VHA RULEMAKING AND NON-LEGISLATIVE FEDERAL REGISTER NOTICES UNDER THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE ACT

1. PURPOSE

This Veterans Health Administration (VHA) directive establishes policy and responsibilities for the development and drafting of VHA rulemakings and non-legislative notices for publication in the Federal Register. AUTHORITY: Title 38 United States Code (U.S.C.) § 501, 7301(b).

2. BACKGROUND

   a. The Administrative Procedure Act (APA), 5 U.S.C. 551 et.seq., governs the process by which Federal agencies develop and issue regulations. It includes requirements for publishing notices of proposed and final rulemaking (including interim final and direct final rules) in the Federal Register and provides opportunities for the public to comment on notices of proposed rulemaking.

   b. The Federal Register is the official daily publication for agency rules, proposed rules, notices of general interest to the public issued by Federal agencies and organizations, as well as for Executive Orders and other presidential documents. Generally, these items can be categorized as either legislative or non-legislative in nature.

   c. The term “legislative” means rulemaking under the APA. Rulemaking is the process through which Federal regulations are created pursuant to the APA. NOTE: the terms rule, rulemaking, and regulation are used interchangeably. A legislative rule is a rule adopted by an administrative agency according to the procedures laid down by the APA. A legislative rule has the force of law and imposes new duties or delineates benefits for eligible individuals. Most legislative rules go through a two-stage process: (1) publication of a proposed rule (the rulemaking stage in which an agency proposes to add to or change its existing regulations and solicits public comment on this proposal; and (2) publication of a final rule (the last step of the rulemaking process in which the agency responds to public comment on the proposed rule and makes appropriate revisions before publishing the final rule in the Federal Register to become effective). Some rules are published as interim final rules. An interim final rule is published when an agency finds good cause to publish a final rule without first seeking public comment through a final rule. An interim final rule is effective immediately upon publication and the agency typically solicits public comment on the rule. Rarely, an agency may publish a direct final rule, when the agency determines that a proposed rule is not necessary because it relates only to routine or noncontroversial matters. These various types of rules are published in the Federal Register. As part of the rulemaking process, a Federal agency must issue a Regulatory Impact Analysis (RIA) which is used to anticipate and evaluate the likely consequences of rules, including both costs and benefits. It provides a formal means of organizing the evidence on the key effects – both good and bad – of the various alternatives that should be considered in developing regulations.
d. Non-legislative agency notices are also published in the Federal Register. This type of notice addresses issues of general interest to the public, and may include general policy statements, announcements of scheduled hearings and meetings open to the public, notices related to funding availability and grant applications, administrative orders, and agency actions related to Federal laws such as the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. § 552a) or the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. § 3501-3521).

e. The Office of Regulatory and Administrative Affairs (ORAA) was established in 2009 to serve as the sole VHA program office responsible for development of legislative rulemaking related to delivery of medical care to eligible Veterans, and to make VHA rulemaking more responsive, visible, and predictable. As part of the Department of Veterans Affairs’ (VA’s) overall mission of serving Veterans and eligible beneficiaries, ORAA provides centralized management and control for the formulation and coordination of all VHA regulations to publication in the Federal Register. These regulations are published in Title 38 Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.).

3. POLICY

It is VHA policy that ORAA manage the development, drafting, and publication of all VHA rulemakings. It is VHA policy that individual VHA program offices manage the development, drafting, and publication of all non-legislative VHA notices for publication in the Federal Register, and that ORAA provide assistance at program offices’ request.

4. RESPONSIBILITIES

a. Under Secretary for Health. The Under Secretary for Health is responsible for:

   (1) Ensuring overall VHA compliance with this directive.

   (2) Reviewing and providing VHA concurrence for all notices and direct final, final, interim final, and proposed rules.

b. Senior Advisor, Office of Regulatory and Administrative Affairs. The Senior Advisor, ORAA is responsible for:

   (1) Serving as the subject matter expert for rulemaking within VHA.

   (2) Advising VA and VHA leadership and other parties on matters related to VHA rulemaking including current published regulations, active regulatory projects, and anticipated projects.

   (3) Establishing processes and procedures for developing and managing VHA rulemaking, from initiation of the project through publication of a final rule. Processes and procedures for rulemaking include ORAA drafting the rulemaking in conjunction with the responsible VHA program office, managing the VHA concurrence process, and providing all necessary VHA action related to publication.
(4) Ensuring that statutes and VHA policies are analyzed to determine whether regulations are required to implement legal authority or address criteria for providing a health care benefit.

(6) Ensuring that ORAA staff actively engage the responsible program office in defining the scope of rulemaking, drafting rulemaking, and responding to queries from non-VHA offices and other federal agencies related to the rulemaking.

c. VHA Chief Financial Officer. The VHA Chief Financial Officer is responsible for reviewing and approving the RIA submitted by the responsible program office, analyzing the validity of models and assumptions used in the RIA, and determining whether funds are or will be available in the current and projected VHA budget to absorb the monetary impact reflected in the RIA.

d. Director or Chief Officer, Responsible Program Office. The Director or Chief Officer of the responsible program office is responsible for:

   (1) In the case of rulemaking:

      (a) Ensuring that policy decisions are made which align with or further the goals of the rulemaking.

