor service, and 3 incandescent dynamos, of 450 lights each, or a total of 1,350 lights at 110 volts, 16 candle power each for all buildings. Line shaft from which all dynamos are driven, the power being so arranged as to drive any or all dynamos with either or both engines.

The boilers are of the same pattern as nearly all the boilers in use at the Home, and are set in the same battery and so connected that any or all boilers may be used to furnish steam power for the electric plant. The boilers are in use during the day for heating or furnishing power, as may be required, all boilers carrying 60 pounds of steam. When the time of day comes to use the lights the boiler which is to be used for that purpose is cut out of the main battery and the steam allowed to rise to 80 pounds and to continue so until such time as the lights are no longer required, then the boiler is cut back again into the main battery.

There are only 700 incandescent lights now in use, so that it is not necessary to run more than 2 out of the 3 incandescent dynamos at any one time.

The engines are so set as to belt direct to the main line shaft, and all dynamos belt direct from the same shaft, each dynamo and engine being furnished with a friction clutch, so arranged that each dynamo or engine may be started or stopped without interference with the lights or any other part of the plant.

The steam from the engines exhausts into the distribution tank and condensation receiver, from there it passes to any or all buildings for heating as the case may require, and when condensation takes place it flows back to the same tank from which it is pumped to replenish the boilers.

Each building has its lines of wires run direct and independent from switch-board in station, and at that point passes through a switch which is to control the lights in each building, so that the lights may be put out in any building without interfering with any other.

Six hundred lights are now in use from the time of starting to 9.30 o'clock, and from that time until daylight, 250.

As to the life of each lamp, the plant has not been in use long enough to determine, but it is safe to say, it exceeds six hundred hours, that being the time specified in contract guaranty.

The cost of running the plant at the present time of the year is as follows :

One dynamo and engine tender, one month	$35. 00
One fireman, one month	30. 00
One lamp tender, daytime, one month	30. 00
Fuel, anthracite coal, 8 tons, at $3.90.....	31. 20
Oil, 30 gallons, at 40 cents	12. 00
Total.....	158. 20

The total cost of the electric-light plant at this Home, including the building of the station of brick, 60 by 40 feet, and some extra work outside of the contract was $18,226.90. The expense of running it does not exceed 10 per cent. per annum of this cost.

TELEPHONE.

This Home is provided with a complete telephonic service, which is connected with the town, 1½ miles distant.

A new building, 40 by 60 on the terrace of the hospital, and connected with its eight wards by a corridor in rear, in which is installed a new and fully equipped laundry, and 5 bathing rooms for the sick. These baths, in their construction, convenience, and sanitary conditions are the best in use. The kitchen and the dining room of this hospital satisfy the best ideas of their utilities and fitness.

The wards and main corridor are spacious and admirably arranged, the dispensary, and operating room, and storeroom unequaled in fitness and equipment, and while the administration is undoubtedly diligent, there is a lack of completeness and readiness in its records which reveal a want of experience, or that experience has not had a proper record.

A hospital of this magnitude is unfortunate in wanting a matron with adequate assistance.

An efficient matron would see that a hundred necessary things were done in a hospital which would escape the supervision of ordinary men. The ventilation, cleanliness, good order, and the multifarious details of housekeeping and homemaking, for which a woman has generic talent, will remain incomplete or neglected in this hospital until a matron, with at least three trained nurses, shall be appointed.

220 NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

The chemicals used, and their cost for operating the sewage (60,000 gallons each 24 hours), disinfecting tanks one year, were as follows, viz:

17,520 pounds 60 per cent. chloride of iron, at 5 cents	$963. 60
50 barrels quick lime, at $1	50. 00
1,392 pounds black oxide manganese, at 5 cents	6. 56
3,480 pounds sulphuric acid, at 2 cents	88. 30
Labor	468. 00

Total 1,646. 46

The system is operating with satisfaction.

QUARTERMASTER.

The money value of clothing on hand is $5,500, and none spoiled. The store which has been placed in regular order is overhauled once a month

The amount on hand is larger than usual. The articles notable for excellence and cheapness were socks—cotton, 95 cents per dozen; wool, $1.40 per dozen. The cotton of mixed colors and the wool, called "Quaker," slate color. A storehouse is provided, where the clothing of furloughed men is neatly folded, labeled, and cared for, and a rag depot, where clothing which can not be repaired is separated into four classes of rags, and baled for sale. Clothing which can be repaired is saved and issued to needy men temporarily at the post.

COMMISSARY.

The value of supplies on hand was $2,500. The cost of the ration uncooked was 14 cents, and on the table 15.75 cents.

The baking house is provided with a pair of old-fashioned ovens, in each of which three hundred loaves of 2 pounds 10 ounces are baked at a single charge.

The erection of an extension to the dining hall and kitchen, is contemplated in the immediate future which, with a reconstruction of dormitory water closets, will very nearly complete this Home.

From the report of the surgeon, this Home was the first attacked with la grippe, which appeared on December 20, 1889. The total number of cases was 323, or about 27 per cent. of the members. The last case appeared on March 29, 1890.

Rev. ISAAC TUTTLE, Chaplain.

There has been no new construction at this home since last year, but the grounds and surroundings have been graded and improved.

Some auxilliary improvements have been made in the ventilation of the hospital by the superintendent, whereby the foul air is drawn from the wards with greater rapidity and efficiency. The dispensary still remains in the administration building, instead of having been removed to the hospital, where it should be.

The record books in the superintendent's office are in most exact order, and one cash book is worthy special notice. It comprehends receipts from all sources, and the expenditures under all the different heads.

Somewhat similar in form to the financial statement made by these Homes quarterly, but more elaborate. This book is kept posted so as to exhibit daily the financial condition of the Home.

Register boards are hung on the walls of the superintendent's office, representing every ward in the Home, including the hospital, holding cards which represent the beds in the wards, so that at a glance may be seen what beds are occupied or vacant, with the names of occupants on their cards. Also a register board showing by cards the occupation and locality of each member on special or extra duty. Different colored cards are used for present, absent, and T. A. P.

These register boards must agree with the morning reports daily.

QUARTERMASTER.

The value of clothing on hand, $3,500, and no loss from damage. Tar paper used in storing.

COMMISSARY.

Value of subsistence on hand, $500, and none spoiled. The cost of the purchased ration for the year 16.86 cents, and on table 19.45 cents.

This is the only Home that was exempt from invasion of la grippe.

The chief characteristics of this, the oldest State Home, is the clock-like regularity of its administration, the almost complete absence of its members from their quarters during the daytime, if the weather be fair, the shade of the trees and the porches being their favorite resorts. The arrangement of the pavilions of the Home, and of the dining, bath, and reading rooms, is such as to enable the members to avail themselves of all the benefits of the institution with the least practicable exertion.

CONNECTICUT HOME, NOROTON, JUNE 12, 1890.

OFFICERS.

Dr. BYRON W. MUNSON, Superintendent and Surgeon.
Lieut. LEWIS G. LOGAN, Assistant Superintendent and Engineer.
Lieut. FRANKLIN DART, Adjutant and Quartermaster.
Mrs. FRANKLIN DART, Matron.

The appropriations are biennial, and their amount unknown at the Home, as no money is used here. On January 3, 1889, this was not an inviting Home, and its dormitories in the main building were unsafe, its accommodations were heterogeneous and limited, and its administration was without adequate means or satisfactory scope. The extent, variety, and excellence of the developments which have been made since that time, a period of seventeen months, are marvelous.

The main building has been modified, beautified, and thoroughly finished and furnished in a style worthy of the Home and the State, a commodious and elegant hospital, a chapel, boiler house, laundry, club house, and all the concomitants of the highest degree of comfort and of a liberal administration have sprung into useful existence. All the new constructions were completed in the summer of 1889 and have been in use since, except the hospital, which was first occupied April 15, 1890.

The new hospital consists of an administration building 80 by 31 feet and two wings, projecting to the rear of a single ward, each 85 by 29 feet 4 inches. The former is separated from the wards by a transverse hall, and contains on its first floor the hospital office, surgery, dispensary, operating and dressing rooms, and storerooms; on the second floor staff quarters, nurses' rooms, sitting room, and library; and on the third floor domestics' rooms and kitchen.