      (b) Actively engaging with ORAA in defining the scope of rulemaking, drafting rulemaking, and responding to queries from non-VHA offices and other Federal agencies related to the rulemaking.

      (c) Drafting the RIA related to rulemaking and submitting it to the VHA Chief Financial Officer. NOTE: See the link for RIA tools in appendix A.

      (d) Responding to public comments submitted in response to a proposed or interim final rule, analyzing the comments to determine whether changes should be made to regulatory text, and working in conjunction with ORAA to produce a final rulemaking.

   (2) In the case of a non-legislative Federal Register notice:

      (a) Determining whether a non-legislative Federal Register notice is necessary.

      (b) Drafting the non-legislative Federal Register notice and managing the established VHA and VA concurrence processes (see appendix B).

      (c) Submitting the non-legislative Federal Register notice to VA’s Office of Regulatory and Policy Management (00REG) for publication in the Federal Register.
5. TRAINING

There are no formal training requirements associated with this directive.

All records regardless of format (e.g., paper, electronic, electronic systems) created by this directive shall be managed per the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) approved records schedules found in VA Records Control Schedule 10-1. Questions regarding any aspect of records management should be addressed to the appropriate Records Manager or Records Liaison.

RULEMAKING AND ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

1. RULEMAKING PROCESS

   a. According to the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), Title 5 United States Code (U.S.C.) § 551 et.seq, typically, the Federal agency must give a notice of a proposed rulemaking, published in the Federal Register. The notice must include:

      (1) The legal authority the agency has proposed the rule under;

      (2) A discussion of what the agency proposes to do as well as the rationale for pursuing the proposed rulemaking; and

      (3) The substance of the proposed rule.

   b. After notice is given, the agency is required to solicit and accept public comments on the rule. Most comment periods last between 30 and 60 days, and some are re-opened if the agency believes that there was insufficient time for the public to respond or that the agency did not receive as much feedback as it would like.

   c. The agency must then consider all the comments that are submitted in passing the final rule.

   d. When a final rule is published in the Federal Register the agency must provide notice of the effective date of the rule. Final rules are then published in the Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.).

STEPS FOR DRAFTING AND PUBLISHING NON-LEGISLATIVE NOTICES IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER

Veterans Health Administration (VHA) program offices must follow the steps listed here to publish a non-legislative notice in the Federal Register. NOTE: Exceptions - notices related to the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA); System of Records; and Advisory Committee meetings – which are covered by internal Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) procedures outside the scope of this directive.

a. The responsible program office drafts a notice for publication in the Federal Register. To assist with drafting, the VHA Office of Regulatory and Administrative Affairs (ORAA) created a Federal Register notice template (see Appendix C.). If the responsible program office has legal concerns about the notice, the responsible program office may consult informally with ORAA or with the VA Office of General Counsel (OGC).

b. The responsible program office creates a VIEWS case task, uploads the draft Federal Register notice, VA Form 0907 (Strategic Communication Review), VA Form 4265 (Concurrence and Summary Sheet), and assigns the notice concurrently to the Principal Deputy Under Secretary for Health; Deputy Under Secretary for Health for Community Care; Deputy Under Secretary for Health for Organizational Excellence; Deputy Under Secretary for Health for Operations and Management; Deputy Under Secretary for Health for Policy and Services; Deputy Under Secretary for Health for Discovery, Education, and Affiliate Networks, who will assign to affected subordinate offices as needed and must respond to the assignment in VIEWS within 10 days after receiving it.

c. If the notice relates to a regulation published in Title 38 Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.) the responsible program office also concurrently assigns the notice to ORAA for review, with the same 10-day timeframe.

d. After the above concurrences are received, the responsible program office assigns the notice to VHA’s Office of Executive Correspondence for the Under Secretary for Health’s concurrence.

e. After the Under Secretary for Health concurs, the responsible program office assigns the notice to OGC. If there is a required publication date for the notice (for example, due to statutory requirement or programmatic reason) the responsible program office must assign it to OGC at least 30 days prior to that date. OGC will then assign it to the appropriate OGC Staff Group. The responsible program office’s assignment should include the notice, along with the appropriate supporting documents: The Concurrence and Summary Sheet and Strategic Communications Review (VA Form 0907).
f. The OGC Staff Group will review and may recommend edits to the responsible program office. Once the edits are resolved, the staff group will recommend concurrence to General Counsel.

g. After General Counsel concurs on the notice, General Counsel will assign the notice back to the responsible program office.

h. The responsible program office will then assign the notice in VIEWS and deliver the folder to the Executive Secretariat for approval and signature by the VA Chief of Staff. The Executive Secretariat will return the signed notice to the responsible program office, which will determine the proper publication date. If the need is identified during concurrence, the responsible program office will coordinate communication of the notice with VA’s Office of Public and Intergovernmental Affairs, VHA Communications, VA’s Office of Congressional Affairs or VHA’s Congressional and Legislative Affairs.

i. The notice is now ready for publication. The responsible program office then submits the notice to the VA Office of Regulation, Policy, and Management (00REG) in accordance with their standard operating procedures (see appendix C).

j. 00REG coordinates publication of the notice with the Federal Register and notifies the responsible program office of the projected publication date.