The material entering into the construction and finish are brick, terra cotta, red sandstone, bluestone, white and yellow pine and ash, and asphaltic concrete. This latter material, used for the ward floors, has been found objectionable even after the surface had been improved with an admixture of varnish and umber. The water-closets and bath-rooms, furnished with the best modern improvements, open off the cross hall and are separated from the wards.

The wards have a capacity of 26 beds each, one being designed for surgical cases and the other for medical service. The provisions for warming and ventilating are indirect radiation for the wards and direct for the administration building.

The wards are ceiled above, leaving a space 6 feet deep between the ceiling and the peak of the roof, which on each ward is surmounted with a latticed cupola ventilator 6 feet square.

In both the side walls of each ward, which are 16 feet 8 inches high, are three rows of regulators, twelve in each row; the first row 1 foot square 8 inches above the floor, and through which the foul air is drawn out and up through shafts into the chamber beneath the roof, and escapes through the cupola. The second row, 12 by 18 inches, and 5 feet above the floor, furnishes the warmed air, which has passed through a metal chamber containing coils of steam pipe. The third row, 12 feet above the floor, supplies fresh air from the outside. By a combination of the regulators nearly any degree of temperature not below that of the external air may be obtained and any degree of purification attained; a true aspiration being practicable, the heat being supplied from the boiler house 200 feet away. The workmanship and finish is of the best description.

Two resident house physicians are employed at the Home, and have quarters in the hospital. Two trained women nurses have been employed since May 12, and have quarters at the hospital. Their service has been in every way satisfactory. Two orderlies are employed to assist them.

The club house for members is 50 by 20 feet, with a 12-foot veranda. The root cellar is underneath it. The boiler house is equipped with two horizontal boilers, 16 feet by 54 inches and 12 feet by 44 inches, and one Shapley boiler, auxiliary. All of these may be used together, independently or in pairs, at high or low pressure, with return when using low pressures and governor pump for high pressure. Power is furnished to the laundry, which is new and fully equipped.

An 8 inch sewer has been constructed, over 2 miles in length, from the Home to an estuary of Long Island Sound.

The water supply has not fulfilled the hopes of the management; the artesian wells having a communication, one of them was abandoned, and the other is yielding only 14 gallons per minute.

A tasteful chapel 80 by 30 feet, with seating capacity for 200, has been built, and its walls adorned with some of the largest and best pictures of sacred subjects left by the late Benjamin Fitch, the founder of the Home.

The grounds have been well graded, walks laid out and lighted, and the highway passing by the Home from the railway station has been improved, and sustained by a retaining wall.

QUARTERMASTER.

The value of clothing on hand not issued is $1,500, and none spoiled. Well-regulated storerooms for clothing and individual effects have been arranged in the basement of the main building.

COMMISSARY.

The value of subsistence stores on hand, including tobacco, was $700. The cost of the purchased ration, including tobacco, was 15.7 cents. and the cost of the ration on table was not exceeding 16 cents. The store-room was in admirable order. The dining room seats 213. The kitchen well furnished and in good order.

La grippe attacked the home January 3, 1890, 50 men being prostrated the first day, and the next 20 more. No deaths from it. The whole number afflicted was 150, about 63 per cent. of the members. The usual post grippe symptoms subsequently appeared (but long after its primary symptoms had disappeared a daughter of the superintendent was violently attacked on the 14th of June with the regular typical disease, and barely lived through its crisis on the 17th of June). She had not been attacked with it during the winter. "The resident consulting physician and surgeon," the superintendent, has in use a record card for patients in the hospital, which sets forth the temperature of

OFFICERS.

Capt. R. J. COFFEY, Superintendent.
Mrs. R. J. COFFEY, Matron.

No appropriations by the State have been made since the biennial session of the legislature, November 25, 1888, which was mentioned in my first report.

There has been no new construction at this Home since my last report. The need of a hospital has become, if possible, more apparent. The sick, in a back room of the main building, receive all the attention and care possible in such quarters, but they would be far better off in a hospital ward where the ills of one patient would not necessarily disturb all others, as here they must. If their lack of hospital accommodations appear so plentiful in fine summer weather, it must amount to distress in winter, when members are confined to quarters. The farm of 200 acres is an advantage and a blessing, as it not only contributes a full supply of vegetables and milk, but also furnishes light occupation and agreeable work to such members as are able and willing to be employed, at no cost to the Home; and about $800 per annum are realized from sales of surplus products. The admirable order and cleanliness which prevail everywhere in this Home, in its sleeping rooms, dining room, store rooms, and kitchens, and the wholesome food prepared and served to the members, make the regret greater that the comfort and pleasure of life within it should be marred by the oppressing presence of a crowded sick-room under the same roof.

La Grippe found this Home on January 21, 1890, and attacked twenty members, or about 33 per cent., but none died from it.

KANSAS HOME. OLD FORT DODGE.

OFFICER.

Capt. D. L. SWEENEY, Commandant.

My information regarding this Home was not obtained by inspection.

It resulted from an accidental meeting with Capt. Henry Booth, secretary of its board of managers, at the Western Branch of the National Home, on May 19, 1890, when he informed me of the existence of the Home, and I requested that a copy of the acts of Congress, under which the State of Kansas acquired title to the Home grounds, and of the act of the legislature creating the Home, should be sent me in order that the Board of Managers, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, might be supplied with that exact official information of the status of the Home which would be required to show that the State was entitled to the aid provided by Congress, under the act approved August 27, 1888. On June 14, I received the following letter in response to my request, inclosing an excerpt from a newspaper and copy of by-laws and regulations and rules of the Kansas Soldiers' Home, viz ;

LARNED, KANSAS, June 7, 1890.

General WM. W. AVERELL:

SIR; In compliance with your request, I have the honor to furnish you the following information relating to the Kansas State Soldiers' Home, established by act of legislature approved March 2, 1889.

First occupied January, 1890. Extent of area, 118 acres. Obtained from the United States by act of Congress, $1.25 per acre. The buildings are the old barracks formerly occupied by United States troops. Six large buildings known as officers' quarters, three large buildings known as men's barracks, and sundry other buildings, such as coal house, stables, buildings not suited, however, for use as Soldiers' Home without remodeling.

Board of managers are three, appointed for one, two, and three years, respectively, by the governor of the State; those first appointed in 1889, J. D. Barker three years, Ira F. Collins two years, and Henry Booth one year.

Only one officer has as yet been appointed, Capt. D. L. Sweeney commandant.

The legislature at its last session appropriated $5,000 for 1889 and $5,000 for 1890, to be used in repairing buildings and maintaining inmates; act making this appropriation was approved March 2, 1889.

I have no copy of the creative act except in the copy of the statutes, and can not send it. I inclose a copy of Rules and Regulations.

Respectfully, yours,

HENRY BOOTH,
Secretary.

[Excerpt.]

[An act of Congress to sell Fort Dodge Reservation to the State of Kansas for soldiers' home purposes. Fiftieth Congress, second session. H. R., 8740. Calendar, No. 2043.]

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

JULY 26, 1888.—Read twice and referred to Committee on Public Lands.

FEBRUARY 4, 1889.—Reported by Mr. Plumb.

AN ACT to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to convey to the State of Kansas certain lands therein.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he hereby is, authorized to sell and convey to the State of Kansas, the following described lands, being the remaining portion of the Fort Dodge Military Reservation in said State, to wit: Lots numbered three, five, six, and seven, of section three, township twenty-seven south, of range twenty-four west, on condition that said State shall, within twelve months from the passage of this act pay or cause to be paid therefor the sum of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, and shall within three years establish and provide for the maintenance thereon, a home in which provision shall be made for the care and maintenance of officers, soldiers, sailors, and marines, who have served in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States, their dependent parents, widows or orphans, under such rules and regulations as said State may provide.

The above act of Congress was secured by the diligent efforts of the members of Lewis Post and the loyal citizens of Dodge City. They have been working for over a year to secure the establishment of a State soldiers' home.

Some days ago they forwarded to Governor Humphrey the necessary funds to pay the Government for the above tract of land. The purchase includes the buildings, forty in number.

In a subsequent issue we will give a detailed description of this property, and also the act of our legislature making an appropriation for the improvement of the home.

VETERANS' HOME, YOUNTVILLE, CAL., NOVEMBER 18, 1890.

OFFICERS:

Hon. JAS. A. WAYMIRE, President.
W. C. BURNETT, Vice President.
Col. A. L. ROCKWELL, Secretary.
GEO. W. WATTS, Treasurer.
Col. WM. MCCLEAVE, Commandant.
P. J. AIKEN, M. D., Medical Director.

Two years ago there was an expectation that the members of this Home would be transferred to the Pacific Branch of the National Home when it should be ready to receive them, and on March 14, 1889, ninety-nine men were so transferred. But this depletion was rapidly refilled, and the membership of this Home is larger than at the last inspection, in December, 1888, and applicants are waiting for room.

Several notable and valuable additions have been made by construction and rearrangement. An addition 50 by 35 feet, two stories high, with high basement, and a piazza all around the sides, has been built to the north side of the main building. The basement will afford ample storage for quartermaster and commissary supplies. Four neat and comfortable cottages, with porches in front, have been arranged on a line, with intervals between them, on the south side of the camp. Each cottage of two stories accommodates 14 beds with plenty of room. The grounds have been nicely graded in front and about them, and their appearance inside and outside is homelike and inviting. Four isolation wards of one room each have been constructed on the north side of the camp, a little distance to the rear of the main building.

The most essential and altogether commendable improvement is a hospital, placed about 100 yards to the north of the main building. It is of an "L" plan, each side being 120 feet long, of two stories and an attic, and a high, dry basement. The surgery, dispensary, and reception room are in the angle, and there are several fine rooms for secluding patients. The dining room, kitchen, and storerooms are all admirably arranged. The wards have full capacity for 50 beds, and the lofty, spacious attic would in case of necessity accommodate 100 more. This will remove the sick from the main building, where the conditions which should prevail in and about a hospital are wanting. The cost of the new hospital was $10,000. The quarters of the members were comfortable and clean, and in some the walls were adorned with pictures and prints, showing the promptings of a home feeling. A want of lockers was observed.

The morning report on November 18, 1890, the date of inspection, showed that there were—

Present for duty	159
On extra duty	40
Sick	31
	<hr/>	230
Absent with leave	22
Absent without leave	2
	<hr/>	24
Total present and absent.....		254

This is a net gain of 7 since last inspection.

The death rate has been about 40 in 1,000. The first case of la grippe appeared January 6, 1890. Eight members were afflicted, and there were three deaths—complicated, however, one with catarrh, one with catarrh and asthma, and one with bronchitis.

CLOTHING.

The clothing of the members was good and clean. Its cost per capita per annum was $17.96. The value of the clothing on hand in store was $407.43.

SUBSISTENCE.

This Home employs a competent chief cook, who is a civilian. The food is well prepared and served. The cost of the leading articles was : Beef, 6 cents; mutton, 6 cents; flour, $4.90; coffee, Rio (roasted) 25 cents, Java 23 cents. The pork is raised on the Home farm. Half of the vegetables now at the Home, excepting potatoes, are raised on the farm. The cost of the ration is $23.84. The value of the commissary stores on hand, $500.

The average number of disabled volunteer soldiers cared for at this Home during 1889 was 209. The average cost of maintenance per capita was $154.23, which, however, included improvements, repairs, interest and insurance—all expenditures.

There are 78 pensioners in this Home, the amount of their pensions per quarter being $611.

The general appearance of the Home has been greatly improved by the rearrangement of some of its minor buildings, grading and resurfacing its drives and walks, cultivation and extension of shrubbery and flowers, and renovation of waste places on the farm, which is so important a feature, by the erection of a fine dairy house and reconstruction of the barn.

Eighty-seven tons of grapes were the return this season from the vineyards of the Home, which commanded the seemingly low price of $15 for black, and $12 for white.

The pressure for admission to the Home beyond its capacity to receive may be induced to some extent by the equable climate of the State; but as this condition exists to a less extent at all Soldiers' Homes, it sustains the belief expressed in a previous report, that their capacity is not yet equal to the demands for their use.

The management of this Home has achieved beneficent results.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The State Homes inspected are all rapidly approaching completion of construction. The New Jersey Home has only to finish its grounds, and New York to build additional dining-room. Six States, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut have completed or were engaged in building hospitals during the past year, where there were none before. Ohio is building an annex to the fine hospital already overflowing. Vermont has the only Home without a hospital. The general administration has everywhere been improved, better methods have been derived from comparisons of experiences, and greater economy and comfort with more regular and exact systems of accounting for expenditures under the various heads have resulted.

The interchange of reports of the dishonorable discharge of unworthy and dangerous men has worked to a great advantage of good order by restraining the vicious tendencies of bad men, and protecting worthy members from their unruly conduct and habits.

Among several instances one notable may be mentioned: A violent and dangerous member of the National Home at Dayton, who had assaulted and threatened to kill the late General Patrick, governor of that Branch, was dishonorably discharged. He recently applied for admission into the New York State Home, and would have been admitted but for the record which had been received from the Central Branch. His disability was doubtful from appearances, although formally established, but his vicious character was not. He stated that he had tried several Homes, but always found that his record prevented his admission.

The administration of the hospitals is generally improving from necessity, and not from supervisory direction. The introduction of matrons into several, and of trained nurses into two, is a step towards fruitful benefits. The following is a tabulated history of the invasion of la grippe:

The above tables are interesting, as showing that the conditions which invited this singularly well-marked visitation prevailed at the same time in many places separated by thousands of miles, and with widely different environments, some near the salt ocean, others near the fresh lakes, some on the open prairie country, others sheltered by heavy forest growths.

Unfortunately no data of meteorological or other phenomena, no climatometrical records are kept at any of the Homes, excepting one, to aid a study of this remarkable appearance. Only one glimpse is afforded from all the Homes, that furnished by the surgeon of the Michigan Home, where 575 men were afflicted. It was found that

The condition of the system produced by climatic changes resulted from an absence of electricity, or rather an electro-negative condition of the air, a great decrease in atmospheric ozone, an increased amount of moisture, a higher temperature, and a higher barometric condition, all acting or existing in an uncommon and unusual relation with each other.

Its prevalence was proportional to the increase in weight and humidity, and inversely to the amount of ozone and electrical condition of the atmosphere.

A microscopical examination failed to detect any germs or microbes in excretions which were thought to be peculiar to this disease. In the foregoing report are exhibited all the reports of the surgeons in charge of the different Homes concerning la grippe. That from the Eastern Branch will be found most complete, and with the others will show the degrees of attention and study bestowed upon this surprising attack by the medical officers.

The various kinds of treatment it received is also noted when reported.

The notes of the surgeon in charge of the hospital of the Michigan Soldiers' Home are herewith submitted.

The descriptive lists of the members of the State Home brought forward from the last published lists to the June 30, 1890, are appended to this report.

NOTES ON RUSSIAN INFLUENZA.

By R. HUMPHREY STEVENS, M. D. Ph. C., Surgeon in charge of Michigan Soldiers Home Hospital, 1890.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMICS.

La grippe appeared among the inmates of the Michigan Soldiers' Home as a disease of lassitude and prostration, followed by fever and pain in either the head, chest, or back.

From this invariable involution the malady presented itself or passed into one or all of the three following forms: First, affecting the sensory nerves; second, affecting the mucus surfaces; third, affecting the muscular system.

232 NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

Of the first class we had 351 cases, the second class we had 153, the third class we had 71; total, 575.

Of the first class 323 were cured and 27 developed into glandular inflammation. All cured.

Of the second class 147 cases were stopped at the outset, and 13 cases developed pneumonia. All cured.

In the third class there were cured 69 cases, and in two inflammatory fever developed. All cured.

In those cases affecting the sensory nervous systems and not developing into glandular inflammation, 2 had irido choroiditis and 2 had idopathic herpes. The other 320 had neuralgia of the trifacial and its branches, experiencing great pain unaccompanied by swelling.

The glandular swelling was confined in all cases to the lymphatics of the neck and throat except in two cases, one of which affected the glands of the groin, and the other suffered from orchitis, making a total of 351 cases.

Those of the second class, 140 were of a typical nature experiencing profuse mucous discharges, many of which were of a purulent nature.

Those of this class developing into pneumonia, 1 was double pneumonia, 12 single, 8 on left side, and 4 on right side.

The kidneys were complicated in 18 cases. One of these had pneumonia. None had diarrhea.

Of the third class, consisting of 71 cases, 68 were to all appearances incipient inflammatory fever, of which 3 developed into typical forms. All recovered.

No age was exempt from the malady, the younger men suffering the most from pyrexia and pain; and it was to this class that pneumonia was confined, except in one case, and the severity of this case was due to intemperance and exposure previous to coming to the hospital.

PATHOLOGY.

The pathological phenomena presenting themselves were of a complex nature, and so much so that our attention can to a better advantage be directed to the cause, symptoms, and complication of the disease during its various stages.

The characteristic feature of the disease as it appeared here, was its beginning with a general soreness of the muscles of the body followed by darting neuralgic pains along the courses of the larger nerves, listlessness, mental depression with anorexia, and an extraordinary weakness.

These symptoms were followed by a tightness of the throat and chest which came on periodically, followed by dyspnea. Then followed the fever, when all of the above symptoms were increased and lasted from three to ten days.

Subsequent to the premonitory symptoms, the features which followed were characteristic of one of the three forms of disease.

The patient did not necessarily enter the first class first, but was liable to be taken with symptoms peculiar to the second or third class and vice versa.

A case unrestricted or checked by treatment would almost invariably pass through the three stages sooner or later.

The primary symptoms of la grippe appeared January 6 and disappeared March 20, 1890; the secondary symptoms disappeared May 28, 1890.

A careful record of a number of typical cases were kept during their progress and presented the following average facts:

First day: Respiration normal, pulse regular, bowels regular, feel well, urea deficient.

Second day: Condition same, except urea decreasing.

Third day: Feels languid, dumpy headache; evening headache intense; urates and uric acid in urine; urates in abundance.

Fourth day: Pulse 130, temperature 103; intense pain in head and back; urine scanty, specific gravity, 1024; urates, uric acid, and oxalate of lime, chlorides abnormal. At 2.30 p. m. broncho pneumonia appeared.

Fifth day, 5 a. m.: Pneumonia decided; expectoration; urine same except chlorides disappear from urine.

As the fever increases the specific gravity of the urine increases, and as the urea decreases the urates increase, until finally the urine is acid and crystals of uric acid, urates, and oxalates appear.

In a case presenting all of these features, inflammatory fever usually sets in, especially if the patient was prone to a rheumatic diathesis.

Local climatic peculiarities modify grippe fever, as is illustrated by one coming down with a fever, and in a week or two after promised recovery may be afflicted with a cough or sore throat, and possibly pneumonia or even nephritis or inflammation of some other organ.

While gathering data from these cases for physio-chemical facts, a climatometrical record was kept, the variations of which compared identically with the variation of the number of cases of la grippe that appeared.

The details of these observations are too lengthy to insert here, but I found that the condition of the system produced by these climatic changes resulted from an absence of electricity, or rather an electro-negative condition of the air, a great decrease in atmospheric ozone, an increased amount of moisture, a higher temperature, and a higher barometric condition, all acting or existing in an uncommon and unusual relation with each other.

In other words, la grippe is a disease of deoxidation from causes external to the body per se, and is variable with the oxygalvanometric and barometric condition of the air we breathe. Expressed mathematically, its prevalence is proportional to the increase in weight and humidity and inversely to the amount of ozone and electrical condition of the atmosphere.

As far as microscopical examinations of excretions were carried, I was unable to detect any germ or microbe which I thought was peculiar to Russian influenza.

TREATMENT.

From the pathological condition most liable to arise under the intense nerve depression resulting from the uneliminated organic excrement which we find existing in the blood in abundance, the result of nerve depression, and which the reserve energy strives to throw off, eliminate, and burn up, I regard the popular antipyretic sedative treatment unwarrantable and unscientific.

There is no physiological nor therapeutic indication for it, and I believe that more cases of prostration and heart failure have resulted fatally from the effect of the antipyretic drugs administered than from the disease influenza.

In every case recorded here in this hospital more benefit was derived from tonic eliminative remedies than all else.

Hot air and hot water, externally and internally, being the most effective, followed by antiperiodic alkaloids.

I am, general, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WM. W. AVERELL,

*U. S. Army, Assistant Inspector-General,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.*
